Truth Needed On War Says Legislator

The people need a little wholesome truth without propaganda, Sen. Rufus C. Holman told members of the Salem Kiwanis club and guests Tuesday noon. The Oregon senator has just returned from an inspection trip with a senatorial committee to Alaskan army and navy outposts. The Alaskan inspection trip was made by boat and airplane and included all of the army and naval posts and coast defenses. The Oregon senator is a member of army and naval affairs committees of the senate and he mentioned his particular interest in the defense of the Oregon coast.

Anything which delays production of those things needed for national defense and by the men in the armed services was classed as intolerable by the speaker. Retarding production of war materials through strikes or work stoppages were classed as the work of traitors who said there was no difference between John L. Lewis and Al Capone.

Lumber Workers Called Essential

Posters declaring the work of all logging camps and sawmills in Marion and Polk counties essential to the war emergency, were being posted Tuesday under the direction of Col. Elmer V. Wootton, state selective service director. Wootton urged all employees of these industries to continue on the job. The posters point out that men engaged in plywood plants, box factories and other industries dependent upon the lumber industry are included.

Bonds Buying Complaint Is Given Reply

State bond commission members, in letters to E. B. MacNaughton, president of the First National Bank of Portland, Tuesday replied to a letter of Russell Colwell, in charge of the bank's bond department, complaining that the commission has purchased certain municipal securities at a return considerably lower than received from government bonds.

Members of the bond commission are Gov. Charles A. Sprague, State Treasurer Leslie M. Scott and L. O. Arens, chairman of the state industrial accident commission.

Colwell said some of these municipal bonds had been purchased by the commission outside of Oregon's boundaries. He particularly referred to securities purchased in California.

"For the life of me," Colwell's letter read, "I cannot figure out why the bond commission would go outside the state to purchase a municipal security paying a return less than on our own country's bonds."

Colwell indicated that the reason for purchasing these bonds either was political or the commission questions payment of the federal bonds at maturity.

All three members of the commission denied emphatically that there was anything political in the purchase of any bonds by the state.

"The best answer to your inquiry is contained in a recent report of bond purchases by the bond commission," Governor Sprague said in his letter to MacNaughton.

This report showed that since January 1 the bond commission has purchased $4,379,000 worth of government issues and $196,500 of state of Oregon bonds. Purchases of state of Oregon municipal bonds and state of California bonds aggregated $1,067,811.45. The California bonds total $391,000.

Scott declared that Oregon has invested heavily in United States securities with a ratio of nearly five to one in their favor this year. He said one reason for the California purchase was the insufficient offerings of Oregon municipalities to keep the state's investment funds employed.

Diversion of bond purchases was stressed in Arens' letter to MacNaughton.

The state of Oregon now has invested $25,282,945 in federal, state and municipal bonds of which $7,745,975 is in federal securities, State Treasurer Leslie M. Scott reported here Tuesday.

The government bonds include approximately $7,000,000 in treasury bonds and about $750,000 in defense bonds. Investments this year total $6,174,211, of which almost $5,000,000 is in government bonds.

Scott declared that the state could not purchase many more defense bonds because such action would tie up state funds over a 12-year period. Treasury bonds, he said, are a good investment because they are salable at any time.

The state this year has bought $391,000 worth of California bonds which bear 2½ per cent interest and are salable at any time.

The state's investments also include $10,927,160 in municipal bonds and $4,808,810 in state of Oregon bonds.

Minister Avers Stories True of Japanese Cruelty

PORTLAND, Sept. 1.—(AP) Stories of Japanese cruelty are not propaganda, the Rev. Ralph E. Bullock said Tuesday as he returned to his Portland home after 10 years as an independent missionary in the Orient.

Lacking regard for human life their own or that of others—they fought fiercely in battle and killed prisoners brutally, he said. The missionary told of 16 Canadian soldiers being lined up with their hands tied behind them, and being bayoneted. Hospital beds were bayoneted, too, the Rev. Bullock declared, telling of one patient who escaped by fixing the bed covers to make it look as though he was there and then crawling under the bed. Jap bayonets pierced the bed and scratched the man's chest, he said.

The Rev. Mr. Bullock did not indicate whether he had seen these incidents personally or had been told of them, but he made it clear that he had observed many cruelties.

National Batting Race Levels Off

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—The only thing that kept Pete Reiser of the Brooklyn Dodgers from losing the National league batting lead last week was that his rivals weren't hitting, either.

In action for only three games before he was shipped to Baltimore for examination of his injured side, Pete failed to get a hit in nine times at bat. As a result his batting average fell off seven points to .328—just the mark known as "Country" Slaughter of the St. Louis Cardinals held for second place a week ago.

Slaughter, however, ended his climb toward the top and finished up with a .325 mark. He connected only eight times in 29 attempts. Other leading "regulars" after Monday's games were Stan Musial, Cardinals, .316; Joe Medwick, Brooklyn, .311; Lou Novikoff, Chicago, .309; Stan Hack, Chicago, .303; Johnny Mize, New York, .299; Bill Nicholson, Chicago, .293; Bob Elliott, Pittsburgh, .293; and Walker Cooper, St. Louis, .292.

Mauriello Easy TKO Winner

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Tami Mauriello, New York heavy-weight, scored a technical knockout over Italo Colonello, also of New York, in the second round of a scheduled 10-round fight that opened the fall and winter ring program at the Coliseum Tuesday night.

Mauriello, who will oppose Jimmy Bivins in Cleveland on September 15, battered his foe all over the ring in the first round and resumed the assault in the second. When Colonello failed to land a blow after 29 seconds of the second frame, Referee Frank Fullam stopped the show.

Mauriello weighed 185 pounds, Colonello 195.
