

35,000 Trout Planted Locally

When You Have Your Creel Full Come Next Week, Boys, Give Thanks to Game 'Comish'

Anglers who will be reporting limit or near limit catches of rainbow trout caught from such central Willamette valley streams as the Abiqua, Silver Creek, Mill Creek, Rickreall and the Little Luckiamute when Oregon's trout fishing season opens next Saturday, April 17, should attribute at least a part of their success to the Oregon state game commission. The commission has planted a total of 35,000 cutthroat of legal size in these streams in recent weeks. The fish range in size from six to 14 inches and were brought to this area from the commission's hatchery near Bend in 16 tank truckloads aggregating over 3000 pounds actual weight of fish. President James L. Loder of the Salem Hunters and Anglers club and other officers last January submitted as a patriotic gesture a resolution to the game commission asking them to consider plantings of legal size fish in local streams near metropolitan areas so as to make fishing possible for thousands of persons engaged in wartime activities. Since gasoline rationing made impossible long trips it was figured such fishermen would otherwise be denied the sport. The liberal plantings by the commission emphasize the management and distribution program being followed by it, and sportsmen's organizations throughout the state now appreciate that their cooperation in this plan is bringing desired results. Many sportsmen from the Salem club and other such clubs in the area donated their time to assist with the distribution of the fish.

Ex-Holly Hoover Gets Break With Tigers; Club Looks OK

By DILLON GRAHAM
AP Features Sports Editor

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Once upon a time—this isn't a nursery story—there was a big awkward ball player who wanted so much to improve and become a star that he paid other players to pitch and hit to him before and after regular practice.

The big fellow's dreams came true. He became the greatest home run hitter of his day, the most valuable player in the league. His name was Hank Greenberg.

Now, some years later, Detroit has another young, ambitious infielder in Joe Hoover, slated to play shortstop for the Tigers. He comes from Hollywood. In the Coast league Hoover followed Greenberg's practice and hired others to pitch and bat to him. His extra drills paid dividends—they brought him his big league opportunity.

Joe, a medium-sized, black-haired chap, played with Hollywood for five years. He has always been a fair hitter but for awhile was tabbed as an erratic fielder. Last season he seemed to find himself. His fielding was better and he hit .329, with a dozen or so homers.

Hoover is fast—he hit three inside-the-park homers in Hollywood—and he has a big pair of hands and a strong throwing arm. He's an unusual fellow. When he talks about his career he tells you he has much to learn.

"I need lots of work. My timing on ground balls is sometimes bad. I occasionally run past the ball." Then he shakes his head and says: "I can't make errors at Detroit like I did at Hollywood."

Steve O'Neill, up from Beaumont to manage Detroit, says Hoover will do.

"I like the way he does things. He has quite a bit of power at bat. And I'm sure of one thing—Hoover won't light-en up in a pinch. The big league doesn't scare him."

There'll be no other change in Detroit's infield. Rudy York will be at first, Jimmy Bloodworth at second and Pinky Higgins at third.

But O'Neill, trying to build a contender at the Tigers' training camp here in southern Indiana on the banks of the Ohio river, has slated another rookie for outfield duty. He is 22-year-old Dick Wakefield, the phenomenal prospect whom Detroit paid $52,000 to sign two years ago, when he was just a sophomore at the University of Michigan.

Wakefield will play left with Roger Cramer in center and Ned Harris, Rip Radcliff or Don Ross in right.

The plump pilot figures Detroit may have the best pitching staff in the junior circuit. He has just nine pitchers here and only one—Frank Overmier, who won 14 and lost 11 for Beaumont—is a rookie. Steve has three lefties, Overmier, Hal Newhouse and Roy Henshaw. The right-handers are Tommy Bridges, John Gorsica, Hal Manders, Paul Trout, Virgil Trucks and Hal White.

ARTEISA, N.J.—(P)—The fire department rained the home of Dave Bunting. It arrived in time to see Bunting toss 19 blazing ration points out the back door. His roast had burned.

Willamette U's Bearcat ballgamers opened Salem's baseball season and got more than even with the 383rd infantry team from Camp Adair all in the same afternoon yesterday by taking both ends of a twin bill from the soldiers, 12-2 and 5-4, the latter going one extra heat.

Friday at Adair the 383rd scored four runs in the ninth inning to trip the 'Cats 5 to 4, but yesterday it was an altogether different story — particularly in the first game.

Behind 1-0 going into the fourth inning Spec Keene's clan suddenly went score crazy, smacked out seven hits, added two bases on balls and mixed in a couple soldier bobbles—all good for nine runs and the ball game.

Woodburn Bill Hanauka, victim of the soldiers Friday, also got more than even yesterday by getting credit for both wins. The nine-run rally and his six hit elbowing accounted for the first game, a seven inning affair, and then with the score knotted at 4-4 at the end of the seventh inning of the second tilt Hanauka came in just in time for an eighth inning 'Cat run and that victory.

The soldiers had pitching woes all afternoon and called on no less than five servers all told.

Bud Larson and Don Hilton, the Molalla freshmen, were Willamette's 14-inch guns with the willow in both games. Both picked up a pair of hits along with Clint Cameron in the first tilt, and had a perfect 3 for 3 and 2 for 2 respectively, in the second game.

In fact it was strictly the stickwork of this pair which won the second game. With two gone in the eighth Larson slammed a double to right and Hilton sent him scurrying in with a two-baser to left center which won the thing.

The soldiers had touched Ammon Adams for four runs—all one at a time in his seven innings on the hill. Willamette picked up three off Rauback in the third on a walk. Hilton's single and a terrific triple by Wes Saxton. Then Saxton stole home on Rauback's windup for the third run.

Another walk, a hit by Larson and a squeeze by Hilton brought in another in the fourth.

DENTAL PLATES THAT SATISFY PERSONAL NEEDS

LIGHTWEIGHT TRANSPARENT PLATES THAT HARMONIZE WITH INDIVIDUAL FEATURES

DR. PAINLESS PARKER SAYS:

"The dental profession is using a more adaptable and refined material for plate making. The result is found in lifelike appearance of time-tested strength and balance and of unfading natural color."

More faithful reproduction achieved by these plates.

The clumsy, ill-fitting old-fashioned plates were a source of constant discomfort and embarrassment. But with transparent plates you are assured of more natural form, plus balance and wearing efficiency. Dentists will tell you these plates have greater grace and beauty... that they both look and wear well. The carefully blended color matches that of nature.

Crystal-clear palate reflects features of mouth

Additional feature of dentures made with improved material all dentists recommend.

Translucent teeth absorb and reflect light

Recently perfected artificial teeth that have a soft lustre, the varying shades of your own natural teeth. Available for dental plates in the size and shape of your present teeth.
