

Three Cub Dens Are Organized

LEBANON—Three cub dens were organized at the south school when Donald Phelps, scoutmaster, was made the leader of this Boy Scout activity. One group of boys from 9 to 12 has been at work for some weeks and that night recalled their Bobcat pins. Each den will meet weekly with their den mother and the three groups will have one union meeting a month to which their parents are invited. The den mothers are Mrs. Elmer Jacobson, Mrs. Miles Compton and Mrs. Donald Phelps. The den chiefs are Melvin Ward, Dean Ward and Lee Clair Smith.

Family Moves To Monmouth

SUVER—Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Haasler and family moved Friday to a house a short distance south of Monmouth. He has been employed by John Heffley since last fall. Mr. Purvis will begin working for Heffley Monday and board with them. Mr. and Mrs. Don Eckman and son and Florence Conger, Portland, spent Saturday night with the Congers. The Eckmans spent Sunday and Monday with his people in Corvallis.

Bonnie Jean Flickinger was brought home Monday from the Salem General hospital where she underwent an appendectomy. Imoleen DeArmond came home from a Corvallis hospital Tuesday to convalesce from an appendicitis operation. The phone line out of Monmouth south has been repaired and central service restored for farmers in the vicinity. Ted Reed was painfully injured Thursday when a huge splinter went into his eye socket while he was cutting wood. Eight stitches were required to close the wound. The eye had been removed about two years ago when a steel splinter pierced it while he was cutting wood.
