Husky outfielder Jake Schoenhintz of the visitors also proved a big noise of the fray, slugging one of Con Rasmussen's serves far over the left-center wall.

It was the first mound appearances of the year for Rasmussen and Ron Smith, 6-foot 4-inch righthander with plenty of swift. Both showed good stuff for this early in the season. Four of the nine hits collected off their offerings were of the "bleeder" type.

Pete's punchers got four big runs in their half of the second finning on two walks, two hits, an error and a passed ball. Warren walked and Gonzales immediately scored him with his poke to left-center for three. Leininger walked and then went to second, Gonzales scoring, when a pitch got through Catcher Hood. Petersen fouled out, George was safe on Calkins' boot, which sent "Curly" to third, and Rasmussen sent him home with his short to first out. Schroer then swatted a Leninger ..... It was more like a picnic at the park Monday afternoon, and it was on our Senators to were enjoyed by the Penitentiary Grays on one of their annual "road trips" to the ball park. Manager Charlie Peter-sen decided it was about time to give two of his would-be pitchers a chance—they had it and are now wondering just what happened.

On the other side, Big Luke Crosswhite acted like he appreciated his vacation from inside the prison walls and stopped the pitcher-less Senators with five runs on nine hits. Big Luke really had all his stuff and was using Any enjoyment-what there was of it-was being heartily appreciated by the Grays, as the game took almost three hours to play. The more they hit and scored the longer they get to stay.

A righthander known only as Howard blew into camp and asked for a trial. He got five innings, nine runs and nine hits worth. Clarence Neubauer took it up from there and was tagged for 12 Bevos Wishes more hits and ten runs. The only bright side of the day for the Senators was the fact that all the infielders and outfielders were getting much needed exercise in running down the deluge of booming blows. A couple more games like that and they needn't worry about getting in shapethey'll be overtrained.

Next game for the Senators comes Wednesday night against Willamette at 7:30 p.m., the first twilight-night game of the year here. (P.S. Manager Petersen promises that none of his Monday "pitchers" would work.) Reliable Shoe (2

Big Outfielder Accepts Solon Terms, Plays

Outfielder Bill Johnson arrived in Salem Monday, reported to George E. Waters park, accepted terms, donned a suit, played right field and smashed a double during part of the Salem-Penitentiary game and then headed for a hotel and bed. Johnson drove up from his San Pedro, Calif., home, a 23-hour straight through trip.

The blonde outergardener has been with the Hollywood club of the Coast league during the spring season and was recently turned over to the Senators when two Star outfielders agreed to terms.

With Johnson's arrival, the Senator outfield problem is definitely solved as well as at least one spot in the hitting department. Bill swatted a blistering .327 for Yakima last season, good enough for fifth in the league for players participating in over 100 games. He played 132 games, was at bat 492 times, scored 84 runs, had 161 hits, 25 doubles, nine triples and eight home runs. He drove in 95 runs for the Pips, and stole a total of 21 bases, only three less than Salem's No. 1 pilferer, Freddie Lanifere.
