

Miss Thomas Lt. Reed Married

At a service read by Rev. J. Kenneth Wishart at 8 o'clock in the First Evangelical church, Miss Ruthyn Thomas became the bride of Lt. Henry J. Reed. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Thomas and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Reed of Miami Beach, Fla.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white wool suit and pink accessories and a corsage of orchids and pink sweet peas.

Miss Irene Witchman, attired in blue and wearing brown accessories, was maid of honor. Her corsage was gardenias.

Lt. J. Scott attended the groom as best man. Mrs. Thomas wore an all black costume and a corsage of gardenias and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Cox wore gray, with a corsage of lavender sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Statesman street. Mrs. Henry Unruh cut the cake and Miss Lillian Hoffman and Miss Ernestine Loveland assisted in serving.

Mrs. Reed attended Sacred Heart academy and graduated from Salem high school. She is a well known musician in Salem, having played in the first violin section of the Salem Philharmonic orchestra for 10 years. For the past two years she has been assistant secretary to secretary of State Earl Snell and is serving as secretary to Senator H. H. Chingren during legislative session.

Lt. Reed attended schools in Miami and graduated from a Georgia military academy before going into the army. He is now stationed at Camp Adair.

Suits With Simple, Direct Lines Tops for 1943

Left, plaid jacket, plain skirt; center, man-tailored suit of worsted fabric; right, off-duty suit with fitted jacket.

Today the far-sighted thing to do about a spring wardrobe is also the patriotic thing, so you'll be wise to choose a suit that is dedicated to all occasions. Suits with simple, straight lines have a quick change personality that responds to the clever use of accessories, and provides the perfect foil for beguiling feminine accents, whether it be a tailored bow or fluffy-ruffled jabot. The casual suit for 1943 consists of a plaid jacket and plain skirt, as shown in the photograph at the left above. The brief jacket and slim skirt adds inches to your height and emphasizes the slimmest of your figure. The man-tailored suit of worsted fabric, center, has a brief jacket with patch pockets and a two-button front closing. The skirt has an inverted box pleat that is released high enough on the skirt to provide plenty of freedom for walking. The third suit is casual enough for daytime, yet pleasantly feminine for off-duty hours. It has dressmaker touches. The jacket is fitted with a four-button closing and slit pockets. The blouse worn with it has a stiff tailored bow to set off the dark color of the suit material.

Today's Menu

This is the day of the week when a meat substitute becomes main dish for dinner.

Cabbage relish salad
Vegetable Souffle with creamed mushrooms
Bran muffins
Raisin pie

VEGETABLE SOUFFLE

(Idea for Leftovers)

2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1/2 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped onions
1/2 cup water
1 cup cooked corn
1/2 cup cooked carrots or green beans

1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 cup bread cubes (leftovers)
1/2 cup milk
2 tablespoons butter, melted
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup grated cheese
2 egg whites, beaten

Simmer, covered, for 10 minutes—pepper, celery and onions. Add to water, vegetables, bread and milk. Let stand 5 minutes. Add rest of ingredients and bake 50 minutes in un buttered baking dish, set in pan of hot water. Moderate oven.

Workers Held Up
MIDDLE GROVE—The local Sunday school held its regular session Sunday morning though attendance was small. With a few exceptions, most of the people in the community who worked elsewhere, were unable to reach their work for several days and neighbors who did get out secured and delivered mail for each other until the side roads were opened.
