

Workshop Beckons . . .

Five members of the Salem WYCA will leave Tuesday morning for a northwest regional work shop of YWCA volunteers and staff from Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho and Nevada. This work shop is a study conference taking the place of the regular biennial national convention which in normal times would have been held this year.

This work shop which is scheduled in Portland from March 30 to April 2 at the YWCA will have five of the finest of national leadership as discussion leaders, Margaret Logan Clark of the department of study; Lillian Sharpley, national business and professional executive; Helen Flack, advisory secretary for the western region; and Mrs. Bartlett Heard, board chairman for the western region.

Three of the major discussions will be on "How Shall We Work With the Teen Age Group?" "How Shall We Approach the Task of the Total Association?" and "How Shall We Carry Our Job With Women Workers?"

There will be twenty-three other YWCA work shop groups throughout the United States this spring at advantageous points. The other two nearest the northwest are at Salt Lake City, Utah and San Francisco.

Those attending from Salem are Mrs. Guy Hickok, president of the Salem board of directors, Mrs. Karl Becke, member of the board, the nominating committee and chairman of the business and industrial committee, Mrs. B. F. Williams, board member and member of the finance and membership committees and Mrs. O. K. DeWitt, retired board member on the nominating and personnel committees and Mrs. Esther W. Little, general secretary.

Lieutenant and Mrs. O. L. Paulsen cut their wedding cake at the reception which followed their wedding on March 20. The groom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. William Paulsen of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and is stationed at Camp Adair. Mrs. Paulsen, who was Miss Dorothy Krehbiel before her marriage, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Krehbiel. (Jessen-Miller)

They Shall Have Music . . .

Local music organizations will join the National and International music week committee in observing National Music Week, beginning as usual, the first Sunday in May. Mrs. Walter Denton of Salem will again head the local committee in planning and producing the week's musical events.

"American and World Unity Through Music" has been adopted as this year's slogan and 3000 cities and communities throughout the country are expected to participate.

Salem's celebration of the event is expected to be wholehearted, with other than musical organizations taking part. Small programs of local interest are being planned during the entire week, recitals will be given, with their origin in Salem. Local talent will be featured.

Local organizations which will participate are the Junior Federated Music clubs, Music Teachers' association, patriotic orders, lodges, churches, women's clubs and schools.

Several nationwide radio programs are being planned: the Festival of the Air, under the sponsorship of the National Federation of Music clubs, will be conducted over four major networks and the National Folk Festival in Philadelphia stressing the American folk song and dance.

Another nationwide activity during this, the 20th annual observance of Music week, is a campaign to collect phonograph records for USO clubs and service men's recreation rooms.

Among the organizations on the National Music week committee whose state and local affiliates will participate in the observance, in addition to those mentioned, are the Music Teachers National association, Music Educators National conference, Music War Council of America, General Federation of Women's clubs, Daughters of the American Revolution, Federal Council of Churches, Kiwanis International, National Recreation association, and YM and YWCA's.

In many cities a special effort will be made to promote the use of music in industry as a means of relieving strain and facilitating production. Where feasible, demonstrations will be held during working hours, and elsewhere during rest periods. In communities near army camps and naval stations concerts will be given for the servicemen, as well as opportunities for those with musical talent to appear on public programs.

April Showers . . .

Plans for a dance to be given by the Salem Junior Woman's club are being announced. The dance will be held on April 10 in the Mirror room of the Marion hotel from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. The affair will be an informal sports dance and will feature April showers as the theme. The dance committee is headed by Mrs. Verne Robb as chairman and includes Mrs. Roy Mink, Mrs. Joseph Tompkins, Mrs. Ray Roach, Mrs. Clinton Standish, Miss Mabelle Frozer and Mrs. J. Pike. The profits from the dance will go toward the war service fund of the club.

Tickets may be obtained at the door or from Mrs. Ray Roach at 21865, Mrs. J. Tompkins at 4133 or 5263, or Mrs. Clinton Standish, 8407.

Going to Church . . .

Members of Chadwick assembly, Order of the Rainbow for Girls will attend the morning service of the First Presbyterian church today, as their annual official visit to Salem church.

All members, and the advisory council, Mrs. Wayne Henry, Mrs. William Merriott, Mrs. Lester Newman, Mrs. Glenn Paxson, Mrs. J. D. Berwick, Mrs. Edna Rowland, Mr. Albert Gragg, Mr. Mem Pearce and Mr. Roy Remington.

When Rev. Mark Sexon founded the Order of Rainbow for Girls, he asked that members always attend church in a body, on the Sunday nearest the organization's birthday. Rev. W. Irvin Williams will today direct his sermon to the girls.

A Missionary Tea . . .

A missionary tea will be held from 2 until 4 o'clock at the First Christian church on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. O. J. Goulter, a missionary from Hotel, China, will be the speaker.

Mrs. Goulter's husband is now a Japanese prisoner in Shanghai.

Mrs. A. J. Flint is general chairman of the tea committee and hostesses are Mrs. J. C. Perry and Mrs. P. F. Andresen. Mrs. Irene Weller and Mrs. E. J. Reasor will pour.

The program will begin at 2 o'clock and Mrs. Agnes Drummond will sing during the tea hour, a silver offering for missionary work in China will be taken during the afternoon. All interested women are invited to attend the tea.

Mrs. Goulter will give another talk in the evening in the church at a meeting to which the public is invited. Her talk is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

A Romance Revealed . . .

First Lieutenant Robert C. Duffy, ex-University of California basketball star, and Miss Vera Smith, chief stewardess for United Air Lines at Portland, disclosed their engagement to friends here yesterday.

Lieut. Duffy is in an infantry regiment at Camp Adair, and is coach and one of the stellar players on the camp's basketball team. Son of Mr. R. S. Duffy of Richmond, Calif., he was graduated from University of California in 1937, and resided in Berkeley until going into the service.

Miss Smith, who has flown more than a million miles since becoming an air hostess for United in 1938, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted D. Smith of Olympia. She attended public schools in Olympia and received her nurse's training at St. Peter's hospital there.

Originally she was based in San Francisco, flying between there and Vancouver, B.C. In June, 1942, she was named chief stewardess at Portland.

No date has been set for the wedding.

There'll Be Dancing . . .

Activities at Willamette have taken on a social aspect this week, following Freshman Glee. Minds of students have turned to traditional spring activities.

Men of the Junior class selected three candidates this week, from which Walter Pidgeon will choose a queen to rule at the Junior-Senior Prom on April 9.

Pidgeon's selection will be made from three Junior coeds, Mary Jean Huston, Sybil Spears and Barbara Diefendorf. The resulting choice will be made public on the day of the dance.

Music for the formal ball will be provided by John Callas and his nine-piece orchestra of Portland. The affair to which Juniors and seniors are invited will be in the gym.

The Delta Phi sorority is planning a dance for the coming weekend when they open the chapter house on Saturday for an April Fool's party. Bette Burkhart is chairman and Kay Wilson, Louise Wrisley, Sally McClelland, Louise Struts and Carol Young are on the committee.

When the women of Delta Tau Gamma entertain at their spring formal on Friday night, Spring decorations will be used in the Mirror room of the Marion hotel where the Cavalry band will play.

Special guests invited are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keene and Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Magee.

General chairman of the affair is Mary Helen Wilson.

Those serving on the committees are decorations, Mary Lou Moore, chairman, Anna Ruth Leonard, Ina Monroe, June Downey and Elaine Bergquist; refreshments, Hazel Wells, Eloise Ransom, Peggy Van Santen, and Ina Mae Heinz; music and hall arrangements, Mary Margaret Livesay and Doris Lee Anderson.

Don't Look Now..

but . . . with cheese in the rationed list, that much discussed man with a better mousetrap had better show up pretty soon or all the little rodents will be laughing at us.

Lost faith . . . we are going to have to buy a new cereal next time because our favorite morning commentator let us down completely. If his knowledge of vitamins in his cereal product are as sketchy as of Oregon geography, we will be justified in changing our breakfast food. Saturday he said a relative of Chief Joseph would sponsor a ship's launching. The sponsor is "a student at Chemawa, near Portland" he said. At least he didn't say it was near San Francisco.

Little wasters . . . There's going to have to be an educational program to teach our wild friends not to waste food. We watched a squirrel run full length of a cherry limb just outside our window. He clipped the tip of every blossom on the limb, dropping most of the goody from his mouth. The next morning we watched a sparrow do the same thing on another limb.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. David Eyre, Jr. of Portland on Saturday morning. She is the granddaughter of Mr. David Eyre of Salem. The mother is the former Cynthia Liljequist of Portland. This is the Eyre's first child.

Past Regents club of Chemeketa chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will meet on Wednesday for a no-host luncheon at the home of Mrs. Herbert Ostlund, 360 East Lafelle street, at one o'clock. Mrs. James Heltzel will be in charge of the program.

The faculty of Salem high school will entertain with an informal tea at the school Monday honoring Miss Myrtle McClay, and fifteen new instructors on the faculty. Miss McClay, in the registrar's office will leave in the near future.

And to continue . . . with our talk on animals and things, we would like to remind home owners and law enforcement agencies that keeping dogs and cats up during the day and turning them out at night, isn't going to save the victory gardens, spinach and lettuce don't recede into the ground after dark.

We told them so . . . As expected, many people wishing now that they had bought tickets for next winter's Community Concert series. Quite an array of artists, including those to suit diversified tastes.

Hats are hats . . . or are they? We wondered, when some of the seniors left their mortarboards on during the singing of the Star Spangled Banner at Freshman Glee, if education was resting so lightly on their heads that they forgot about uncovering.

And did you notice . . . you oldtimers who attended the Glee, that you knew all the songs they sang before the show began? It only goes to prove that this younger generation don't write songs that endure.

Glee . . . that's a funny word . . .
