Frank Lovell,
90, Succumbs
To Illness
 Frank K. Lovell, 90, well-known and oldest state employe in both age and length of service, died at Salem General hospital Tuesday, following an illness of several weeks.

He was a native of Boston, son of Capt. J. G. Lovell, a noted shipbuilder and owner of a large wharf in Boston harbor. His mother's family came to America in 1824 and his father's in 1830.
 Lovell was born in 1852 and at the age of 20 years, came to Oregon via the isthmus, to join his brother, Col. S. S. Lovell, a ranch owner in Nehalem valley. After three years there, he located at Westport, where he taught school and later was engaged in the lumber business. He also served as purser on a Columbia river boat.

Upon coming to Salem, Lovell was employed in the state department under Secretary of State George W. McBride. He was also state tax commissioner for part of one term and worked in the office of the state insurance commissioner for a few months. His services for the state covered a period of 50 years.

Lovell was employed in the state department under eight successive state officers other than Mc-Bride. When he came to Salem, there were only four employes in the state department; there are now over a hundred.

Friends of Lovell said he was a close personal friend of Sylvester Penneyer, early Oregon governor. His wife, who died in 1915, was Lillian Statesman of Salem. Lovell was a lifelong member of the republican party.

Services will be announced later by Clough-Barrick company.

Liquor Sales
Up by 20
Per Cent
 Gross liquor sales in Oregon by volume during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1942, increased approximately 20 per cent over the previous 12 months while dollar sales increased 34 per cent, the state liquor control commission reported to the legislature Tuesday.

Net profits of the commission for the last fiscal year totaled $5,143,174.53 as compared to $3,- 902,842.58 the previous 12 months.
 Gross sales for the year ended June 30, 1942, aggregated $13,- 924,844.69, as against $10,329,- 657.10 the previous year. The net profit was 30.53 per cent based on gross sales.

The law enforcement division reported 39,339 investigations.
 The increase in liquor sales was attributed to improved business conditions due to war industries.
 No recommendations were contained in the annual report.

The law provides that all net profits of the liquor control commission, over and above working capital, shall be transferred to the public assistance fund.

Members of the commission are J. N. Chambers, Salem; Lloyd T.
 Wentworth, Portland, and E. R.
 Fatland, Condon.
