Wallace Backed by AFL; Snell Also Commended

er prominent party members to attend. All county district committees, chairmen and vice-chairmen are being specifically invited to attend the district session, along with any other republicans who may be interested. The local central committee also is inviting members of Pro-America, the Oregon Republican club and the Young Republicans to "work actively with us this year," Chairman Lewis said.

Rep. Mott expressed approval of the active committee plan Saturday.

The AFL branch of organized labor, according to Associated Press dispatches, favored Sen. Wallace for governor because in answer to questions on "important public issues" affecting labor he "answered unequivocally while Secretary Snell replied, but did not state a positive position on the issues."

Records of both men were praised in the AFL board's report, although measures introduced or supported by Wallace on the November ballot were in two instances recommended for defeat.

For other major offices the AFL board recommended Sen. Charles L. McNary, Rep. Homer Angell (third district) and Rep. Farrell, for secretary of state, republicans, and Earl Nott (first district, congress), Walter M. Pierce, (second district, congress) and Edward C. Kelly (fourth district, congress) democrats.

As to measures on the November ballot, little has been heard other than from the sportsmen who are backing the coastal streams bill prohibiting net fishing from November 30 to June 1, except in the Columbia river.

The sportsmen's view is that this bill would save steelhead runs and make for better angling, according to a statement issued by E. J. Church, president of the Oregon Wildlife Federation. His statement also asserted that the bill would have relatively little adverse effect on commercial salmon fishing because of the small percentage represented by catches made during the proposed closed period. Commercial fishermen probably will answer Church vigorously from the other side of the creek.

City Workers To Poll Wage Desires Here

Monday night's meeting of city employes has been called to ascertain needs and desires of the entire group as to pay increases. Salem firemen and policemen, sponsors of the session, declared Saturday. Denying that the group had been called together to formulate "demands" upon the council, representatives of the two departments pointed out that no plan for strike had been discussed or was anticipated.

"We do know," a spokesman for the group declared, "that our grocery bills and other living expenses have mounted considerably just as have those of other workers in the city, and that our pay scale is lower than that for men doing similar work elsewhere on the coast. Most of us are men with families, and our pay scale starting at $137.5 is by no means ample."

"We are embarrassed by our inability to do what other workers of the city are asked to do in the way of putting 10 per cent of the salary into war bonds. This is not a threat meeting, but we are sure that there should be some common meeting ground where the salary situation can be discussed. There are no 'takers' when it comes to adding to the civil service lists. If the consensus of opinion is that there should be an increase in pay, we are pretty sure there will be no threat of strike, but the city may be without employes if we can't live on what we get."

Employees declared they had not ready formula for providing additional salary funds, since the budget for the year was made up in mid-summer.

parently has been closed by Prime Minister Churchill's sharp criticism of the congress disobedience campaign.

"We should swallow our pride and invite the president of the United States to arbitrate on India," the labor peer, Lord Strabolat, said in an address at Baginistoke.

He took cognizance of Churchill's suggestion that a Japanese fifth column might be working in India by telling labor party members:

"I fear a repetition of what happened in Burma where important elements turned to the Japanese after being rebuffed in London."

Most Signers Use Oil Heat

Ninety per cent of the 826 fuel dealers and users who last week registered at Salem rationing board offices in the voluntary fuel information campaign either sell or use oil as fuel, John F. Vaughn, executive secretary of the board, declared, as he urged wood and sawdust users and dealers to register during the "two days of grace" allowed this week.

Originally scheduled to close Saturday noon, fuel registration in Salem is to continue through Monday and Tuesday in an effort to obtain a better basis for planning the heating of residence and business buildings here this winter, Vaughn said.

The office of the war price and rationing board in the council chambers of the city hall is to be open from 10 a. m. to 3:30 both Monday and Tuesday to would-be registrants.

respective buildings between the hours of 1 and 4 of the afternoons of Monday through Friday, September 14 to 18. This will give the pupil an opportunity to acquaint himself with the school program and enable the principal to make the assignment as to grade and teacher.

"Children who are six years of age on or before November 15 of this year may enter the first grade. This policy is in conformity with the state school law and the policy followed by Marion county. Children registering for the first time in the first grade should bring a copy of their birth certificate with them. This will facilitate the registration and relieve the principal of the necessity of verifying ages at a later date. Children entering school in the first grade for the first time, should have had a physical examination. The Marion county department of health, 206 Masonic building, will be glad to accommodate pre-school children wishing these examinations Wednesday afternoon, September 16.

"Elementary school children of the Capitola area will register at the Washington school on September 21. When the total enrollment is known, an overflow from that area will be housed at the Highland school. "All schools will be in session September 21. On Monday afternoon there will be no classes held in any of the buildings. This will give opportunity for the pupils to obtain their books and supplies. Regular sessions will start on Tuesday morning."

five days; west of Stalingrad about 4000 Germans have been killed. The communique did not mention the northwest sector, where the Germans have increased their pressure in the last day or two.

With the city of Stalingrad perilously besieged from three sides, it was disclosed that another area of sharp fighting has developed far to the north.

In the area of Sinyavino, a railway town on the west side of the Volkhov river below Leningrad, the Russians said the Germans have thrown in large forces of reserves but that all Nazi attacks were stopped and thrown back.

"The enemy lost in killed and wounded about 5000 men," the communique said of this new battle area.

At the southern end of the front in the Moxdok area where the snows of approaching winter already have fallen on the Caucasian mountains, the Russians said they were fighting the enemy on the southern bank of a river (presumably the Terek).

"About 18 per cent have 'B' stickers. These are issued when the essential vocational driving exceeds 150 miles per month, and the driver has agreed to share his car with three passengers.

"A very few have 'C' stickers. These drivers must have to agree to share their cars, but in addition they must be members of a highly essential profession or occupation—persons like doctors, munitions plant workers, and workers in essential public utilities services, and who in addition have occupational driving needs in excess of 470 miles per month.

"My request means simply that each driver in the unrationed area should ask himself honestly into which of these classes his driving falls."

Mott Leaves For Capital

Heading back to the national capital today, Congressman James W. Mott said Saturday his inspections of western defenses had convinced him that the Pacific coast is safe from any surprise attack.

No formal organization has been set up to promote his reelection in November, Rep. Mott said. He plans to depend on "an informal organization, groups of people in each county who know where I stand and approve of my record."

The congressman does not know when he can return home again, but he doesn't expect to get back before the election.

Aid to Prison Escapee Is Charged Two

EUGENE, Sept. 12 (AP)—Melvin Long, Springfield, brother of Cornelius P. Long, convict who escaped from the Oregon state penitentiary Thursday, has been arrested and charged with concealing and aiding a felon, Lane county sheriff O. E. Crowe revealed Saturday.

Melvin Long's wife, Gladys, is also charged with aiding the escaped convict. Both have been released after posting $2500 bail.

The sheriff said that Cornelius Long, who was serving a 20-year sentence on a charge of assault with intent to rape, and Earl F. McCoy, Jackson county, serving a 10-year robbery sentence, were in the Eugene area soon after making their getaway from the penitentiary.

Mr. and Mrs. Long are specifically charged with sheltering and giving money to the escaped convicts. Crowe added that the two men, who left here several days ago, were armed and would probably put up a fight if apprehended.
