

Local News Briefs

Shipyard Worker Held—Willard Freeman, Portland shipyard worker, had scarcely hitch-hiked his way to the underpass north of Salem on Saturday en route home after release from a justice court charge, when state police had arrested him on a warrant charging assault and battery. Before Justice Joseph Felton he had pleaded guilty to a charge of being in a state of intoxication on a public highway and had been released on his own recognizance, with sentence to be handed down Monday. The assault charge was filed by a man with whom Freeman had allegedly been fighting at Lakebrook hopyard when arrested Friday night by state police on the drunkenness charge.

Frank Lovell 90 On Monday

Oldest Employee In Age and Service To Work, Birthday

Frank K. Lovell, who for more than 52 years has tucked a red carnation into the lapel of his coat every morning, plans to observe his 90th birthday anniversary Monday by appearing as usual at his desk in the office of the secretary of state.

Oldest employee of the state both in point of age and in years of service, Mr. Lovell came to Salem from Westport in 1890 to serve for three weeks as substitute for his brother in the office of Secretary of State George W. McBride. The brother never returned to the position.

Not only in the office of the secretary of state, although the majority of his service has been there, but as state tax commissioner and once as an employee in the insurance commissioner's office, he has worked for Oregon during most of the intervening years. A few years spent in California for his health comprise the only period outside his employment by the state during the past 52 years.

Born in Boston, Lovell came across the isthmus of Panama and to Oregon in 1872, to join a brother, Col. S. L. Lovell, at the latter's ranch in the Nehalem valley. Ranch work, school teaching, a job as purser on a Columbia river boat, storekeeping and operation of a lumber mill were tried in succession by the young man, who came to Salem in 1890 shortly after he and his partners had sold their Westport mill.

In 1901 he married Miss Lillian Statesman of Salem, who died in 1915.

Governor to Review Guard Today, Albany

Gov. Charles A. Sprague will spend Sunday at Albany where he will review two state guard units. A program will precede the review. Mark Weatherford, Albany attorney, will preside. Brig. Gen. Ralph Cogwill, commander of the state guard, along with a number of other high guard officials also were expected to have seats in the reviewing stand.

Independent Files for DA

John Baker, Hood River, Saturday filed with the secretary of state here as an independent candidate for district attorney of Hood River county at the November election.

Baker's filing followed the recent resignation of Erel L. King, who has entered the military service. King was elected as an independent candidate in 1940.

Baker has the distinction of being the first candidate to file as an independent for the November election.

Tennis J. Wyers, party nominee for the position, is serving as district attorney for Hood River county under appointment by Gov. Charles A. Sprague.

Protecting Public Records Stressed

Importance of protecting and preserving state, county and municipal records was stressed by L. S. Cressman, chairman of the state committee dealing with this problem, in a letter to Jerrold Owen, state defense council coordinator.

The best means of protecting these records is by use of photographic reproduction.

Menjou, Walter Pidgeon Coming To Salem; New Bond Partners Assigned Joan Leslie

Beautiful Joan Leslie has been given a new pair of film-actor partners for her Salem appearance in the interest of war bond sales, theatre men of the capital city were informed Saturday.

Miss Leslie, who, earning stardom while still in her teens, is said to represent the typical American girl, is to be accompanied to Salem on September 3 by Adolph Menjou of movie and wardrobe fame and Walter Pidgeon, who was Mr. Miniver in the recent film success and the Welsh minister in "How Green Was My Valley."

First of the Victory Center programs for September, which over the nation is bond sales month for theatres, the Thursday night appearance of the film stars is scheduled for 7 p. m. on the west lawn of the county courthouse. An army band is to appear in concert for the first half hour, with other entertainment to commence at 7:30.

Master of ceremonies for the occasion is to be Sen. Douglas McKay.

Not only are Miss Leslie, Menjou and Pidgeon to appear on the Victory Center platform but they are to sell bonds. At least the feminine member of the contingent is to congratulate personally and autograph fan photos for purchasers of war bonds.

The girl who at 16 played the romantic leading role opposite Gary Cooper in "Sergeant York" is said to have been tabbed a winner when she signed her first moving picture contract a year ago. Now, between roles, she is attempting to help win the war by adding her powers of persuasion to those of older men and women from coast to coast urging investment in war bonds and stamps.

JOAN LESLIE

Young movie stars are said to meet the world's most interesting persons, and among these Joan places at the top position three current war heroes. She was a luncheon guest recently of Gergory Daymon, ace of the Eagle squadron, who has been credited with destruction of seven enemy planes and has gone back to England to more adventure.

Come on, you men 17 to 50 LET'S BLOW THE RATS OUT OF THE OCEAN!

Do you know what these men are doing? They're getting ready to fire an "ash-can" from the Y gun of a destroyer to knock the daylight out of a Nazi submarine. Those submarines that are coming right up to our shores to sink American tankers and kill American men. Are we going to let them get away with it? Not when we have enough red-blooded men bring enough of these "ash-cans." Come on, give us a hand! Enlist today!

DO THEY THINK we're going to stand by while they menace our free government, torpedo our ships, kill our men, set our women and children adrift in lifeboats?

Not as long as there are Americans who are ready to stand up and fight for their rights and their freedom!

We've taken plenty. Now we're ready to start dishing it out. We're getting the ships. We're getting the guns. We're getting the "ash-cans"—those deadly depth charges that can blow a sub clean out of the ocean.

What we need now is men. We need YOU! How about it? It's your war. And you know you're going to be in it sooner or later. Why not choose the Navy—now—while you still have the chance?

What the Navy offers you

In the Navy you can do a real man-size job for your country—and for yourself. You'll go places, do things, meet people. You'll lead a rugged outdoor life that will build you up physically. You'll help make history!

With Navy training you'll have the chance to become an expert in radio, aviation, electricity—dozens of top trades that fit you to do a better fighting job now... fit you for a better civilian job after the war is won.

You'll get good pay, quick promotion. Your first pay increase comes after approximately 2 months, upon completion of recruit training. By the end of your first enlistment you can be making up to $138 a month, plus allowances. And that pay is all yours because your food, quarters, uniforms, dental and medical care are free.

Most important of all, you'll be doing a job you can be proud of. A job your family, your friends, your country can be proud of—the biggest job ever offered any American.

GET FREE BOOK TODAY!

If you're 17 to 50 and in normal health, your job is waiting for you right now. Take it today.
