

Cheek Chosen President of Salem Lions

Monroe Cheek, Salem garage-man, was Thursday elected president of the Salem Lions club for the coming year, to succeed Virgil T. Golden.

Lions elected also Edward Schreder, first vice-president; Edward Majek, second vice-president, and L. M. Ramage, third vice-president, while Floyd Bowers and Rev. Paul Petticoat were elected directors.

John W. Schindler, onetime head of one of the nation's largest detective agencies who since his retirement has devoted much of his powers of observation to a study of world problems, told Lions at their luncheon session that the current conflict must end not with an armistice but with absolute surrender by the dictators.

The United States must take overshadowing part in making the peace, he declared, predicting that if it does a new world may come out of the war.

Possible Shortage Of Hay Predicted

CORVALLIS, June 4—(AP)—Surplus hay supplies are nearly exhausted, hop production is not much over normal, yet the number of hay-consuming animals has increased tremendously, a farm outlook compiled by the OSC extension service disclosed Thursday.

Several county agents have asked farmers to cut part of their vetch crop for hay.

Service Men

Where They Are What They're Doing

Recently promoted from corporal to sergeant at Gowen field, Boise, Ida., was Willard H. Petre, former Willamette university student. A former Dallas high school football star, he is now in the army air forces, having enlisted December 26, 1941. While in Salem he was employed by the Union Oil company.

Seven local men were among the cadet group leaving Portland Tuesday night for training as army air corps fliers at Santa Ana, Calif. They were Ellis A. Rogers, Salem; Joseph E. Crosby, Woodburn; William L. Franger, Albany; Regis H. Foss and Richard C. Peterson, Corvallis, and Barton La Fon and Harold V. Johnson, both of Eugene. The group of 78 comprised the largest number to leave Portland this year for the 7½ months air corps training.

Pvt. James J. Marsh, formerly of 558 Union street, Salem, has arrived at Fort Knox, Kentucky, to begin his 12-weeks training period which will qualify him for duty with the armored forces.

Naval enlistments announced in Portland Thursday included: Thomas E. Garrison, Glen V. Brooks and Walter J. Mead, Salem; Athol C. Libby, Silverton.

Fred G. West, 707 North Second street, has enlisted in the army air corps and has left for the replacement training center, unassigned.

Seventeen men have enlisted in the navy so far this week as part of the hoped for 50 from this region this week. The men are to be sworn in at a massed ceremony Sunday when the six months anniversary of the bombing of Pearl Harbor will be observed throughout the United States.

WOODBURN—Glen Blair, who has joined the US marines, has been assigned to duty at San Diego.

UNIONVALE—Mrs. Victor Geiger has received word that her brother, Floyd Mott, has landed safely in Australia. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mott, live in Forest Grove.

MIDDLE GROVE—Sgt. Clyde Randall, stationed at Wilson, N.C., visited last week with relatives here. He will report back for duty on June 8 after a three-weeks furlough. Randall enlisted with the 30th engineers two years ago and is one of three grandsons of Mrs. Mary Herndon who are in the service.

MONMOUTH—Technical Sgt. Albert H. Snider, medical detachment of the seventh infantry is now stationed at Fort Ord, Calif. He completed six years of enlistment in February and reenlisted.

He was graduated from Monmouth high school. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Snider, long-time residents here, are now in Portland, where Snider is employed in defense work.

MONMOUTH—Friends here have received word that Richard Dietrick, formerly attached to the coast artillery at Camp Clatsop, has arrived safely in India. He formerly was graduated from Monmouth high and attended Oregon College of Education. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Dietrick were at one time engaged in a business enterprise here.

Salem Girls Given OSC Scholarships

Helen Zielinski and Patricia Lamb, who were graduated this year from Salem high school, are among the 73 high school students receiving Oregon state board of higher education scholarships to attend Oregon State college next year. Both girls were recommended by their principal, Fred B. Wolf, and both plan to major in the field of home economics. While at Salem high they were prominent in student body and club activities.

Also honored at Corvallis was Betty Anunsen of Salem, a sophomore, who was one of four students recently commended by Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional society in journalism. Miss Anunsen and the others were awarded certificates as non-Sigma Delta Chi members who have been most active in journalism.

Film Actress Gets Divorce

EL PASO, Texas, June 4—(AP)—Paulette Goddard obtained an uncontested Mexican divorce Thursday from Charles Chaplin, ending a marriage which the dark-haired screen beauty revealed was performed six years ago in Canton, China, during an oriental cruise.

Miss Goddard was in seclusion in New York when Judge Xavier Rosas Ceballos, of the Mexican civil court at Jaurez, made the decree final — one day after her petition was filed.

To her charge of incompatibility, Chaplin issued a denial but nonetheless entered his consent to the action. The petition stated the couple separated in February of 1940.

Miss Goddard, who with Chaplin kept the movie colony guessing for years as to the status of their romance, was of no more help to her friends in the matter of her divorce, widely rumored for some days.

2000 Tons Added To Ship's Weight Gives Nazis Joy

KEY WEST, Fla., June 4—(AP)—Sailor Albert J. Chickos, 23, of Milford, Conn., told Thursday how a submarine got his ship in the Caribbean but didn't get the correct score.

"They asked us what the tonnage of our ship was and we told them a figure that was 2000 tons in excess of the actual one and you should have seen those huns shout and clap," Chickos said.

"They must have had some kind of a contest on with the crews of other subs because the story we told them sure made them happy."

Fish Buyers Say Profit Impossible

ASTORIA, June 4—(AP)—Halibut buyers said Thursday that government price ceilings were so close to the price being paid fishermen that profit was impossible.

Slight depression of prices caused by the arrival yesterday of 18,000 pounds of halibut in two schooners was insufficient to change the situation, they said.

Buyers said the prevailing price for mediums was around 16 cents a pound and the selling price set by the government was 18 cents.

Murder Charged To Woman Slayer

PORTLAND, June 4—(AP)—Deputy District Attorney Clarence A. Potts Thursday filed a charge of first-degree murder against Joseph C. Cochran, 57, Troutdale, for the butcher-knife slaying of Mrs. Marie Grosz.

Eugene Ferguson, detective sergeant, said that Cochran confessed stabbing the proprietor of a convalescent home here early Wednesday. Cochran, an attendant at the home, slashed his throat in a suicide attempt after the slaying of Mrs. Grosz but physicians said Thursday he would recover.

Titus in OPA Office

PORTLAND, June 4—(AP)—The office of emergency management announced Wednesday that Ben Titus, former acting director of the state highway department travel bureau, has been appointed information director of its new office here.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache Many suffer from nagging backache quickly once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
