William O'Dwyer
Back in 1918 William O'Dwyer, Brooklyn's district attorney and unsuccessful candidate for mayor at the last election, wore a policeman's uniform. Today O'Dwyer is wearing a uniform again, this time as a major in the U. S. Army. O'Dwyer is a former New York state supreme court judge.

Time Expired For Portland PUD Election

Efforts to have a people's utility district proposal for the city of Portland placed on the November election ballot, or possibly on any special election ballot yet this year, have failed because of time limits prescribed by law, according to a formal opinion given by Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle and an interpretation made by Secretary Charles E. Stricklin of the state hydroelectric board here Thursday.

The attorney general ruled that the PUD proposal of the "Bonnevilliers for Portland committee" could not be put on the November 3 general election ballot because that date does not fall within the 50 to 60-day limit prescribed by law following the making of a request to the hydroelectric commission for an election. Time for holding a repeat election, following defeat of a PUD proposal for Portland in 1940, expired on May 17, Stricklin added. The PUD proponents in Portland have to start proceedings "from scratch," filing the usual preliminary and succeeding petitions, before they can again put a district proposal up to the people, Stricklin said.

4H Hopes for Own Building

CORVALLIS, June 11—(AP)—Some 1900 Oregon 4H club members ended their annual summer school Thursday, hopeful that they would soon have their own club building on the Oregon State college campus.

Marshall Dana of the Oregon Journal proposed Wednesday that the Kiwanis clubs of the state erect the building and name it for H. C. Seymour, state 4H leader for 26 years.

The local leaders association elected the following officers: Mrs. E. F. Wright, Portland; president; Mrs. C. E. Elliott, Nyssa, first vice-president; Mrs. Harriott Ford, Cornelius, second vice-president; Mrs. Charles Edwards, Philomath, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Theresa Dehler, Mt. Angel, recording secretary.

Service Men

ANTIGUA BASE COMMAND, Antigua, B.W.I.—The promotion of Tech. Sgt. Roy J. Shreve, finance department, to the rank of warrant officer after less than six years' army service was announced by Col. George L. Kraft, commanding Antigua base command, where Shreve has been on duty since last October.

Shreve, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Shreve, route three, Salem, Ore., has been in the United States army since October, 1936, when he enlisted at Vancouver Barracks, Wash. After three years' service with the Ninth Field artillery at Fort Lewis, Wash., during which he became a corporal, Shreve was transferred to the finance department and ordered to Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyo., in February, 1940.

Warrant Officer Shreve was born at Willard, Mont., and attended grade school in Fallon county, Mont. He is a graduate of the Aumsville, Ore., high school.

War time expansion of the US coast guard has created a great demand for men, and in order to enlarge its war time complement, the coast guard is now accepting men for reserve enlistment if they are between the ages of 17 and 55, in good physical condition.

The former age limits were 17 to 35. This new regulation will make available a large store of men with valuable experience who were left untouched before.

A variety of vacancies are open to men with experience. Radio operators, cooks, diesel and gas engine mechanics, aviation mechanics, aviation metalsmiths, carpenters, pharmacists, stenographers or small boat operators may be given ratings as petty officers provided their training is deemed sufficient. If a man is not skilled in a trade, the coast guard will train him in one of its many fine technical schools.

High school graduation is no longer required. Those interested should see the recruiting officer, room 306, Pioneer postoffice, Portland, for full particulars.

HAZEL GREEN—Lt. Arthur Clemens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Clemens, has finished his studies at the training school at Aberdeen, Md., and is now in line for promotion to the rank of captain.

His training was interrupted when he was sent to Camp Riley, Kans., and later to Camp Chaffee, Ark., where he aided in training new recruits.

Mrs. Clemens and son Michel joined him in Maryland early this year and visited her grandmother in Springfield, Mo., while he was in Kansas and Arkansas. Lt. Clemens will now be stationed at Camp Chaffee and the family will live at Fort Smith, the city nearest the camp.

GERVAIS—Fred Sahli, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sahli, has entered the US armed service.

ZENA—Lieut. and Mrs. Maurice Shepard visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Shepard, Sunday. Lieut. Shepard is stationed at Fort Lewis, having recently transferred there from Indio, Calif.

SCIO—Virgil D. Scheer, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Scheer, recently completed training for aviation machinist mate. He will be transferred from the Great Lakes naval training station to the fleet or some naval base for extended training in his specialized field.

Experienced seamen and engineers who often have wished for a chance to become licensed officers in ships of the American merchant marine now have an excellent opportunity to prepare themselves, at the expense of the government, to pass the license examinations.

Requirements for obtaining the training, sponsored by the US maritime service, include producing documentary evidence of citizenship, such as a birth certificate or its equivalent, having discharges proving minimum service of 14 months at sea during the past three years, and passing a physical examination.

The next prospective licensed officer class starts in August. They receive $99 a month, clothing, board and room and textbooks while studying.

Dairy Union Begun

PORTLAND, June 11—(AP)—William Dalrymple, Oregon director of the United Mine Workers, announced Thursday that the union has started organization of the Oregon dairy industry.

ed students of junior high age in band and orchestra will meet at 11 a. m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. At 11 a. m. on Tuesday and Thursday majorette twirling classes will meet.

Ensemble groups will meet every afternoon. The junior band for advanced players in grade and junior high having played two or more years, meeting Monday and Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., the high school orchestra meeting at 7:30 Tuesday and the high school orchestra the same time Thursday, complete the schedule.

Sweet Cherry Growers Form

Sweet cherry growers from all parts of Oregon gathered here Thursday, perfected an organization and fixed a uniform wage scale for pickers at two cents a pound during the 1942 season.

The organization will be known as the Oregon Sweet Cherry Growers council. C. C. Wright, McMinnville, was elected chairman, and E. Riddell Lage, Hood River, secretary. The wage scale for pickers is approximately 33 1/2 per cent higher than that in 1941.

The meeting was called by C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner.

Reports presented at the meeting indicated a large 1942 crop, despite the recent rains and other unsatisfactory weather conditions.
