

Spellman Sees High Officials

LONDON, March 25—(AP)—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York lunched at No. 10 Downing street Wednesday with Prime Minister and Mrs. Churchill, their daughter Mary and information Minister Brendan Bracken, and then spent the afternoon receiving guests and touring London. There was no disclosure of what was discussed at the official residence of the prime minister. Postponing his tour of American army camps in England, the archbishop visited Adm. Harold R. Stark, commander of American naval forces in European waters, the tenor John McCormack and Dr. Daniel Poling of Philadelphia, with whom he discussed the mutual aims of protestant and catholic army chaplains. A dispatch from Belfast said Archbishop Spellman on his visit to Ireland next week would stop first at Londonderry, northern Ireland, then proceed to Dublin to be received by Prime Minister Eamon De Valera.

Examinations for Army, Navy Training Slated Here April 2

Qualifying examinations for the army specialized training program and the navy college training program will be given under the general supervision of Principal Fred D. Wolf at Salem senior high school April 2. This is the only test of its kind to be given in the next six months. Students desiring to take these tests leading to college work at institutions under contract to the army and navy may make application through the school office. Successful candidates will be enlisted or inducted into the army or navy and sent to college at the expense of the respective service. Those chosen for the army program must undergo further screening during 13 weeks of basic military training before they are finally qualified for college attendance. Students entering the navy program, after selection by the office of naval officer procurement, will be detailed directly to college. While in college they will be in uniform with pay on active duty under military discipline. Although this test will not be considered an enlistment in either branch of the service, the student must make known his preference for duty. The same test will be given both the army or the navy applicants. Army qualifications as stated on the application blanks include: High school and preparatory school graduates who will have attained 17th and not 22nd birthdays by July 1, 1943, regardless of whether they are presently attending college. High school and preparatory school seniors who will be graduated by July 1, 1943, in the same age group. Students in the same age group who do not hold certificates of graduation from a secondary school but who are now continu-

Heating Company's Rates Probed in Klamath Plaintiff

Public Utilities Commissioner Ormond R. Bean said Thursday he had ordered an investigation started immediately to determine whether the Klamath Heating company's rates are sufficient to enable it to pay for its connections with the Klamath Falls sewer system. The commissioner ordered the investigation after receiving a complaint from James H. Carnahan, Klamath Falls city attorney, charging that the company is maintaining a nuisance by disposing of sawdust, soot and acid in the sewer system, and not paying for the connections with the system. Carnahan said the city is considering an ordinance charging a $7.50 fee for each connection but that the company contends that its rates are not high enough to pay the fee. Carnahan asked that Bean hold a hearing to investigate the rates. Bean's investigation will determine whether a hearing should be held. Carnahan said that the heating company's waste, particularly the acid, causes corrosion, and indicated that the purpose of the fee is to repair the damage.

Persons, Nations Seen as Subject To Ordered Forces

Persons and nations can not escape the ordered forces that regulate all matter, from the smallest atom to the sun and the stars, Herman Clark, associate professor of physical science at Willamette university, told the Salem Lions club Thursday in a talk on "The Cosmic Basis for Democracy."

solar systems all move independently yet exert forces one upon another that affect their ordered paths, the professor explained. Persons and nations are likewise affected, to the extent that no one person or no one nation can set itself up as a "hitching post" and tie up or entirely control all others in its sphere of life, he declared. The person or the nation seeking to establish itself "is going to get hurt, and others are going to get hurt in the readjustment," Prof. Clark said. "So it is
