Grand Ball Planned For Salem Armory Monday Night

Plans for the grand ball to be held at the Salem Armory on the night of Washington's birthday are progressing, and truckloads of mulberry velour and silver material are being brought into town, to decorate the room. The ball is being given to raise money for athletic equipment for Camp Adair and is being sponsored by a group of civic minded Salem men, and members of the legislature.

For interest of the hundreds of prospective onlookers who do not care to dance, the committee has arranged a floor show which will include entertainers from Camp Adair and James Nolan, Irish tenor from KGW. A military orchestra will furnish music for dancing. The ball will be formal, but many couples have indicated their intention to attend in informal or semi-formal dress, the committee chairman stated. Invitations may be procured from members of the legislature.

The auxiliary to the American Legion will serve refreshments during the dance.
