From the BLEACHERS

He had to go and lose four tough ones in succession before he finally hit the win column, and two of those losses to our side, downed Corporal Jim Turnesa 2 whom he once cast his spell over quite conclusively, but "Pizin" and 1. Pete Jonas, the kewpie-doll Cap pitcher, was all his Gemmellgiven monicker implied when he got his first win of the year Saturday night at Vancouver against our Senators.

In comparison with other pitchers in the league, Pete can be classed as one of the best in the loop, but he is and always has been one of those unlucky guys who, when he does get a win, gets it the hard way. Pete's got plenty on his fast one, and can snap off some pretty effective curve balls. Along with what you'd call good control, the stub-sized righty, who's built more like an underslung halfback, is one of those heady guys on the pitcher's mound who's always thinking and figur-Ing out just where to pitch to the Pete's calculations backfired on him the last time the Caps played here in that Sunday doubleheader, however, Before the games he had made the statement that he knew just where and what to throw to Joe Gonzales and that Joe would never give him any trouble. But it was Joe's home run with Moore on base that beat Peter 4 to 3 in that game.

Incidentally, Jonas has enlisted in the naval aviation corps, and Salem Shoot like our Jimmy Robertson, is awaiting call to service.

Victory Garden at WU?

It was probably only a rumor, as all such things generally turn out to be, but some of the Willamette university athletes were of the opinion that come next fall their Sweetland grid "turf" would not be sprouting sweating gridders and pigskins, but a victory garden. The blame for such a move was thrown ex-Pres. Knopf's way. But then he's been blamed for a lot of things.

Skipper "Bunny" Griffiths' Rome, New Yorkers, of the Canadian-American le a gue, are bouncing along in fifth place, says the weekly Sporting News, and the league commentary adds "Bunny's" catcher drew a three-day suspension from the league prexy for "an altercation with one of the umpires." My, my-could Bunny have changed so much? None of his boys drew any such penalties when he was herding our Solons-he wouldn't let 'em argue . . . Evidently the loss of Earl Torgeson didn't hurt the Spokes too much, as they up and powed the Tacomas five out of seven games last week. Maybe "Torgy's" short-lived tenure with the Indians was all they needed to go on the war path-that and Pitcher Hub Kittle, who, incidentally, is part Indian himself . . . We'll see this week about that war path stuff . . . Should get a lot of dope on the wheres and whatfors of Bucky Harris when Kittle hits town today, as Buck and Hub are inseparable pals during the winter months, If only Harris would follow in Kittle's footsteps and return to the WIL. Oh happy thought ... Crowds totalling 197,820 paying fans and uncounted hundreds of service men, attended the Decoration day doubleheaders in the major leagues. Snead Snares PGA Crown

By GAYLE TALBOT ATLANTIC CITY, June 1.-(AP)said he'd never do-win a major golf title-because something always seemed to go wrong with Slammin' Sam Snead. But it failed to happen to the Hot Springs, Va., golf star Sunday in the final round of the PGA championship tournament, and Snead

It was a fighting victory, too. Sam stood three down at the half-way point, and the crowd of 3,000 was vociferously pulling against his every shot and rooting for the swarthy little soldier from Fort Dix. But Sam had it Sunday, and even under those circumstances he went out to shoot some of the greatest home-stretch golf ever seen.

A triumph for Turnesa undoubtedly would have been more popular. The little guy with the nerves of steel and no business whatsoever in the finals of a PGA championship, had captured the fancy of everybody. The crowd had been cheering his every shot for two days as he scored upset victories over Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson, two of golfdom's greatest players.

But the 30-year old star from the hill country, after having suffered probably more major disappointments than any top flight golfer, finally came through with his win, which he richly deserved.

The victory was worth $2,000 worth of war bonds, and Snead left immediately after the meeting for Washington to be inducted into the navy's physical training Ted Welty cracked 99 out of program.

NEW YORK, June 1 -(AP)- It was just a year ago Tuesday (today) that the big guy left us, and there isn't even the shadow lory, Mullen. Double plays, Cailof anyone who might take his place on the horizon. Nor will there ever be. Baseball produces only one Lou Gehrig, as it produces only one Ty Cob, or Babe Ruth, or one of a few other individuals whose niche is peculiarly their own.

It took tragic illness, and finally, death, to remove him from the shadow of the flamboyant Babe Ruth in which the Bronx iron man walked uncomplainingly during many of his glory years, but the illness and death brought a long overdue appreciation of his greatness as a ball player, and as a man.

For years he was just the No. 2 man. The moon-faced, baywindowed Ruth had caught the crowd's fancy. Not alone through his native ability, but through his escapades, his huge paychecks, and even his unique physique.

Righthander Burton Swepe was on the hill for the Senators, and although dishing up only six hits, the same number off Osborn, Swope threw a home run ball to Ford Mullen in the fifth inning with a mate on base. Mullen hit the ball over the 251 right field fence.

Vancouver scored one in the first inning on three singles, and another in the fourth when Swope walked one and gave up another single.

Outside that the game was a tight battle all the way, Swope getting better as he went along. Osborn was in trouble only once when he give up two hits in the fourth inning, and had his sinker ball working to perfection.

The win gave the Capilanos a 5-2 edge in the series. Salem returns home tonight to play Spokane while the Caps engage the league leading Tacoma Tigers. The Caps are now only two and a half games out of first place.

Our Senators come home to George E. Waters park now, and open a week's home series with the Spokane Indians starting tonight at 8 p. m. As two games were rained out the last time Spokane played here, at least one double header will be played one night this week along with the usual Sunday double session at 1:30 p. m. The two clubs will culminate the series with the Sunday bill.

Tonight's game will also see the 1942 debut of two of Salem's favorites of last year, Pitcher Frankie Dierickx, who reported Portland's Bevos dropped a Monday, and Catcher Eddie Addoubleheader to San Francisco at ams, who also moved into town Liska was the losing pitcher in the Dierickx, Lefty Jack Richards will first game and Roy Helser the be playing his first home game for the Senators at first base.

BOSTON, June 1.-(AP)-Jimmy Foxx, now crowding 35 but up to a year ago one of baseball's greatest righthanded sluggers, Monday was waived out of the American league by the Boston Red Sox and sold outright to the Chicago Cubs, managed by Jimmy Wilson, his old friend and Philadelphia neigh-

The passing of Foxx, known to fandom as "Double X" and most affectionately by teammates and rival players as "the beat," came as no surprise. Baseball knew he was just about washed up with the Red Sox last season, especially after Owner Tom Yawkey, his sincere admirer, tried vainly to land him the managership of the Cleveland Indians.

Until recently, Foxx appeared destined to rejoin the Philadelphia Athletics, the major league club he broke in with 18 years ago when, fresh from a Maryland farm, he launched one of the greatest first - basing careers in modern baseball. But he suffered a fractured rib during batting practice in the Yankee stadium last week, with the result that Connie Mack, his first baseball boss, lost interest in taking him in a trade that the Red Sox hoped would get them Frankie Hayes, a much-needed topflight catcher who Sunday was traded to the St. Louis Browns.
