Where They Are—What They Are Doing

Ronald A. Harlan, son of Ralph A. Harlan, was inducted into the army infantry on Friday, Saturday Ralph Harlan entered the navy. The father was a concrete contractor and builder until called. He was working on a FHA project at Bonneville.

Mrs. A. L. Lindbeck received a telephone call Friday from her son, Lt. John Lindbeck, US navy, who had returned to a North Pacific port after six months of sea duty. His wife, whom he married just four days before going out to sea and who has remained on this coast, is with him for his stay ashore.

George Rossman, stationed in a navy hospital near Los Angeles, visited his parents, Judge and Mrs. George Rossman last week.

Lt. Charles Mills has returned to an army camp near Watsonville, Calif., where he is serving as an instructor, following a visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Mills, 1474 Court street.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Carver, 725 Judson street, Salem, expect their son, Pvt. Eugene Sarver of the US marine corps, to arrive home on sick leave today from the Solomon Islands, where he sustained a severe thigh wound by Japanese shrapnel last October. Pvt. Carver has been in hospitals in the south Pacific region and at San Diego, Calif., since his injury. Pvt. Carver, who will be 19 on April 7, told his father by long distance telephone last week from San Diego that the Red Cross and blood plasma were responsible for his narrow escape from death. Blood flowed freely from the 42-stitch injury until he received medical attention. The Marion county chapter of the Red Cross informed his parents of his arrival on the North American continent and of his plans to return home.

The young marine, who enlisted on December 8, 1941, has been placed on inactive duty for 18 months.

'Chute Rigger

Petty Officer Jimmy Arnold (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Arnold, has changed his duties from aviation machinist's mate to parachute rigger second class, according to a letter received by his parents. He was present at the bombing of Pearl Harbor and is now stationed at a Pacific island base. He has been in the naval air corps for the past three years.

Jesse Lee "Bud" Gilmore, Grants Pass, who graduated from Willamette university in 1941, has been stationed in Warrenton, Va., with the US signal corps. Gilmore, who held the northwest conference tennis singles championship for four consecutive years while at Willamette, is now a corporal.

Marion Jean Forrest, son of Mrs. Ethel Forrest, 75 Lansing avenue, Salem, has been promoted to signalman third class in the US naval reserve.

Alan B. Smith, who enlisted in the army enlisted reserve corps last July and was left on inactive status until he graduated from Oberlin college, Oberlin, Ohio, reported for active duty at Fort Lewis, Wash., last Wednesday. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith of route seven, Salem, was a member of the football and boxing teams at Salem high school and took an active part in debates here. He majored in political science at Oberlin.

George F. Gutekunst, jr., a member of the merchant marine, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gutekunst of 1353 Cheweketa street, while on furlough. Gutekunst, a Willamette graduate in the class of '41, has been sailing on troop and cargo vessels in the south Pacific war zone and along the Atlantic seaboard since January 23, 1942.

Instructor

SMITHFIELD—John E. McCrow (above) writes his aunt, Mrs. Milton Barth, that he has been appointed an instructor at the naval aviation machinists' mate school at Norman, Okla. His appointment followed graduation from the training school as an honor student. During his study he received instruction in all phases of aviation machinery and made the rating of third class petty officer. McCrow spent his childhood in the Smithfield area, although his parents now reside at Tillamook.

Sgt. George Rasmussen, son of Mrs. Mary Rasmussen, expects to return from the Pacific war area, and spend a short furlough with his mother soon when he completes his four-year term with the marine air force. Sgt. Rasmussen enlisted while still a Salem high school student. His brother, Merle Rasmussen, is stationed at San Francisco, Calif., as a naval gunner. He was employed by the Oregon Pulp and Paper company before his enlistment.

Sgt. Harvey Kuck, who is stationed at Santa Ana, Calif., with the air force, made a recent visit to his sister, Mrs. Gilbert Downing, 2190 South Church street, Salem.

Lloyd Taylor, who has been working on construction at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, is visiting at the home of Roy Downing, 975 Hood.

Ernest LeRoy Gray, jr., 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Gray, route three, box 694, Salem, will be assigned to active duty on a naval aircraft carrier or at an air base soon. Gray just graduated from an aviation course at Navy Pier, Chicago, Ill.

Pfc. George H. Kellogg, stationed at Camp Santa Anita, Arcadia, Calif., has been promoted to the grade of corporal. His closest relatives are Frank R. and Allis H. Kellogg, Salem route six, box 566.

Pfc. John Z. Zumstein of Woodburn has completed an intensive course in aviation mechanics at the army air base near Lincoln, Nebr. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zumstein, 910 Young street, Woodburn.

Pvt. Benjamin Franklin Evans, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans, 2025 Market street, Salem, has begun a five month army air force course at Henderson State Teachers' college, Arkadelphia, Ark. When he completes this training, Pvt. Evans will be classified as a pilot, bombardier or navigator and go to another school for further instruction.

Cpl. Ambrose W. Schoecher of Camp Hathaway, Vancouver, Wash., visited last Sunday at the home of his father, brothers and sisters at Mt. Angel.

Pvt. Richard P. Frey of Camp Carson, Colo., left Mt. Angel Wednesday after spending a 12-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Frey.

William Bowes, a member of the army enlisted reserve while at Willamette university, left ten days ago for the induction center at Fort Lewis and writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bowes, that he will be transferred soon to Camp Hale, Colo., where he will be a ski trooper. He was a prominent skier in the Pacific northwest before entering the army.

Pfc. George A. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams of route three, Silverton, is spending a 15-day furlough with his family before reporting back to Camp Butner, N.C. He was inducted into the army in the medical corps in August, 1942. Williams recently was commended by his regimental commander, Col. M. E. Olmstead, who said, "You have shown a spirit of cheerfulness in coping with any task assigned to you as well as the admirable trait of completing it in the most perfect way known to you."

AUMSVILLE—Herman Branch of Camp Farragut, Idaho, taking naval training, has returned to the camp after spending a ten-day leave at the home of his mother, Mrs. Dorothy Branch.

William A. Howard, jr., is taking naval training at Chapman college in Los Angeles, Calif.

A letter received from E. C. Ogle by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ogle, states that he is in service somewhere in the South Pacific and that he has been in contact with Clarence Loci, also of Aumsville. Loci is a naval gunner. He stated that along with fighting the enemy, they are having battles with clouds of mosquitoes. The two report deep tans until their skin resembles negro's.

ABIQUA—Albert Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Howell, now is training in bomber combat duty at Walla Walla, Wash.

SILVERTON—Mr. and Mrs. John Zahler of Silverton this week welcomed as good news word from Washington, D.C., that their son, Field Musician, First Class Melvin Zahler of the US marines was well and alive, although a prisoner of the Japanese.

This is the first word the family has had from their son since the Philippines and Wake Island battles.

Three Silverton men also in this area at that time have not yet been heard from. These are Sheldon Cunningham, Marion Hobbitt and Roger Baker.

MONMOUTH—Four men students of Oregon College of Education last week received their call to the armed forces, and will be inducted within the next ten days. Charles Wilbur of Portland and Charles Holt of Dallas will go into the army air corps. Charles Coffman, Kings Valley, and Leonard Hyman, Los Angeles, will enter the navy. Hyman, a transfer from Oregon State last winter, was an outstanding member of the OCE basketball team this season.

Mrs. O. A. Wolverton and Mr. and Mrs. H. Hagmeier have had recent V-mail letters from Capt. Donald H. Searing, who is serving with the medical corps in the South Pacific. Dr. Searing formerly was engaged in private practice here for five years, and served as school doctor for OCE. His wife and daughter are living in Washington.

LAKE LABISH—Jack Steiger, son of J. Walter Steiger, is at San Jose, Calif., completing training in the signal corps.

AUBURN—Mrs. Glenn J. Laverty has received a telegram from her husband saying that he has returned to San Francisco from a convoy trip which took him to Australia and other war zones. He is a gunner in the US navy.

BRUSH CREEK—That George Glazier, jr., a native of this district has been brought home from England in a serious condition was learned by former friends here Thursday when Mrs. Ida Keester Madson called on Mrs. M. J. Madson.

Young Glazier is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Glazier, now of Oak Grove but former residents of Paradise Road. Mrs. Glazier was the former Miss Made Randolph, who spent her youth here. Glazier enlisted in the army shortly after war broke out and was in England with a chemical division. He was in a bombing raid and now is suffering from shell shock and gas from chemical fumes at the time of the raid. Shortly after the first of this year he was brought back to New York City where he was confined to a hospital for six weeks. He was met there by his parents. When able to be moved again, he was taken to a hospital at Roseburg, where he now is.

JEFFERSON—Francis Phelps, aviation metalsmith, who enjoyed a 15-day furlough at his home here, left Thursday for his base at Norman, Okla. His mother, Mrs. Eari Phelps, accompanied him to Portland. Phelps has been in the service since February, 1942. He graduated from Jefferson high school, and attended Oregon State college two years, also attended the sheet metal school in Salem before leaving here. He graduated from the naval training school at Norman, Okla., last November. He is instructor of a class of WAVES at Norman. Tuesday night, Mrs.

Guy Roland, Phelps' aunt, entertained at a family dinner for him. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ammon, Mr. and Mrs. Cleave Hampton, Gerald Phelps of Portland and Mrs. Earl Phelps.

INDEPENDENCE—Ralph Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hill, who left last week for duty with the navy, is stationed at Farragut, Idaho.

JEFFERSON—Tommy Gee, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gee of Farragut, Idaho, who enjoyed an eight-day leave from navy duty, left for Idaho Thursday.

SCIO—Harry Ziegler, recently discharged from the army because of disability, was a guest of Scio relatives and friends Wednesday. He is again employed at the US veterans hospital in Portland. Donald Conser is recovering at home here from an injured leg sustained while in the coast guard a short time ago. He plans to return to his base as soon as able. Eugene Pepper, a son of Mrs. Minnie Pepper, recently was called to the colors.

LYONS—Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Surry have received word from their son, Bill, that he is in the medical division of the air corps, and is stationed at Keovns, Utah. Mr. and Mrs. George Berry received word from their son, Delbert, that he is in the infantry stationed at Camp Roberts, Calif.

DALLAS—Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Bennett has received word that their son, Cpl. Keith L. Bennett, is a prisoner of war. The message was from marine headquarters and stated that Keith was alive and well. It also gave an address for correspondence.

He had been at Cavite, Manila, Corregidor or Bataan. Cpl. Bennett previously had been reported missing and no word had been received as to his whereabouts for over a year.

Jack Boydston, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Boydston, is now in training at Santa Ana, Calif., as an army air cadet. He attended Oregon State college until called for service.

James Boydston, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Boydston, Portland, reported at Fort Lewis for the army. He has been attending Oregon State college in engineering. He graduated from Dallas high school in 1941.

Donald Pinkerton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pinkerton, Portland, has reported at Farragut, Idaho, for naval training. Donald was a 1942 Dallas high school graduate and has been attending Oregon State. He and James Boydston visited their many friends in Dallas before leaving for the service.

MILL CITY—Pvt. Edward Bowe visited his sister, Mrs. Eugene Gregory, here last week. He was accompanied by a buddy from Fort Lewis and Mrs. Gregory's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bowe, and Doris Ring of Portland.

Merchant Marine Tells Rotarians Of Sea Experiences

WOODBURN—The regular Rotary club meeting was held Thursday noon at Chet's Cafe, with Robert Hokenbec of the United States merchant marine as the guest speaker. Hokenbec told of his many experiences with the merchant marine in all parts of the world.

Straustraufs Buy Home on North Lane

SWEGLE—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Straustrauf of Salem have purchased a small home on North Lane, just off Garden road. They are remodeling the house and building on more rooms. They have a daughter, Elaine, who will be a Swegle student next year. Their son, Vernon, has recently entered the army.

Mrs. George Brown has had as her guest the past week her daughter Wilma and small granddaughter. They are now living in Portland.

Several in the community have been ill with a new epidemic of flu this past week. Mrs. Cecil Frame and daughter Marilyn were quite ill for a few days.
