No longer will it be a tale of woe for the fisherman to catch an old tire or a rubber boot instead of a trout. For, with the present rubber shortage, sportsmen may purposely catch tires and fish for boots this spring. One Washington fisherman called WPB headquarters to tell officials he had counted 30 or 40 old tires lodged in the mud of Washington's Potomac river. Another, Capt. Ray Walker, above, fished out one he threw in last year.
