

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWS IN PICTURES

'GINGER' GETS THE WORKS.—Two-year-old Lorraine De Camelo gives her dog, "Ginger," a final brushing and general beauty treatment in preparation for the animal pet show sponsored in New York City by the Children's Aid Society.

REPORTS.—Joseph C. Grew, U. S. ambassador to Tokyo until Japan attacked Pearl Harbor, leaves Secretary of State Hall's office after reporting in Washington, D. C.

YES, HER NAME'S MARY — Displaying her prize Hampshire ram is Mary Wilkison, 7, of Tarboro, N. C.

MISS N. Y. C.—Annyss Sherman, 18, was named Miss New York City. She'll compete at Atlantic City beauty meet.

SHIP WELDER.—Mrs. Mary Carroll is one of the first women shipyard welders employed at the Kaiser plant at Portland, Ore. She is the mother of a soldier reported missing in action in the Philippine Islands.

IT'S PLYWOOD.—This new Ryan FT-35 military primary training plane is made of plastic-bonded plywood. Aluminum alloys and all strategic materials have been eliminated except for engine cowling which is 2 per cent of plane's weight.

ARM OF LAW.—This policeman directs traffic in Asmara, capital of Eritrea, under British control in Africa. AP Photographer Weston Haynes made picture.

BACKS INDIA.—Dr. Sun Fo, Chinese leader, says "Chinese sympathy is entirely with the Indians" in freedom struggle.

THEIR BOOK TELLS HISTORY OF WORLD WAR II.—Gathered around Oliver Gramling, author of "AP—The Story of News," in New York are Associated Press newsmen who worked with him in writing "Free Men are Fighting," a history of World War II. Left to right: Alvin Steinhoff, Gramling, Glenn Rabb (standing, rear), John Evans, and J. M. Roberts, Jr.

WINNER.—Doris Hart, 17, of Miami, Fla., smiles as she holds trophy after winning United States girls' tennis crown at the Philadelphia, Pa., Cricket Club.

BASSO AT PLAY.—Exio Pinza, Metropolitan Opera bass, plays with daughter Ciella at their Mamaroneck, N. Y., home.

BRAZILIAN BATTLESHIP.—The Brazilian battleship "Minas Gerais" displaces 25,000 tons and was built in 1908. It carries twelve 15-inch guns in its main battery, fourteen 4.7-inch guns in secondary battery and four anti-aircraft guns.

LITVINOFF AND CONDUCTOR.—Soviet Ambassador Maxim Litvinoff (right) sits with Boston Symphony conductor Serge Koussevitzky after a concert at the Berkshire Music Center near Lenox, Mass.

AMERICAN CARRIER WITH BRITISH.—Crew of British cruiser Edinburgh line the rail (foreground) to watch the arrival of the U. S. aircraft carrier Wasp in British home waters as part of U. S. force joining the British Home Fleet.