

Wedding in Portland Interests

The wedding of Miss Edythe Glaisyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Glaisyer, and Mr. Scott Ira Hill, son of Mrs. Ira Hill of Portland, took place on Saturday, September 5, at the chapel of the Westminster Presbyterian church in Portland. Dr. Perry C. Hopper officiated.

The chapel was decorated with yellow roses and white gladioluses and white tapers. David Gibbs sang, accompanied by Mrs. Byron Shipman.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin made with a shirred bodice, shirred bracelet length sleeves and tulle overskirt. The finger-tip veil was edged with lace and fell from a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses, white bouvardia and gladioluses.

Mrs. Jack Robinson, the bride's only attendant, wore a gown fashioned like that of the bride but of pastel green satin. It had a matching green tulle overskirt. She carried a bouquet of bronze pom-pom dahlias.

Mrs. Jack Robinson was best man.

Mrs. Glaisyer wore aquamarine corsage of deep plum-tone gladioluses, each of them was centered with a tiny pink rosebud. Mrs. Hill chose a gown of ashes of roses crepe. Her corsage was of gardenias.

A reception followed the ceremony. Mrs. Evans Hamilton (Doris Clarke) of Portland, cut her wedding cake. Mrs. Byron Shipman and Mrs. Cleo Sprague, both of Portland, presided at the urns.

Miss Caroline Kehrl passed the dream cakes.

For traveling the bride wore a wool tulle of sand beige and accessories of turtan. Her corsage was gardenias.

The couple left immediately after the reception for a honeymoon at Ocean Park, Washington. After September 21, they will be at home at 2156 Northwest Northrup street, Portland.

Mrs. Hill is a graduate of Salem schools and Willamette university. She was affiliated with Alpha Phi Alpha, and served as president during her senior year. She has been with the Lanes-Miles Standish company in Portland.

Service Work Discussed

How funds accumulated for war service work will be used during the coming club season, is one of the subjects to be discussed by the Salem Junior Woman's club at its opening meeting on Monday at 8 o'clock.

Miss Hattie Bratzel, new president, will preside, and will introduce members of standing committees and department heads.

Membership applications will be considered at a board of directors meeting held at 7:30 p.m., preceding the business meeting.

The program following the business meeting will be based on a "vacation" theme, and will be presented by the hospitality and friendship committee.

Mrs. Francis Jernigan is general chairman of the committee and assisting her are Mrs. W. G. Nibler, Mrs. F. C. Gast, Mrs. William Haskin, Jr., Mrs. Verne Robb, and Mrs. Harry Mohr, Jr.

Philharmonic To Play

Oregon's one remaining symphony orchestra, the Salem Philharmonic, will present a full season of concerts in spite of the obstacles presented to the organization during wartime, a decision announced by members of the board of directors today.

After a careful study had been made of all factors entering into the forthcoming musical season.

"In spite of the fact that we have lost considerable personnel to the armed services and defense industries, we are determined that this fine community enterprise be continued," said Harry Collins, new president of the board of directors, who has guided the orchestra through several past successful seasons.

We will bring to the people of Salem and Marion county music that will take their minds from the way for a period of an hour or two. Music that is a part of American life will be our objective," he said.

Mr. Collins further pointed out that among the many newcomers of Salem there may be many persons who would like an opportunity to perform in the local orchestra. Those with musical training are urged to contact him at 3101 if they wish to play in this season's concert. A limited number of places in the instrumentation of the Philharmonic are open and Edouard Hurlimann, director, is anxious to bring the orchestra to full strength as rapidly as possible.

Wives of Officers Meet

Army officers wives are planning for their own entertainment and will begin a series of get-acquainted affairs on Thursday when they meet for luncheon in the USO headquarters at American Legion hall, Chemeketa and Cottage streets.

The luncheon is scheduled at 1 o'clock and is for the women now living in Salem and West Salem, whose husbands are stationed at Camp Adair or other points near Salem.

No written invitations are being issued because all the wives living here have not been registered and are not known, but reservations may be made by calling Mrs. C. B. Alvord, 6105, Mrs. T. C. Brooks, 7280, Mrs. H. R. Miles, 7725 or Mrs. R. L. Chandler, 7838.

Women who have young children may list them with the committee member when reservation is made, and arrangements will be made to care for them.

Also planned for wives of officers is the tea to be given at the home of Governor and Mrs. Charles A. Sprague on September 22. A committee from the Hostess league headed by Mrs. James T. Brand will be hostesses to the wives of officers on that day.

Don't Look Now.

but . . . even our best friends won't tell us. We inadvertently said in this column last week that we knew a woman who snapped her white collar on her dress, a little trick, we stated, that only a woman's magazine columnist would be neat enough to suggest. All this week we've been eating our words, for Joryne English, co-society editress with us these past six years, always neatly snaps her collars on her dresses, and we never knew it.

Gadabout . . . Beryl Holt, whom we have been unsuccessfully trying to contact by phone all summer for any scrap of society news she might be able to reveal, has been on a summer jaunt. She's spent the whole season away from home, but never got more than 75 miles away except once. Beach for weeks, Eugene, Portland and then to Seattle.

Every woman to her talents . . . The other day we came gaily into the office, singing at the top of our voice, and whom should be at our desk typewriting, than Josephine Albert Spaulding, songbird of our town. Upon looking at her typewritten story, we decided that she types like we sing.

Clothes do make the man . . . Recently Judge and Mrs. James T. Brand—certainly upstanding citizens of the community—went downtown in their much-used gardening clothes to buy some tools. Chancing upon a lonesome looking soldier, they asked him to dinner. Very politely but firmly, he declined. Probably his next letter home told his mother how he withstood the advances of some of Salem's less desirable citizens, and wouldn't mother have blushed, had she known how he missed dining at the home of one of Oregon's supreme court justices.

Perhaps you remember . . . Charley Maxwell, jovial and popular negro who lived in Salem for many years. Well, in a recent issue of the Pittsburgh (Pa.) Courier, a negro paper, appears a large picture of a very pretty girl, titled "Soldiers' Inspiration" and captioned "I don't want to get well, because I'm in love with a beautiful nurse," may be the song soldiers at Ft. Huachuca will be singing when lovely Miss Chrystalee Maxwell, general hospital nurse and recently commissioned second lieutenant in the army nursing corps, reports to the Arizona post. Miss Maxwell, a graduate nurse who has been on the hospital staff for several years, is popular in the Angel City's social set. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maxwell.

All our eggs in one basket . . . isn't a good idea, we and Mickey Mouse found out. We only broke 17, Mickey's casualty list was 10 dozen. And look at the market price! Maxine Buren.
