that the folks are well I know you'd rather hear about what's happening in athletics than anything else.

As you've probably guessed by the calendar, the major leagues have started to play baseball, and for a while it seemed there was some argument as to whether they were playing baseball or croquet, as the new ball apparently was made of wood. It is a balata ball, and balata comes from trees, which makes it wood, doesn't it? But then, oranges also come from trees, so maybe

Anyway, some of the clubs are using the wooden ball yet and some the old jumpy ball. Your Dodgers are going all right, Joe, for a bunch of old reezers. Personally I liked the Reds, but it develops they are carrying this All Out for Victory slogan into their offense.

They go out so fast you'd think you fellows were chasing them, and whenever one of them gets a foul tip they all shake hands

The Yankees don't look like the Yankees, with Di Mag, and Rolfe, and Rissuto and some others gone, but the results are about the same. It begins to look like all Joe McCarthy needs is nine men who know enough to run down the right field line when they hit the ball.

The fighters, what's left of them, have had a big winter around here, although the cir-cus is in the Garden now. I know what you are saying, Joe, that some of the clowns you saw in the ring there were a little early. Anyway, the smaller boys have been getting the strong. Somebody wound him up again and he's still going. They're having a horse race called the Kentucky derby down at Louisville this weekend, and from all I can gather they'll be giving The Fleet a 21-gun salute. There's a horse named Count Fleet which will disappoint a lot of folks if it doesn't

Ocean Wave is another horse with considerable backing. It it wins I suppose the jockey will sing all about life on an Ocean

Otherwise there isn't much doing, Joe. They held the Drake and the Penn relays last week, with nothing sensational happening. I'll keep you posted on how the Dodgers are going, Or maybee you can hear Lee Durocher over there. If it sounds like an elephant with a toothache, they lose.

Keep 'em running. Your pal. Whitney Martin.

The Keene clan spotted the 381st the first run and Adams held 'em to that tally until his side brought three across in the fifth. The khaki - clads knotted things in their half of the heat with a pair, and then in the eighth the Methodists shoved across two more to go ahead and stay there. Cameron's double supplied the punch for the two climbers, but again in the ninth he singled across two more to really ice the

Preps Battle For State Meet Berths

Chemawa Thinclads Favored for First

By AL LIGHTNER Just who gets to go to the state track meet as a competitor from this neck of the woods on May 8 at Eugene will be settled today on Olinger oval when the respective scantclads of Salem, Silver-ton, Chemawa, Woodburn and Molalla convene in the district 7 cinder frolics. Qualifying heats will be run off starting at 10 this morning and the main event gets away at 1:30.

The village Vikings ran off with the team tiars a year ago and landed enough men in the state go to bring back the title of third best in the state. But that was a year ago. Despite their surprising upset victory in the No-Name meet here a week age, Coach Tommy Drynan's yearlings, expect little more than a third or possibly second today, as both Chemawa and Molalia have up to now proven to be well heeled with better than average spikesters.

Chemawa's Indians recently walked off with a triangular tussle betweer themselves, Silverton and Woodeurn by scoring 70 points to Silverton's 55 and Woodburn's 24. Woodburn was more recently nosed out, 611/2 to 601/2, by Canby and Canby in turn was knocked over by Molalla. More fuel-Chemawa waxed Woodburn a while back .74-43 and Molalla had the same pleasure by an almost identical count, 78-44.

According to times turned in thus far, these boys will bear watching today: Melalia's Calhoun, a cracking good 880 and mile runner as well as pole vaulter; Woodburn's Bellamy, who should give Calhoun all the competition he wants in both the 880 and mile; Chemawa's Walters, Whitford, Don Williams, Edden and McMeel, as Walters dashes the century in :10.2 and the 220 in :23. Whitford puts the shot out around the 43 - mark, Don Williams vaults over 12 feet, Edden high jumps near the 5-foot 10-inch mark and McMeel, one of those do-everything guys, has broad jumped 19-feet 6-inches, galloped the 440 in :57, high jumped over 5-6, pole vaulted over 11 feet and starts off the Injun relay quartet which has toured the mile in 1:40.

Probably point winners for Silverton are Bob Moon, hurdler and vaulter, and Zeke Zolotoff, javelin tosser.

As Salem's strong suit is quantity, not quality - witness their four first places only in the No-Name scrap-the Viks will again be depending on that depth to pull them through today. However, Art Parkes, 440; Benny Lambert and Bob Macv. 880; Art Gottfried, discus; Owen Garland, bread jump; Beb Warren, shot; and the relay team of Herb Ray, Warren, Richard Taw and Parkes should all amass Drynan's doubtfuls more than just a few points.

Unlike other years when the first and second place winners were recipients of state meet berths, this time only the first place winner in each event will get the trip to Eugene expenses paid. Which, if nothing else, should make the competition in today's tussle a bit on the warm

From our seat, as far as folooks like this: 1st Chemawa; 2nd Salem; 3rd Molalla; 4th Silverton and 5th Woodburn.
