West Salem Group Plans For Write-in

Dr. P. G. Stapron is heading a group of citizens who are circulating petitions in a write-in campaign for city officials to be elected by West Salem Tuesday. The petition points out that this year no mass meeting was called by the city officials, the usual method of nominating candidates, but instead "they have sought to remain in office by the petition method, filed without the knowledge of the general public."

Names appearing on the petition which urges they be written on the printed ballot are Charles A. Robertson, to oppose Guy C. Newgent for mayor, Pete Harms and Harry Beier for councilmen, with the names of Don J. Burns, W. C. Heise and Arno V. Myers on the ballot, three to be elected. The group may also propose a write-in candidate for city recorder to oppose Robert Pattison.

miscellaneous collections of instruments.

Under the plan the scrap donations will probably be piled in front of the theaters to show what the boys and girls are able to bring out in the scrap line.

Demographic Candidate for County Judge
Election November 3, 1942
Administer the office with fairness and impartiality.
(Paid Adv.)

To the Voters of Marion County

I have known JUDGE L. H. McMAHAN for quite a good many years, and have been familiar with his judicial record. I am not a lawyer and do not speak from that standpoint, but I am greatly interested in the welfare of young offenders, especially those in trouble for the first time. JUDGE McMAHAN has an outstanding record for his dealing with such cases, and the number of those who have been paroled by him and have later violated his confidence is so few as to be negligible.

As a "friend of the under-dog," JUDGE McMAHAN has proved himself a greatly needed type of official, and, as I myself try to be also a friend of the underprivileged, I am glad to support him for re-election.

Signed (REV.) E. S. HAMMOND
