Visitors Arrive To Spend Yule Vacations

SILVERTON — Mrs. B. Storlie has gone to Portland to take care of her great grandchildren, while her granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Yokum is employed. Mrs. Storlie, who has made Silverton her home for 50 years, has been living on Park street since she moved from her Evens Valley home, following the death of Mr. Storlie.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams of Redmond are at Silverton for the holidays.

N. M. Angele is employed in the Vancouver shipyards. He plans to spend the days off at his home here but will remain there for the working days.

Mrs. E. J. Boesch is at the local hospital recovering from a major operation to which she submitted some days ago.

Floyd Ellertson is at his home for the Christmas holidays after completing his work for his degree in science at college. Ellertson is in the reserve corps and is expecting his call to the army. Should his call not come before the first of the year, he will return to school for further study.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Williams and Mrs. Williams' brother, Einar Olson of Hubbard were weekend visitors at Silverton. Olson returned this autumn from a summer in Alaska where he has been employed for several years during summer months. He is spending the holidays with his brother-in-law and sister at Hubbard and plans to return to Alaska in early January. Both the Williamses and Olson formerly made this their home.

Miss Rachel Steward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Steward, has accepted a position with the Washington Children's Home-finding society at Seattle. Miss Steward just completed a year of studying welfare conditions in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Ed Morrison continues about the same at the local hospital. Mrs. Morrison has been ill and confined to the hospital for the last few weeks.

Morrison Feted By Odd Fellows

SCIO — Honoring N. I. Morrison, active old-time member of the Scio Odd Fellows, on his 80th birthday anniversary, members and several visitors from Lebanon lodge gathered at a regular meeting here Saturday night.

Following the business session at which N. B. Moses presided as noble grand, the remaining time was given over to the "good of the order" program, in which a number of visitors spoke.

Principal address was delivered by Joe Lennox of Lebanon, who presented gifts to Morrison. The lodge presented a pipe and tobacco, while the Lebanon lodge's contribution was a birthday cake.

In his presentation talk, Lennox recounted lodge matters in which Morrison had participated. Early-day history of the Scio lodge was narrated by Tom Small, member of the local unit for the last 46 years. Small is to be feted by the lodge on his 80th birthday next June.

Refreshments followed by a social hour at cards completed the evening.

Windsors Arrive for Unexpected Visit

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor arrived at Miami, Fla., from Nassau on an unannounced visit to the United States. Capt. E. W. Melchen of the Miami police (right), who has helped guard them on other occasions when they came to this country, hands them their passports.—Associated Press Telegram.

Prichard Tracks Cats, Coyotes; Captures 36

SCIO — An unusually large coyote carcass was exhibited in Scio a few days ago by Guy Prichard, pioneer farmer and dairyman a few miles northeast of Scio.

Prichard succeeded Williams as federal trapper in this part of Linn county late last August and has added many predatory wild animal pelts to his collection of official trophies.

He has bagged 36 animals in less than four months, including coyotes and bobcats which prey on sheep and poultry to an extent that runs into thousands of dollars each year according to official records.

In the Cascadia area near the South Santiam river a black bear was shot after springing the trap. Mr. and Mrs. Prichard have been connected officially with the business administration of their school district, 84, and were instrumental in securing a bond issue a year ago which provided funds for construction of a modern new school building. The new structure will be ready for occupancy for the 1943-44 academic year.
