

Reception Planned Tonight

Scheduled for the fifth day in National Business Women's week, October 15, is the "readiness in action" reception of the Salem Business and Professional Women's club. The reception tonight will be held at the YWCA from eight until ten o'clock.

Miss Ruth Moore and her assistants, Miss Bessie Hammer and Mrs. Esther Little announce their co-hostesses as ready to join in the honors accorded the members and officers of company F, Oregon Women's Ambulance corps. The members of the corps will attend the reception in uniform, in keeping with the national theme of the week, "Women's Work in the War."

Representatives and friends of service clubs, patriotic organizations of women have been invited to share with the Salem club in honoring the corps. Greeting guests at the door, Mrs. William Lintfoot, chairman of the public relations committee, will guide guests to the receiving line in which Miss Carolyn Wilson, general chairman of the week, will present other officers of the club: Miss Helen Fletcher, president; Miss Dorothy Cornelius, first vice-president; Miss Edna McElhaney, corresponding secretary of the state federation and second vice president of the Salem club; Miss Ruth Moore, chairman of the reception, and Miss Hilda Fries, corresponding secretary.

Pouring will be Mrs. Byron B. Herrick, Miss Julia Webster, Miss Juana Holmes and Mrs. Esther Little. Inviting to the dining room will be Mrs. Rose Wilkes, and Miss Hazel Roenicke. Serving will be Mrs. Mabel Parker, Mrs. I. A. DeFrance, Mrs. Laura Pangle, Mrs. Mona Yoder, Miss Phebe McAdams, Mrs. Anna Persey Morgan and Miss Bessie Hammer.

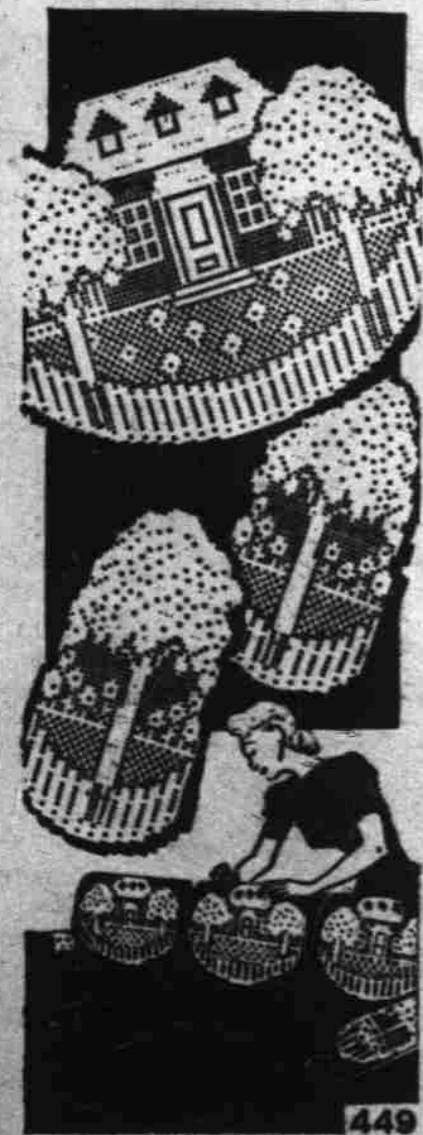

Greeting guests about the rooms will be Miss Josephine Evans, Miss Merl E. Dimick, Miss Ida Mae Smith, Mrs. Susan Varty. Helpers will be Mrs. Maude Eckman, Mrs. Emily Howard, Miss Ruth McAdams, and Miss Hazel Snyder.

Music has been arranged by Mrs. Effie Arehart. Presentation of equipment by the club to Captain Hazel Payne, for the ambulance corps, will be a feature of the evening's program.

Continuing throughout the week will be the poster show at the chamber of commerce, in the floral room. The public is invited to view the posters—some from World War I, modern posters of the marine corps, navy, army, department of agriculture, the department of the treasury. World War I posters were loaned by the Oregon state library.

Miss Eleanor Stephens reports a number of fascinating books written by women war correspondents or by women about the war which are listed and included in a display on the second floor of the state library opposite the card catalogue. The display and list of books have been arranged as part of the celebration of Business Women's week. Mr. Hugh Morrow, of the Salem city library, has also cooperated in arranging books of interest to women on the display shelves.
