NEW YORK, Nov. 12-(AP)-It begins to look like Branch Rickey had better start sending out some "Aw, come on fellows; I was only kidding" messages to the Brooklyn Dodgers if he hopes to have a quorum of athletes on hand for the 1943 season.

Mr. Rickey is known to prefer lithe, rapid gents still on the light side of 30 for his ball clubs; and he has hinted that when he gets around to it there'll be some changes made in the Brooklyn roster. He may sign players for a dime, but he doesn't want them to play on it and there are some Dodgers who are close to that point now. Down to two nickels, anyway.

The Brooklyn players whose jobs are in danger have only to look up their birth records and
