

Salem Man Weds in South

A wedding which took place at the Fourth Presbyterian church in Louisville, Kentucky, on August 16, is of unusual interest in Salem. The bride and groom are both well known here. The bride, Miss Winifred Josephine Gardner, daughter of Mrs. Henry Seth Gardner, is a former Willamette student and well known scholastically and socially on the campus. The groom, Lieutenant George Mark McLeod, was dean of the school of law at Willamette university before enlisting in the army, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carlton McLeod.

The vows were exchanged at 8 o'clock in the evening in a church decorated with white gladioluses and ferns. Tall candleabra held cathedral tapers.

The organist was Frederic A. Cowles, who played preceding the ceremony and the processional and recessional. During the ceremony he played "Sanctus" by Gounod.

Dr. W. A. Benfield, jr., of the Louisville Presbyterian ministry read the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin fashioned along princess lines. The only trim on the gown was Alencos lace at the neck and wrists. The skirt extended into a train. The bride wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her full length veil was of Brussels lace. She carried a white orchid with bouvardia.

There were no attendants. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gardner chose a gown of black chiffon over cream lace. Mrs. McLeod, who went south a week ago for her son's wedding, wore a gown of navy blue sheer, which was trimmed with white embroidery.

A wedding dinner honoring the bride and groom took place at the Bluegrass room of the Brown hotel in Louisville. For traveling the bride chose a turquoise silk jersey frock. Her corsage was a lavender threaded white orchid.

Lieut. and Mrs. McLeod will make their home near Fort Knox, where he is with the United States air corps.

Mrs. McLeod is a graduate of Willamette university and took advanced work at the University of California and Armstrong college in Berkeley. While at Willamette university she was a member of Cap and Gown, was senior scholar in German, active in the Woman's Athletic association and a member of Delta Phi sorority, which she served as president. During her junior year she was May Queen.

Lieut. McLeod is a graduate of the law school of Willamette university, and also took graduate work at Harvard university and Leland Stanford university. He was dean of the Willamette law school. While at Willamette he was a member of Blue Key, Alpha Psi Delta social fraternity, and Delta Theta Phi, legal fraternity. He was an active member of the young democrats, and served as president of the Willamette university student body. He is a member of Rotary International.

Vows Said in Garden of Home

In the garden at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Mieth in Portland, Miss Maxine Virginia Mieth became the bride of Mr. Courtney Rolfe Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Marion Johns.

The 4 o'clock ceremony, performed by the Rev. John Beard of Mt. Tabor Presbyterian church, was witnessed by relatives and a few close friends. Miss Mieth was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Ivar Madsen was best man for Mr. Johns. The bride was gowned in dawn rose chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of blue delphinium and pale pink water-lilies.

The bride attended St. Helen's Hall and Mills college in Oak-Hall, Calif.

The groom is the grandson of the late Charles Adams Johns, justice of the supreme court of Oregon and justice of the supreme court of the Philippines. He attended Reed college, University of Washington, and graduated from Willamette school of law. He is a member of Chi Psi, and of Delta Theta Phi, national honorary legal fraternity. Mr. Johns, a Portland attorney, is the fourth generation of his family to be admitted as an attorney to the Oregon supreme court.

After a brief honeymoon they will be at home to their friends at 1911 Northeast 22nd avenue.

Wedding in Episcopal Church

Miss Patricia Otten and Ensign Murden Eugene Reed exchanged gold wedding bands at a double ring ceremony performed at St. Paul's Episcopal church at high noon Wednesday. Rev. George H. Swift officiated.

The church was decorated in all white and lighted by white tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown, that worn by her mother, was of ivory satin, made with a lace bolero and long, net sleeves.

There was a long paneled train and lace paniers were caught with orange blossoms on the skirt. The veil, one worn by several members of the family, was of bridal illusion and was caught by a tiara. Her bouquet was cream colored roses and bouvardia.

Miss Sybil Spears, maid of honor, wore pink taffeta, with gold brocade on bodice and three-quarter length sleeves. Miss Marilee Fry and Miss Barbara Compton, bride's maids, also wore pink frocks. The three attendants carried clusters of pink and red begonias and fuscias, tied with maline. Clusters of flowers and maline were worn in their hair.

Ensign Reed, in white formal dress uniform of the navy, was best man for Mr. Johns. The bride was gowned in dawn rose chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of blue delphinium and pale pink water-lilies.

Smart Accessories Dramatize Black Frocks

Top, nailhead accessories trim black; left below, sterling silver mask pins dramatize black; right, silver and turquoise accessories with all-black.

Lind-Seder Vows Are Read

At the Jason Lee Methodist church on Saturday night at 8 o'clock, Rev. S. Raynor Smith read the vows that united Miss Laura Seder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Seder, and Mr. Leslie Lind, jr., son of Mr. Leslie Lind, sr., of Dallas.

The altar was decorated in white, and lighted by candles. The bride's father gave her in marriage. She was dressed in white satin, with a court train and long veil. The gown was ornamented by self covered buttons down the back. She carried red rosebuds and white asters.

The matron of honor and best man were the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Skinner of Medford. The matron of honor wore peach net and carried white gladioli.

Miss Doris Anderson sang. At a reception which followed the wedding, Mrs. Sophie Peterson of Dallas poured and Mrs. Clara Woolery, Mrs. Theodore Seder of St. Helens and Mrs. Ferrel Covalt of Salem assisted.

After a short wedding trip the groom, in the US navy, returned to duty on his boat. The bride will reside with her parents.
