

Baked Beans and Brown Bread Are Fine Food for Wartime

Just as slow baking develops the full flavor of old-fashioned baked beans, slow steaming mellows the delightful molasses flavor of Boston brown bread.

And not content to rest on its laurels as far as taste is concerned, Boston brown bread also has its share of the musts for wartime nutrition. Made with enriched flour, this bread in addition to contributing much-needed iron to the menu also adds its portion of vitamin B1.

Delicately moist and easy to slice, Boston brown bread is the perfect accompaniment for that down east dinner. Serve it with pats of butter or vitamin-enriched margarine for spreading. Children will welcome its appearance in their school lunch boxes.

Spread it with soft cream cheese or thick jam, or with their favorite peanut butter. Boston brown bread of this type fairly oozes minerals and vitamins.

BOSTON BROWN BREAD

2 cups sifted flour
1 cup sorn meal
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup chopped dates or raisins
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup molasses
2 cups sour milk

Sift flour, corn meal, soda and salt. Add fruit and nuts. Add molasses and milk and mix well. Fill greased pound size molds or baking powder cans 3/4 full. Cover tightly and steam 1 1/2 hours. Yield: two 1-pound loaves.

Today's Menu

Spiced apple rings will make an attractive salad to begin this fish dinner.

Apple ring salad
Baked salmon cakes
Buttered turnips
Bran muffins and honey
Deep dish cherry pie

Pattern

Make yourself a whole wardrobe of smart home or sports frocks from this one pattern—4006 by Anne Adams. It slips on and off easily, irons easily, stitches up quickly! See the clever front buttoning, the comfortable collarless neckline and set-in belt. . . Soft gathers below the yoke add just the right amount of "action ease." Make one up in a strawberry print to wear about the house and another, using bright color contrast, for an active sports frock. White pique with red pockets, yoke and belt would be so vivacious—use the square neckline shown. Gathers instead of darts above the waist are optional, also long sleeves. . . Let the Sewing Instructor help you if you're not expert with your needle.

Pattern 4006 is available in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric.

Home Nursing Class Slated

Organization Meet Scheduled; Quota Set by Leader

SCIO — Two classes in home nursing are to be organized at a meeting called for February 27 at Scio high school. A maximum of 50 in the two classes is fixed by Mrs. Irvin Parberry of near Scio, who will handle the work here each Friday, according to Mrs. E. Phillips, community civilian defense committee chairman. All interested women are urged to attend.

Sale of their residence acreage in Scio Heights is offered by Mr.

and Mrs. Frank Semones, who on March 1 will move to their property in Lebanon. Semones' employers provide transportation to and from work in the timber in the Lebanon vicinity.

Frank Smith of the Salt Lake community on the Lebanon-Lacombe highway, was buried in the Scio cemetery Sunday. He died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Bertha Bowen, where he had lived for a number of years. He was 71 years of age and a native of Linn county, a cousin of the Griffin brothers of Scio, Albany and Salem. Elder G. W. Simons of Lebanon conducted funeral rites at the Lowe chapel in that city.

Stanley Chandler of Scio, was notified by wire recently to appear before a selective service board for physical examination. Being on an eastern trip, he reported there.

Last will and testament of Maud Laura Harder, wife of W. W. Harder, Scio route 3, has been approved for probate in county court at Albany. The estate includes the Harder farm in the Larwood community, a few miles southeast of Scio. Harder has been appointed executor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lamer, formerly of Kansas and Iowa, are at home in the former J. F. Novak residence in Scio, which they now own. The Novaks moved to an acreage in Scio Heights recently purchased from the Joe Kropacek estate.
