Boys Train as Forest Guards, Police Reserves Study Guns

MILL CITY—In anticipation of the possibility of air raids over forests, and the scarcity of man power, the forestry department is training high school boys all over the state in the duties of forest guards.

Each Monday afternoon a three hour class is held at Mill City high school for those boys who previously registered. There are over 20 boys, including four from Gates, enrolled in the class, which is being taught by various forest service officials.

The course has thus far covered map reading, use of fire finders and pacing. In the four lessons to follow, compass reading, how to put out small fires and trail blazing, will be covered.

PEDEE — Herman Amos addressed the police reserves Monday on construction and relative merits of various types of guns. Amos, a mail carrier of Rickreall, spends much of his time on his ranch here, carrying on his hobby of gun-smithing. He not only constructs guns but makes the ammunition as well.

STAYTON — Final registration is completed for the advanced class in first aid, sponsored by the Stayton court, Catholic Daughters of America.

The class is being conducted at 7:30 p.m. on Monday and Thursday in the club rooms of St. Mary's school under the instruction of Mrs. Rosalie Busick, Salem, who also taught the recently completed standard first aid course.

The registrants are: Rose Barrows, Rose Bell, Josephine Brand, Margaret Boitz, Clara Dozier, Dora Dozier, Ida Frichtl, Bertha Gehlen, Effie Gescher, Marjorie Kerber, Marie Kirsch, Mary Lambrecht, Cecilia Mertz, Marmelita Mauer, Roda Raph, Sister M. Constance, Sister M. Edwardine, Lois Siegmund, Clara Spaniol, Ethel Trask, Veronica Thoma, Othilia Spaniol and the following men: Oliver C. Michaels, Leonard Thoma, Rodney Jelaca, E. E. Archer, and R. G. Woods.

This class and the special instructors' course which will follow will include present plans for first aid instruction in this district. The project has been a success.

WEST SALEM—All applicants for either the afternoon or night classes in home nursing are to meet at the city hall Monday at 1 o'clock for the first session, according to Mrs. E. Wendt.

Supplies which have been solicited are to be brought at that time.

Bible Students Give Services On Sunday

MILL CITY — Dr. Kendall E. Burke, president, and several students of Northwest Christian college of Eugene, will have charge of the Sunday school and morning worship services at the Church of Christ Sunday.

Following a fellowship dinner the group will present a program consisting of vocal, violin, piano, electric guitar, talks and humorous readings. Dr. Burke will be guest speaker.

Others in the group are Beverly Burgess, Gilbert Kistler, John Baird, Dean Berger and Deanna Severson. The community is invited.

Members of the Dorcas society of the Church of Christ met for an all day quilting Wednesday. Proceeds from the finished work will be sent to a leper colony.
