Grantland Rice Is Head as Games Lined Up With Topnotchers

WASHINGTON, June 30.—(AP) A schedule of big time football for soldiers was outlined at the war department Tuesday after the appointment of Grantland Rice, sports columnist, as head of a civilian corporation set up to handle details of the program.

Eight contests with teams of the National pro league, five for the army's western squad and three for the eastern soldiers' outfit have been booked for next fall.

Rice said his corporation, War Football Fund, Inc., would advise the army on the gridiron program and would handle the financial end. All receipts from the contests will go to the army emergency relief fund.

Members of the squads will be drawn from the 1,000 or more professional and collegiate players now in the army. Officers and enlisted men alike will be eligible. Each squad will number around 50.

Silver-Sox Eye Tournery, Play Albany Tonite

SILVERTON — The Silverton Red Sox are getting polished up this week for the big baseball tournament which opens here Saturday at 2:30 p.m. The Sox and the Marine Electric of Portland will tangle in the first game.

Mt. Angel and Willamette Iron and Steel will play the night game of opening day, and on Sunday afternoon the McElroy Ballroomers and the Portland Firemen play. The Verboort and Boiler-makers Union teams play Sunday night. Elimination play begins Monday night.

The twice-rained out game between Silverton and Albany at Silverton will be played here tonight at 8 o'clock. The Sox will be out to even up the 5 to 1 beating which was handed them last Sunday at Albany. Tonight's game will wind up first-half play with the Eugene Athletics as champs.

Tough Luck Ed Smith Drops Another, 3-1

CHICAGO, June 30.—(AP)—Manager Lou Boudreau made four of Cleveland's five hits, including his season's first homer, and scored all his club's runs to give Jim Bagby a 3-1 decision over Lefty Ed Smith, the White Sox' tough luck hurler, before 11,071 fans Tuesday night in Chicago.

Bagby held the Sox to seven blows and was derringed when they threatened in the ninth inning for "Chubby" Dean.

The loss was Smith's 13th of the year against two wins. The win was Bagby's ninth. Cleveland .101 001 000-3 5 1 Chicago .000 001 000-1 7 0 Bagby, Dean (9) and Hegan; E. Smith and Turner.

All-Star Game At Hollywood

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—(AP) The second annual Pacific Coast league all-star baseball game will be played August 3 at Hollywood ball park.

Circuit President Wilbur C. Tuttle set the date and site Tuesday for the north-south contest, in which players from Seattle, Sacramento, Portland and Oakland will oppose the best performers from Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego and Hollywood.

Selection of players will be left to a vote of baseball writers in league cities. The game was played at San Francisco last July and proved to be a marked success.

Caps Even Count Against Western Meet To Have Few But Famous

VANCOUVER, June 30.—(CP)—The Vancouver Caplanos cracked out 14 hits, good for eight runs off Frankie Dierickx of the Salem Senators here Tuesday night, and the Caps walked off with an 8-5 victory to knot the current series at one game each.

The Senators gave Dierickx a 4-0 lead going into the third inning, but Vancouver cut loose with a 5-run barrage to jump into a lead they never gave up.

Salem cracked out 13 hits off Bob Henricksen, but left men stranded in the clutches. The Senators were able to score but one run in the fifth inning after their 4-0 lead.

Eddie Adams of the Senators, was the game's batting star, driving out three singles and a double in four times at bat, and Bill Johnson smashed out a long circuit clout for one of his two hits.

Adams drove in Leininger and Warren, who had both singled, in the first inning for Salem's first two runs, and in the third, singles by Leininger, Richards, Warren and Adams got two more tallies. Johnson's homer came in the fifth with no one on base. The defeat was Dierickx' third this season, and was the first game in which the Salem swiftly has been hit hard and often.

The series continues Wednesday with a doubleheader and then shifts to Salem on Friday.

Wilfred Wehrle and Art Doering both will be on hand for another attempt to wrest the crown from Corp. Bud Ward who will have leave from his second air force post to defend the mug.

Another champion, Bill Welch of Houston, national publicist, has advised the Athletic Round Table he will be on hand for the tournament, but has not sent in an entry so far, Walker said.

Lefty Al Lien Bests Murray O'Flynn, 2-1

SPOKANE, June 30.—(AP)—The Tacoma Tigers took a 2 to 1 pitcher's battle from the Spokane Indians to open their Western International Baseball league series here Tuesday night.

Lefty Al Lien, on the mound for Tacoma, was just sharp enough to hold a one run lead his mates gathered for him in the fourth frame to best Murray O'Flynn of Spokane in one of the best games the Irishman has pitched this year.

Tacoma's first run, in the first inning, was the result of Spokane's only error of the night, on Right Fielder Bob Daley, who allowed a roller to get away from him.

The Indians were able to match the fourth inning run but never could make up the first inning error, despite bases loaded on three different occasions.

From the BLEACHERS

By AL LIGHTNER

Who was it said he wished summer would get here? Whewoooo!

A lot of the newspaper boys would certainly like to know just what went on behind the locked doors of the Judge Landis, Will Harridge and Ford Frick meeting Monday. Just as you and I, they smelled a little mouse. There have been all sorts of rumors flying around to the effect that the Big Show is about to fold its tent for the duration, and the newshounds weren't just hanging around outside those locked doors to find out what time of day the moguls decided the World's Series was going to start.

That's just the point—is there going to be a World's Series?

We've heard, through the mails, from some of the boys in the Big Show, and their letters have read none too sweetly of the war-baseball situation.

So could be that the Landis-Harridge-Frick get-together was a preview of unhappy tidings to come—could be.

Had to Lose Sometime

Something may have gone amiss and the Canadian correspondents didn't want it blown up too much, but Foxy Don Osborn's matinee streak of 32 consecutive afternoon pitching victories was stopped colder than the weather isn't last Saturday afternoon in Capitanoland.

Was a good game, too, but Hank Bushman, with a bit of ninth inning relief from Hub Kittle, nipped Ozzie's parade, 4 to 3.

Oh, well, they say the law of averages catches up with everything if given enough time. But 32 straight wins in the daylight and in a park with a 251-foot right field fence—that's something to tell the grandchildren about some day.

Yunker Moves Up

He may have felt like anything but playing for Tacoma at the time he went home "because of death in his family," but that trip turned out to be nothing but okay for Roy Yunker, the one man ball team. Right now Roy is holding down first base for the Hollywood Stars in the PCL and getting in a few hits now and then to boot.

Such are the breaks of baseball. Yunker wasn't causing much trouble in the WFL with his bat (he didn't hurt Salem a bit the last series he appeared here with the Tigers), whereas Charlie Henson moved up to the Seals with a .400 batting average, were out every hurler in the WI before going and is being rewarded by the Seals with a nice seat on their bench. And the seat isn't even cushioned.

Present vs. Past

See where Roy Helsler hurled a win for the Portland Electrical Union Sunday in the Portland City league. Allowed only six hits in doing so and lost another ex-Solon in Ray Elliott, of the Reliable Shoes, whom we were told recently had been drafted into the army. Maybe when Salem plays Silverton—if that game can ever be arranged—Helsler will do the pouring for the Red Sox. He plays for them, too, you know.

And speaking of the '42 Senators facing opposition made up of Senators of other years, when our "road cousins" square off against

DON 'FOXY' OSBORN

Eugene in the Navy Relief game on July 6 in Eugene, they will no doubt face an ex-Solon battery in Bud Brewer and Dick Bishop.

Grounders & Pickups

Bill Turner, ex-Parrish junior high school basketball star, left last week for the San Diego marine base—you guess what for . . . One of the army jeeps might come up with a free "tube" job from the Union Oil company, as army softball player Mack won the right to have his car lubricated in the opening night game against the Golden Pheasants. He was certainly happy but was just as perplexed, "cause he forgot to bring his car with him when Uncle Sam moved him out west.

Soldier Abernathy did himself right well, however, as he picked up a dinner, a flashlight and a candid camera for his "firsts." And Soldier Siverson can get his uniform all nice and pretty at Burright's cleaners for making the first boot of the season . . . Maybe I'm wrong, but it appears that our "road cousin" Senators had better play the major part of their remaining games at home. Their last stay wound up with 10 wins out of 13 games. Up to Tuesday night they had four wins out of 14 games on the road, which doesn't add up to any p-e-n-a-n-t . . .
