

Home Rites Weddings Paramount in the Social World

Event of Week

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Sherman was the setting Saturday for the military wedding of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Sherman, and Mr. William H. Bones, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bones of Taft.

Dean Daniel Schulze read the ceremony at 8 o'clock before an improvised altar with a large flag in the background. On either side were baskets of pink and white flowers and candles.

Mr. Ronald Craven sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Miss Alice Crary Brown was the accompanist. Mr. Eugene Sherman, brother of the bride, lighted the candles. Receiving guests at the door was Mrs. Lester Wray, jr. (Elaine Sherman) of Portland.

Dr. Sherman gave his daughter in marriage. For her wedding, the bride chose a traditional white satin bridal gown. The full skirt terminated in a train and the fitted bodice was fashioned with a high neckline enhanced with seed pearls. The sleeves were long and full at the shoulders.

Her shoulder length tulle veil fell from a coronet of seed pearls. For something old, the bride carried a white prayer book, an heirloom belonging to Mrs. Agantha Bartelle. The book was topped with a cluster of gardenias and white satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. William Giesbrecht (Clady Bartelle) of Portland was matron of honor, wearing a pastel green organza frock with full skirt and puffed sleeves. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Giesbrecht was Mr. Bones' best man.

Reception for Guests

A reception for the wedding guests followed the ceremony. Miss Frances Virginia Melton presided at the coffee urn and Mrs. William E. Kirk cut the bride's cake. Mrs. Eleanor Bartelle was in charge of the dining room and serving were Miss Martha Rose Roddy, Miss Margaret Tolpelt, Miss Eleanor Perry and Mrs. Robert Day. Mrs. Norris Joyce passed the guest book. The serving table was centered with a bouquet of pink, blue and white flowers flanked with white candles in crystal candelabras. Mrs. William H. Lytle assisted in the living room.

Mrs. Sherman wore a pink satin gown and a corsage of roses for her daughter's wedding. The newlyweds will live in Astoria temporarily, pending army orders. For traveling the bride wore a silk jersey print and navy blue coat with coral cut coat and black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias.

Mrs. Bones is a Willamette university graduate and a member of Delta Phi sorority. She has been employed at the Willamette Wholesale Grocery.

Mr. Bones attended schools in Taft and received his navy training at San Diego and Norfolk, Va. He is now a flight engineer with the United States Navy.

Corvallis Rites Of Interest

Miss Veda McCallum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McCallum of Corvallis, became the bride of Mr. Norlyn B. Stephens of Eugene, formerly of Salem, son of Mr. B. J. Stephens and nephew of Mrs. Rose J. Wilkes of Salem, at the First Baptist church in Corvallis Saturday night at 6 o'clock.

Dr. E. B. Hart officiated and an orchestra played during the ceremony. Mrs. George Waldo was the organist and Mrs. E. B. Hart sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk net frock over satin. Her bouquet was of white rosebuds centered with an orchid.

Miss Pauline Land, maid of honor, wore blue chiffon. Miss May Taylor, in peach taffeta, and Miss Marion Burt, in blue, were bridesmaids.

Mr. Robert Smith was best man. Ushers were Mr. Lawrence McCallum, Mr. Lynn Johnston, Mr. Lyle Bower and Mr. Edward McAlvage.

A reception at the bride's home followed the wedding. Mrs. McCallum wore rose velvet and taffeta and Mrs. Wilkes wore black chiffon for her nephew's marriage.

After a trip the couple will reside in Eugene. The bride attended the University of Oregon and Mr. Stephens is a Salem high school graduate and attended Willamette university where he was a Sigma Tau. He is with the Standard Oil company.

Miss Coming To Marry

Saturday, February 21, has been chosen as the date for the marriage of Miss Pauline Corning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Corning, and Mr. Wallace Tower, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Tower, all of Salem.

The couple will be married in the fireplace room of the First Presbyterian church with Rev. W. Irvin Williams officiating at 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Bette Welch of Eugene will be the honor attendant and Mr. Eugene Tower will be his brother's best man.

Mr. Tower will take his bride to Madras to live where he is a typing instructor.

ENGAGED—Miss Phyllis Lerdall announced her engagement to Mr. Robert McCurry of Portland, Saturday night. She is a Willamette student. (Jesten-Miller).

Century Ball Highlight of Year at Willamette; Hundreds Attend

Outstanding social event of the year for Willamette university students was the Senior Century ball Saturday night at the armory. The Century girl, Miss Nancy Austin, was officially announced on her arrival, escorted by Mr. Robert Lee. She wore a stunning model of white silk jersey fashioned with a high neckline, Grecian sleeves and wide gold kid belt at the waist. She wore a gold sequin Juliet cap and an orchid was pinned to her shoulder.

Miss Austin, and Lt. Col. Elmer V. Wooton, who officially represented Governor Charles A. Sprague, led the grand march, followed by Mrs. Wooton, Mr. Lee, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Sumner Knopf, Miss Mardell Webb and Mr. Ralph May, student body president.

The grand march was described over KSLM by Gene Sevelier. The Centennial theme was carried out in the decorations. Robert Voigt and Nadine Orcutt painted a beautiful mural, 60 feet long, depicting the pioneer life of the valley and the first people coming to Salem.

Purple, pink and blue crepe paper streamers extended over the ceiling from a half hoop over the orchestra pit where Russ Brom and his boys played. Small decorative panels were arranged on the side walls where davenport, chairs and palms were placed for the special guests. Colored lights cast a soft glow over the hall. Punch was served during the evening.

Several hundred students, alumni, faculty members and special guests attended the formal affair. Official patrons and patronesses were Gov. and Mrs. Charles A. Sprague, Secretary of State and Mrs. Earl Snell, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Sumner Knopf and Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Wallace. Invited guests of the students and university who attended included:

Messrs and Mesdames John Rand, William M. Hamilton, Gene Vandeneinde, David Bennett Hill, Hall S. Lusk, J. O. Bailey, Percy Kelly, H. R. Crawford, C. A. Downs, Van Wieder, George Rossman, Harry Belt, Arthur Knox, Dean Walker, Guy Hickok, Frank Davidson, Robert Farrell, Robert Notson, E. M. Page, P. D. Quisenberry, F. G. Myers, Custer Ross, W. L. Traditional White Chosen By Brides; Church and Home Ceremonies

Miss Audrey Fehler will receive her golden circlet from Mr. Amedee M. Smith, III, this afternoon when the couple exchange wedding vows at the First Congregational church. The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fehler, will have as her only attendant, Miss Margaret Ann Bligh. Mr. George Reed Sparling of Seattle will be Mr. Smith's best man. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Smith of Portland.

At 4 o'clock Dr. R. Franklin Thompson will officiate, assisted by Rev. Robert Hutchinson. Bouquets of pink and white snapdragons and carnations will bank the altar. On either side will be arrangements of woodwardia fern and candles.

Mr. Keith Sherman will sing "Calm as the Night" and "Ich liebe dich" by Grieg before the bride party enters. Jean Hobson Rich will be the accompanist.

Of ivory faille will be the bridal gown. The fitted bodice is torso length and ends in points over the hips. The full skirt is gathered and slightly entrain. Tiny buttons extend from the sweetheart neckline to the waist in front. The sleeves are full at the shoulders and end in points over the elbow.

The bride will wear a Juliet cap of seed pearls and net and the bridal bouquet will be a cluster of bouvardia and gardenias. Mr. Fehler will give his daughter in marriage.

Miss Bligh's gown will be of gold taffeta, designed with a full skirt and tight-fitting bodice. The Peter Pan collar and elbow length sleeves are edged in pleating. In her hair will be a Juliet cap of gold taffeta and her flowers will be daffodils, narcissus and rosebuds.

Seating the guests will be Mr. Roger Jayne of Seattle, Mr. William A. Stein of Portland, Mr. Robert Hamilton and Mr. Clair Fehler of Corvallis, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Fehler has chosen an aqua blue redingote suit with silk dress and wool coat for her daughter's marriage. Her spring hat is a shiny black straw and her accessories are black. Mrs. Smith will wear a print silk in shades of Kelly green, black and white. Her straw sailor is of black and green with a veil. They both will wear corsages of rosebuds and narcissus.

There will be a small reception at the Fehler home after the ceremony. Mrs. S. H. Probert and Mrs. Earl L. Fisher will preside at the urns and Mrs. B. H. Drager will cut the cake. Assisting will be Miss Phyllis Fisher, Miss Marjorie Waters, Miss Barbara Williams, Miss Mary Ellen Mills and Mrs. John Kolb. Mrs. William A. Stein will be in charge of the gift room and Miss Mildred Meaney will pass the guest book. The serving table will be centered with the bride's cake encircled with an arrangement of rosebuds and narcissus.

To Live in Portland

When the couple leave on their wedding trip Audrey will wear a smart deep water blue wool frock and a matching wool coat with a dyed lynx baby fox collar. Her accessories are python and her felt hat is country cream. Mr. Smith will take his bride to Portland to reside at 2555 NE Glisan at the Del-Ray apartments. Miss Fehler and Mr. Smith are former Willamette university students and were members of Beta Chi and Alpha Psi Delta respectively.

Newcomers to Salem are Mr. and Mrs. William W. Alexander and daughter, Barbara. They are former residents of the University district, Seattle. Barbara is a high school student.

At present the couple will reside in Medford where Mr. Thompson is with the United States government engineering corps. Virginia attended Willamette university this fall and was a pledge of Beta Chi sorority. She previously attended the University of Southern California and is a Delta Delta Delta. The bridegroom is a graduate of Salem's schools and attended Oregon State college where he was a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

Don't Look Now..

but... we like tees. It seems that we always meet people who remember us when we wore black bloomers and carried a BB gun, and we love it. At a tea, like the Woman's club tea at Mrs. Kelly's Friday, we see lots of old friends, but enough people who never knew us in black bloomers, for us to feel reasonably dignified. We never drink tea, except at a tea, but it seems to touch the spot, along with a rich cookie or two.

Oddities... Looking for a Valentine wrapping for mother's gift, we found several pretty papers. The first was pink and blue with "Welcome Baby" on it—wouldn't do. Little "Bon voyage" numbers were attractive but mother doesn't plan to bon voyage this season. Then there were several with silver wedding bells on them—mother's the belle of the family, but no use to rub the silver part in. Oh well, give her flowers and don't wrap 'em!

We predict... that in a year or two the same critics who now upbraid the sponsors

Dinner Honors President

A no-host dinner at Godfrey's Friday night honored Andy Landforce, student body president of OSC, who was guest at Centennial ball Saturday. Later guests went to the Century show at Waller hall.

Guests were Andy Landforce, Rosella Bell, Ralph May, Chloe Anderson, Bob Hamilton, Marjorie Waters, Bob Lee, Nancy Austin, Bob Simmons, Shirlee Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rasdale, Jerry Anderson, Polly

Miss Virginia Jarman will become Mr. William J. Thompson's bride at a lovely ceremony this afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner. Dr. R. Franklin Thompson will read the double ring service at 1 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan B. Jarman, formerly of Salem and now of Santa Monica, and the bridegroom's mother is Mrs. Ruby Thompson of Medford, a former Salem resident.

Miss Carolyn Brown as soloist will sing "O Promise Me" and "Because." Mrs. W. H. East will be the accompanist. The couple will exchange their vows before the fireplace which will be banked with baskets of cala lilies and candles. White tapers in candelabras will guard the arrangement. Miss Jane Findley, cousin of the bride, will light the candles.

To Wear White Satin

The bride, who will be given in marriage by Dr. Steiner, has chosen a handsome model of white satin for her wedding. The fitted bodice is made with a sweetheart neckline, and the yoke is embellished with pearl trimming. The long sleeves are full at the shoulders and extend into points over each wrist. Tiny, self covered buttons extend from neckline to waistline in back and the full skirt terminates in a court train.

Her full length tulle veil cascades from a Mary Stuart head-dress. She will carry a white Bible topped with an orchid and a shower of ribbon streamers and bouvardia.

Miss Eloise Findley, her cousin's maid of honor, will wear a gown of pastel yellow taffeta fashioned with a tight bodice and full skirt. There is seed pearl trimming on the waist and the sleeves are short. Her flowers will be yellow snapdragons.

Mr. George Arbuckle, Jr., will stand with Mr. Thompson as best man.

Mrs. Jarman will be gowned in gold chiffon with a full skirt and a bodice of seed pearls and sequins. Mrs. Thompson will wear a black crepe model for her son's wedding. Their corsages will be of gardenias.

Reception to Follow

A reception for the wedding guests will follow the ceremony. The bride's table will be centered with the wedding cake encircled with smilax and bouvardia. Mrs. Louis Lachmund will preside at the coffee urn and Mrs. Milton L. Meyers will cut the bride's cake.

Late in the afternoon the bridal couple will leave on their wedding trip. For traveling the bride has chosen a navy blue suit with white pique collar and cuffs and navy accessories. On her shoulder will be pinned an orchid.

At present the couple will reside in Medford where Mr. Thompson is with the United States government engineering corps. Virginia attended Willamette university this fall and was a pledge of Beta Chi sorority. She previously attended the University of Southern California and is a Delta Delta Delta. Uncle Sam follows through... Friday we met a mailman. He must have been air-mail man, because he came soaring down a hill, forced us into a gravelly ditch and flew on. We had only spun off half an inch of rubber when along came a Dept. of Interior truck. Two husky shoulders boosted us on our way. We shouldn't be too harsh with the postman after all, "the mail must go through," but we did give a postage stamp an extra vehement licking that day.

Subversive activities... We heard of the meaneest rodent the other day. A young friend of our acquaintance is trying to get a retreat on her bicycle tire because a rat chewed a three-inch hole in it!
