Silverton City Employes Get Raise at Short Council Meet

SILVERTON—One of the shortest meetings in the history of regular city council meetings was held Monday when Mayor Reber Allen, City Manager E. K. Burton and five councilmen completed the month's business in three-quarters of an hour.

Included in the business was the council's acceptance of the suggested raises in city employes' salaries. Increases in salaries first announced Monday night included that of Chief of Police Victor Grossnickle, whose salary was raised to $125 a month. This is exclusive of merchant's fees he receives in addition for checking doors through the business section at night. The officer next in charge, A. M. Amo, received a salary raise from $92.50 to $100 with $5 extra each month to apply on a police uniform.

Councilman E. L. Starr brought up the double parking of trucks on main streets and urged that a closer check on these be made.

A letter was read from the League of Oregon Cities reporting that the codification of city ordinances was progressing "nicely" and would soon be completed. Those in charge will meet with the city council or representatives of that body to discuss the disposal of old ordinances and the adoption of some simplified new ones.

No direct bids were received on the dismantling of Fischer's Flouring mill building, but Manager Burton reported that a number of farmers had expressed desire for sections of the building. However, no definite action was taken as it was thought that some bids might still be forthcoming for the razing of the entire building.

Bert Picha of Salem was at the council meeting reporting that he was looking over the building but did not have sufficient use for the entire materials. He spoke of the good material in the heavy timbers in the building.

Two bids were received on city insurances but none were opened as two additional bids are expected. Bids will be opened by the insurance committee, L. E. Brown, E. L. Starr and R. A. Fish, as soon as all have been received.

Burton reported that lights at the city reservoir were being put on the street service so that they could be turned out without having a special man watching the lights.

CLOVERDALE — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kunke were called to Salem Sunday where their son, Gordon, had been injured in a truck collision.

Kunke, a student at Willamette university, was helping on a florist truck when they collided with another truck. Kunke was thrown from the truck. He received a fracture of the upper right arm bone. He was later released from the hospital and brought to his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Kunke had as guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Fillett, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Runyan, Dallas, Miss Paulina and Oscar Fillett, Mrs. Clara Massey and children from Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hennies entertained Easter Sunday at their home Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hennies, Celeste and Evelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Standley and children, Carl, Harold and Dale, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hennies and children, Patricia and Shirley.

Jack Schifferer, employed at Seattle, was home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schifferer, over the holiday.
