

Portland Bevos were a bunch of sissies because they wouldn't play our Senators any more,

the state semi-pro tournament. At least that's the impression Eeeding got from Ray Brooks after the latter took his semi-pro trot as to the press. And our old friend Howard

Maple enters the scene, too, as it was he who promised Brooks that the Senators would be glad to play the tournament winners on the night of July 21, thereby helping the semi-pro boys raise a little folding money for their hoped-for jaunt to the national tournament at Kansas City later in the month. Of course we don't know how shooters club Sunday shoot on the Maple expected to sidetrack the Spokane Indians on the night of tibrand and Welty trophies. #### Brooks Has Mad On Now Brooks evidently is peeved because the Solons are sidetracking his Simon Pures on the night already taken up by a league tilt, claiming the Senators are the ones afraid to play for another one of those "state championship" affairs.

We added to our letter to Brooks in explaining the collision of dates that next Sunday, July 19, was an open date, but had been promised the Bellingham Bells of the Northwest league inasmuch as the Senators would be only 55 miles from Bellingham after winding up this week's Vancouver series., "If we can get out of it, which I don't think we can, we'll be glad to play you," sez we. (We didn't get out of it.)

NEW YORK, July 13 .- (AP)-The My! My! What's becoming of New York Yankees captured a the state of Oregon's baseball strange sort of a game from the teams anyway! We claimed the Detroit Tigers Monday, 4 to 3, to increase their lead over the idle Boston Red Sox to five full games.

The world champions made and according to the efforts of only six hits and four of these one Harry Leeding, Portland were produced by Joe "Flash" Journalist, our town Solons are Gordon, who had a perfect day also a bunch of sissies 'cause at the plate. He made two doubles they won't play the winner of and drove in two runs. New York's other markers came on the first home run of the season for Red Rolfe.

Solons Before 1800 Fans Race Lead SPOKANE, July 13-(AP)-Corporal Marvin "Bud" Ward national amateur golf champion, and Corporal B. Patrick Abbott, newly-crowned western title holder, finished all even in an 18-hole exhibition match played here Monday for the army emergency relief fund.

The two soldier boys gave the Manito course, where the western amateur championship matches were finished Sunday, a real drubbing. Both shot 69s. Par for the course is 36-36-72. Abbott had a-1 up lead at the Break Even in end of the ninth, and Ward led at the 11th hole for the first time in the match. Abbott dropped a Sunday's Two 27-foot putt and Ward a 6-footer for birdie threes on the 18th hole. Approximately 400 fans galleried the match.

It took the Oakland Acorns of the Pacific Coast loop 10 heats to do it, with a beautiful bonehead play thrown in for the AA boys halted Salem's mysterious magic over the Coast league last night at George E. Waters' park, handing the town Senators a 5-4 setback. Up to the uproarious game Salem had met and downed four consecutive Coast nines. Eighteen hundred fans sat in on the contest, closely fought throughout and glistening with sparkling plays by both sides. The Oaks were taking no chances on having the class B Solons, Tiges boys victimize them as they had Portland, San Francisco, San Diego and Portland again in succession; so started Big Jack Salveson at our side. Manager. Charlie Petersen chose Wild Bill Kelley for the Solon side, and Willie was going along just fine ning.

Our town Senators and Tacoma's Tigers battled to an even break in Sunday's Western International league baseball twin bill at Tacoma, the Solons shoving an 8-7 loss on the league leaders in the first game, but succumbing 9 to 1 in the nightcap behind some fancy southpawing by Lefty Al

Salem's Bud Moore, recently deferred by the draft, got eredit for the opening win, although Kenny Clow and finally Wild Bill Kelly had to come to his rescue in a wild Tacoma ninth which saw them score four times. Kelly retired big Joe Brovia with the winning run on base.

CHICAGO, July 18.-(/P)-It took Ted Williams, the 1941 American league batting champion, a long time to take over the lead this year. Once there, however, he seems to have scared his oppos tion into backing away and giving him room to run.

The Boston Red Sox biffer had only a scant six-tenths of a point edge on the Yankees' Joe Gordon a week ago. But through Sunday's games, although Ted dropped three points to .344. Gordon fell nine to .338, and gave the champ a six-point working margin.

As Gordon fell, so did Bobby Doerr, Boston's second baseman who was crowding the No. 1 and 2 men with a .346 mark last week. Doerr dropped ten points to hold the No. 3 spot at .336.

The rest of the roster of the big ten reads this way: Jos Pesky of the Boston Red Sox and Les Fleming of the Cleveland Indians with .326 each; Stan Spence of the Washington Senators, .320; Dom DiMaggie of Boston, and Vernon Stephens of the St. Louis Browns with .306 apiece: Lou Boudreau of Cleveland, and Ned Harris of the Detroit Tigers with .298 each
