

Blossoms at Yard-Goods Counter

By MAXINE BUREN

Speaking of flower gardens, there's one in full bloom in your favorite yard goods department, and if you are one of those lucky women whose mother made you learn to use the sewing machine, you'll bless her especially this Mothers' day.

The yard goods counter is one place where "all wool" is still in the vocabulary, for there are grand woolen fabrics of pre-war quality available—and shhh, the buyer says she's already ordered for next fall, and she'll get all wool, too!

As to prints, they rival previous years in brilliance and beauty. Those figured jerseys, so practical for hard wear come in every shade and design imaginable.

Bordered prints have taken the fancy of home dressmakers who find ample variety from which to choose.

Checks are popular too, especially the taffetas. Look them up, for attractive and practical dresses. Sheer alpaca in plain or figures are another type of material made especially to warm the heart of the home sewing expert.

If you are a bride or contemplate being a bridesmaid just consider the delicate organzas in monochromes or the mixed colors. If you are a little too old for such frivolities, you'll get a thrill anyway at admiring their sheer elegance.

But to more practical materials. There is whipper cloth, uncrushable and easy to work up into skirts or slacks, which comes in innumerable good colors. Coating and suiting is another excellent material of which there is wide variety. Lots of designs and colors are found.

Check over your sewing needs, practice up on a fine seam, and you should have plenty of choice of wardrobe for spring and summer.

Syneta Beetle Emerging Now, Rieder Warns

It is now time to spray for control of the Syneta beetle on cherries, announces Robert E. Rieder, county agricultural agent. Many growers have felt that because of the long rainy period which we have just gone through, that it is too late to apply spray or dust for the control of syneta beetle. However, this is not the case but instead the cold weather has held back the emergence of the syneta beetle from the soil longer than usual and the beetles are just now beginning to do damage to the rapidly developing cherries. Prospects were excellent before the rains for a heavy set of cherries but the rain has caused the spread of brown rot blossom blight in many orchards and growers could profit by applying a combination spray or dust for syneta beetle and brown rot blossom blight control immediately.

The combination spray for the control of brown rot and syneta beetle is composed of the following materials: 3-3-50 bordeaux, to which is added two pounds of lead arsenate for 50 gallons of spray or on a 100 gallon basis, the formula would be 6-6-100 plus four pounds of lead arsenate.

Those who wish to dust should also make the application at once and a dust containing lead arsenate sulphur or arsenate sulphur lime mixture should be used. For the lead arsenate sulphur mixture it should be 30 pounds of lead arsenate and 70 pounds of sulphur in 100 pounds of dust. This dust should be applied at the rate of 40 to 50 pounds per acre for average sized trees. It should be applied early in the morning or at night when there are no strong wind currents. Some of the ready mixed dusts contain about 20 pounds of lead arsenate and the other 80 pounds in the 100 pound mixture would be a combination of lime and sulphur. This dust is not as effective as the straight lead arsenate sulphur dust for checking brown rot but probably is just as effective for the control of the syneta beetle.

It would be too bad if, because of the very favorable bloom in the orchards, growers relaxed their efforts to control brown rot and syneta beetle as this might result in heavy loss from beetle damage and from the spread of brown rot to the fruit.
