

New Director of Music At First Church of Nazarene To Lead Easter Choir Sunday

Easter music at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday will be directed by Prof. Ronald J. Lush, who has been engaged as director of all church music.

Directs

PROF. R. J. LUSH

While a student, he was choir director at the Chicago Woodlawn church and later became a professor. He continued to the teaching staff at the Northwest Nazarene college in Nampa, Idaho, where he was granted his AB degree. Advance studies were taken at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago.

Army Band Sets Concert For Sunday

A program combining sacred Easter music with light secular numbers suitable for spring and its own choice of military airs is promised Sunday afternoon when an army band which has earned thanks and praise from Salem in the past several months for its generosity and skill presents a band concert at the state fairgrounds here to which the public is invited.

Vocal soloist for the occasion is Cpl. Macky Swan, particularly known to many Salem churchgoers who have heard his rendition of sacred song before several congregations of the city. Included in his part of the program is to be a rendition of "The Holy City," which he is also to sing for Easter sunrise services.

"Begin the Beguine," not usually a band selection, is presented as a new band arrangement as is also Gershwin's "Song of the Flame." New military themes, composed as tributes to two of this nation's allies, "Red Cavalry March" and "New China March," are included as features of the afternoon of music.

Salem Scouts Plan Spring Programs

Representatives of the 25 Salem Scout troops, Cub packs, and Sea Scout ships met in the chamber of commerce recently to discuss the plans for the spring scouting program in the Cherry city district, and to effect the organization of the Cherry city district committee to have an administration of jurisdiction over the scout units in the district.

District chairman, Lowell Kern; vice-chairman, Ralph Campbell; Carl Aachenbrenner, commissioner; camping and activity chairman, Burr Miller; finance chairman, Floyd Miller; training chairman, Bob Nixon; organization extension chairman, Ralph Johnson; a development chairman, Judge Arthur Hoy; health and safety chairman, Carroll Hayes.

Baptists Set Union Service

First Church Invites Branches to Join Night Worship

Music will be featured at the First Baptist church on Easter service, with the night service to be a joint one at which the congregations of the Baptist church branches, Brush College, Four Corners and Hayesville have been invited.

Singing Sunday morning will be the girls' chorus, presenting "The Ninety and Nine," by Charles F. Lane, and the mixed quartet, whose selection is "The Magdalene" by Warren.

The men's and women's choruses will sing the night selections with Mary Copley, soloist. Their numbers will include: "To Die for Me" by the men; "Man of Sorrows" and "Tis Midnight" by the women; "Jesus Our Lord Is Crucified" and "He Lives Again" by the men; "Christ Arose" by the women and the closing number by the men, "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today."

Baptism will feature the night service. Dr. Irving Fox has selected "Saved by His Resurrection Life" for his morning theme, and "The Necessity of Christ's Resurrection" for the later sermon.

Funeral Planned For Authores

EUGENE, April 23-(AP)-Funeral arrangements were being made here Friday for Sally E. Allen, 64, prominent fiction writer who died Thursday night after an illness of several months.

She was the wife of Eric W. Allen, dean of the University of Oregon school of journalism. Three sons, daughter and a brother also survive.
