Will Attend Meeting in Portland

Five members of the Salem Young Business and Professional Women's club of the YWCA will leave today, to attend the annual weekend conference of business and industrial girls from Oregon and Washington, to be held today and Sunday at the Portland YWCA.

The theme of the conference is "Victory Workshops in a Democracy at War". Tonight, the theme of the banquet, "Victory Headlines", will be emphacized in skits given by girls attending the conference. Later a recreational program will be given. Following Sunday morning worship service in the chapel of the YMCA, four workshop groups will be held. The first is on the subject of occupational trends, and will be led by Mrs. Donald Fields, US employment service staff member.

The second will be conducted by Mrs. Frank Cole, president of the board of the YWCA in Portland. Her resource will be Mrs. Lamar Tooze, of the Oregon state consumer office of the OPA. The third group will be on club programs, led by Mrs. Gertrude Eakin, general secretary of the Portland YWCA and Mrs. Verne Dusenberry of the League of Women Voters. The fourth will be on a world community, a discussion led by Mr. Clare Johnson, executive staff of the Portland YMCA, and Dr. Richard Steiner, pastor of the Unitarian church in Portland, chairman of the USO council and the northwest institute of international relations. A business session at noon, will close the conference.

Attending from Salem will be Mrs. Esther Little, general secretary of the Salem YWCA, Miss Melba Conrad, president of the club, Miss Elda Ridgeway, Miss Vera Wood, Miss Ellen Van Aresdale and Miss Lillian McCall.
