

More Classes Set, Defense

Five additional classes in rough carpentry, to meet the demand for cantonment workers, will begin Monday under the supervision of the defense industry organization, according to C. A. Guderian, coordinator. Application is to be made at the US employment office at Ferry and Cottage streets, and classes will be formed at Olinger field grandstand. Guderian announced 70 additional men will be taught the use of hammer and saw, layout, steel square and working from blueprints for the cantonment. Two classes in sheet metal work are planned for victory ship production in Portland, cantonment projects and emergency housing. Ship carpentry and electricity classes will get under way soon. An order to train 7000 additional welders before September 1 was received here.

No School Today

Salem public school pupils are vacationing today, while teachers attend the annual convention of the Oregon State Teachers association in Portland.

Selection Group To Meet Today

The special committee considering qualifications of candidates for the new business and extension management of the Salem chamber of commerce is expected to meet again today, Pres. Carl Hogg said Thursday.

Among the applicants to date are E. B. Gabriel, former Salem water commissioner, now living in Portland; Clay Cochran, manager of the Corvallis chamber; Tom Hill, of Salem, and James E. Baker, secretary of the Marshfield chamber.

Toozie vs. Hutchinson Continue Today in Circuit Court; Suit for Accident Injuries Is Postponed

Delay in trial of the case of Toozie vs. Hutchinson Thursday afternoon in circuit court brought postponement until Monday of the $10,700 damage action of Roy Allison by his guardian ad litem, Lawrence Brown, against Roy E. Davidson and others. The Toozie-Hutchinson case, involving a claim for recovery of money spent in caring for children, is to be resumed before Judge E. M. Page and a jury at 8 o'clock this morning.

In the Allison-Davidson case the plaintiff claims he suffered permanent disfigurement when a piece flew from a fan on an automobile being tested in a garage and struck him in the face. The accident occurred December 8, 1940. Trial of the case is scheduled before Judge L. H. McMahon and a jury at 10 a. m. Monday.

Except for two cases in which Marion county's two circuit judges are automatically disqualified, all actions now at issue are docketed for trial, a checkup indicated Thursday.

CIRCUIT COURT—
Ada Louise Ransom vs. Maurice M. Ransom; complaint for divorce, $20 monthly support money, return of plaintiff's former name, Miller, and decree that certain real property she owned before marriage is exclusively hers; cruel and inhuman treatment alleged; married at Chehalis, Wash., in 1936.

William Krebs vs. George C. Foster and Homer G. Wadsworth; order overruling motion to strike amended complaint.

Bert T. Ford vs. Peter Kufner; complaint to foreclose contract of sale of real property consisting of 72.85 acres of land; plaintiff alleges $5331.71 now due.

Aldred Walter Toozie; vagrancy; carrying unlicensed concealed weapon; obliterating identification numbers on revolver; being in possession of concealed weapon following conviction of a felony; continued on motion of defense; hearing set for 11 a. m., April 1; held in county jail.

Amelia Toozie; vagrancy; carrying unlicensed concealed weapon; obliterating identification numbers on revolver; continued on motion of defense; hearing set for 11 a. m., April 1; released under $700 bail.

MUNICIPAL COURT—
F. W. Meyers, Michigan; drunk; 10 days suspended, 6 months probation.

Easter Sunrise Service Later

Petticord to Speak in Program at 6:30 At Belcrest

Because of the new war time, the annual Easter sunrise service, to be held at Belcrest Memorial park, four miles south of the city, will be at 6:30 a. m. instead of 6 o'clock, as has been the custom in the past. The message, entitled "The First Easter Sermon," will be delivered by Rev. Paul Petticord of the First Evangelical church.

Don Douris, secretary of the Salem Ministerial association, acted as chairman of the planning group. He was assisted by a committee composed of Rev. W. H. Lyman, Rev. Edward Allen, Verlor Williams, Doris Doughton, Clyde Shreve, Wes Durland and Charles Lovell.

The program for the service has been outlined as follows:

- 6:15—Organ concert, Rev. Don Huckabee.
- 6:30—Trumpet trio.
- Solo, Corydon Blodgett.
- Scripture.
- Quartet (Willamette university).
- Accordion solo, Pat Meisinger.
- Hymn, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."
- Trombone solo, Leslie Carson.
- Message, Rev. Petticord.
- Trumpet trio.
- Benediction.

Last year approximately 2000 people attended the service, and it is hoped that the number will be surpassed this year. Boy Scouts will be on hand at 6 o'clock to assist in parking cars and to take an attendance count.

Grandson on Radio

UNIONVALE — Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Countiss enjoyed hearing their grandson play a banjo solo Monday over KALE.

Mr. and Mrs. William Herigstad and family of Silverton were Sunday guests of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Magee. Dale remained over night and Magee took him and Robert Magee to their school work at Oregon State college Monday.

Former Resident Of Orient Talks On Pacific War

"We overlooked the Japanese when we decided to give the Philippines their independence," declared L. Proebstel, a resident of the Malayas and other oriental sections for more than 25 years, in an address before the Salem Lions club Thursday. "When the British and the French permitted the Italians to enter northern Africa, the Japanese were given notice that their time to strike was near," he said.

Proebstel, now associated with the state training school for boys, asserted that while the Japanese were the only people who could successfully rule Asia, they had nothing to offer in the way of decent civilization and culture to the world. He said it was possible that the Japanese who were being denied rubber, tin, steel and other essentials decided they might as well go to war in an effort to avoid national suicide.

Call Issued for Defense Service

Preparatory to special training for his staff corps, County Defense Coordinator Bryan H. Conley on Thursday issued a call for all persons registered for staff service to re-register at civilian defense headquarters, VFW hall, or to call 6533 by Sunday night.

Thirty nine instructors who Sunday completed a training course are receiving notifications today that they will be given assignments to teach civilian defense in various communities of the county, Conley said.

Attends Presbyterial

GERVAIS — Five members of the Clara Jones Missionary society went to Dallas Thursday to attend sessions of the Willamette Presbyterial.

They were Mrs. Robert Harper, secretary of missionary education of the Presbyterial, Mrs. D. L. St. John, Mrs. C. L. Jorgensen, Mrs. Frank Holonbek and Mrs. William Sporalsky, who is delegate from Gervais.

Election Today For May Court

Nominations for Willamette university's centennial May court will take place on the campus today when students vote for three senior girls. Final election of the May queen will take place April 8, according to Sumner Gallaher, ASWU second vice-president.

Clarence Wicks, May weekend manager, announces plans are now underway for the celebration to be held May 1, 2 and 3 and several new events are scheduled for the weekend.
