Red Cross Aid Links Homes And Service

The American Red Cross gives the answer to the question, "How can our soldiers defend your home, if they are worried about their own?" John G. Terry, a Red Cross field director stationed at Camp Adair, told the Salem Lions club Thursday noon.

"The Red Cross is a link between the folks back home and the man in service, regardless of whether he is in a foxhole at Buna, in a fog in London, trying to thaw out in Iceland or just training at Camp Adair," Terry said. The speaker told of an Adair soldier who asked him to try to help out his expectant wife in

New Hampshire, because her pay allotment had not been received. Through the local Red Cross chapter in her community, she was given the care and aid she required and a telegram came back a few days ago through Red Cross channels advising the soldier that he was the father of a fine baby boy. Even a layette had been provided for the baby.

"Fighting to preserve faith in the individual, in the home and in the nation makes soldiers and all of us believe in democracy," said Terry. "The Red Cross is democracy in action."

Night Fire's Damage Here Said $6000

Estimated damage of $6000 resulted from fire which broke out Wednesday night in the dental and optical offices of Dr. Harry Semler in the Adolph building at State and Commercial streets. The building is owned by Mrs. George E. Waters and the Joseph Adolph estate, and most of the loss is covered by insurance.

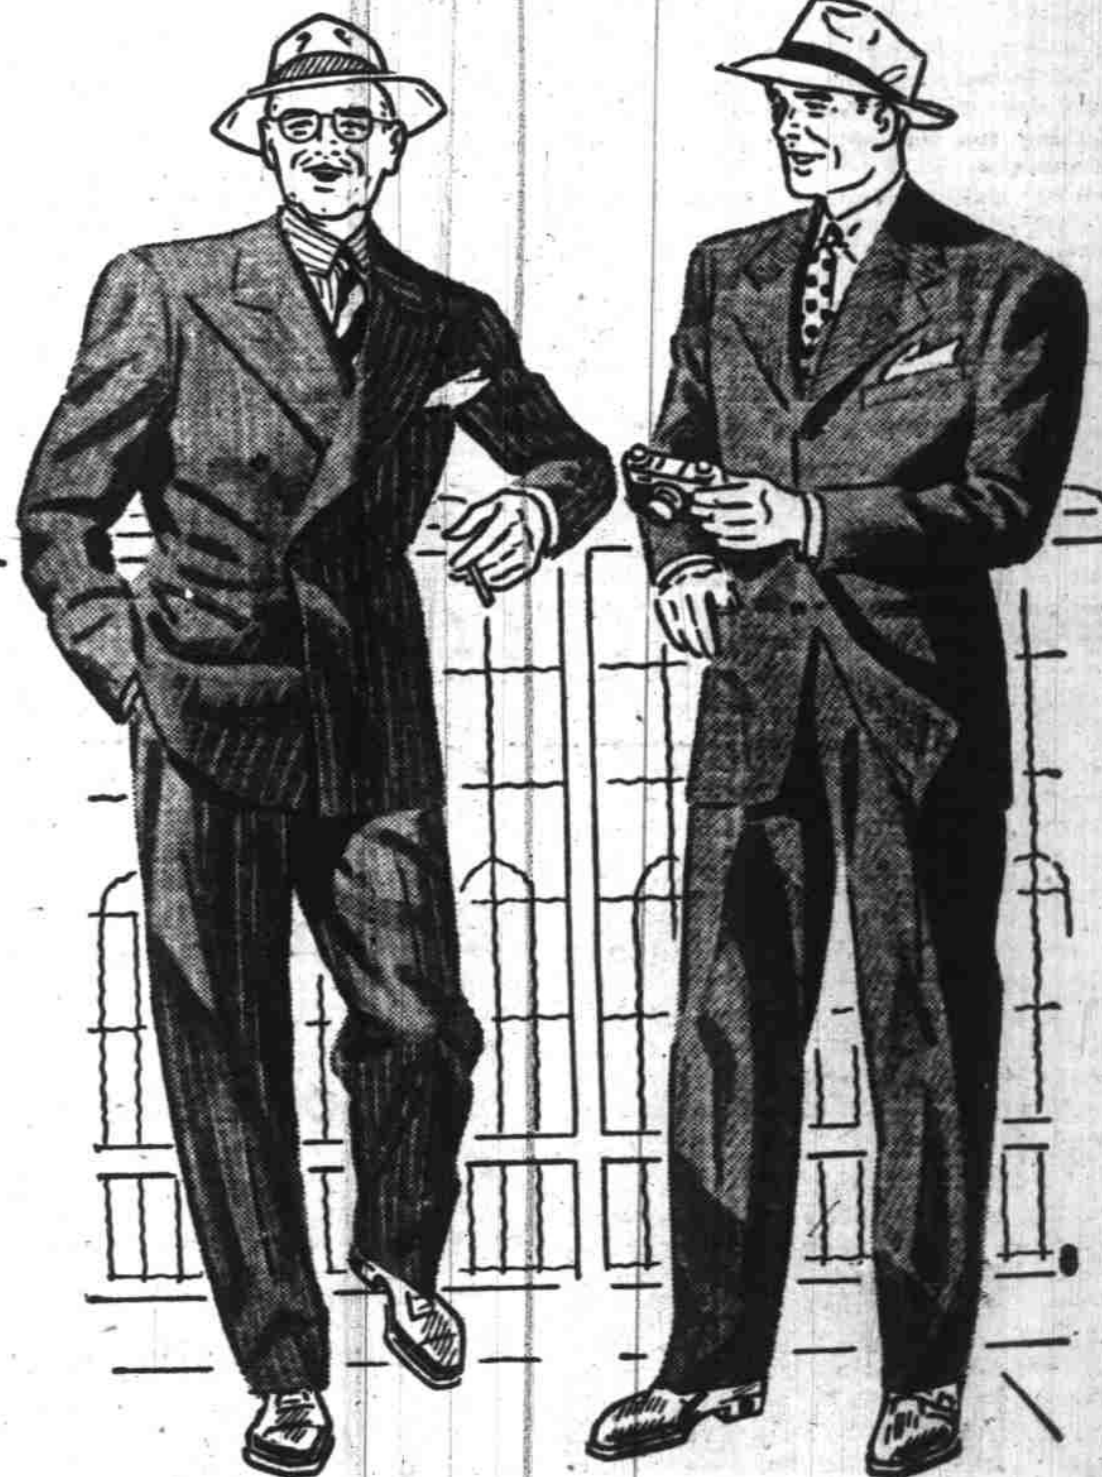

Electric wiring was said the possible cause of the fire which started under the roof and was reported by firemen to have been hard to control. Heavy water damage and serious damage to precision instruments in the optical department and the air conditioning equipment was reported in the Semler offices, which will open Monday for special emergency work only, according to Dr. Joseph T. Burton, manager. Regular business would not reopen for ten days, it was believed.

Other losses in the building were from smoke, which damaged the insurance and real estate offices of Rostein and Adolph on the second floor and caused small damage in Karl's shoe store on the first floor. Slight water damage was caused to Bill's barber shop, the J. C. Formick insurance office, the Martin shoe store, and the United Shirt shop. All these tenants were operating as usual Thursday, however. The fire broke out about 12:30 a.m. Thursday and was under control by 2 a.m.
