Beavers Start Workouts for 'Civil War'

'Successful Season' Awaits Winner of Orange-Duck Battle

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., Nov. 17-With the "big game" of the year coming up this weekend, the Beavers began intensive drill immediately upon arrival in Corvallis from Palo Alto Tuesday. The annual Oregon State-Oregon battle, traditionally booked as the "civil war" game, looms this year as more important than usual, both aggregations having had rather disastrous seasons to date. Rough Game Forecast

The Beavers, with wins over California, Idaho and Montana and losses to UCLA, Washington State, Washington and Stanford in conference competition thus far, are quite naturally sharpening their fangs for the Ducks, also oft-defeated. The contest promises to be rough and bitterly-contested, with each gunning for the prime mark of a "successful season," a win over the other.

Oregon State's surprising 49-to-13 defeat at the hands of Stanford was also a costly one. Ace fullbacks Joe Day and Choc Shelton suffered reoccurrence of old leg injuries and may not be able to perform against the Ducks. George Bain, Frank Parker and Orville
