

Trustees Name Dillin Head Of Linfield

McMINNVILLE, Ore., May 14 (P)—Harry L. Dillin, economics professor and Linfield college business manager, was elevated to the college presidency Friday by the board of trustees.

He succeeds Dr. William G. Everson, whose resignation becomes effective June 1.

Dillin, 36, a native of Redwood, Alabama, is a graduate of Columbia University, New York, and holds a master's degree from the University of North Carolina.

A ranking tennis player in student days, he has been coach of the Linfield college tennis team and president of the Northwest Conference. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma XI honoraries.

Dr. Herschel Caldwell, Seattle, was elected to the board of trustees, and J. Earl Jones, Portland, was named to fill the unexpired term of R. R. Adams, Portland trustee who resigned. Other members were re-elected to three year terms.

Marshall Dana, Portland, who told the board the college had just completed its best financial year in history, was named chairman. Other officers: E. C. Apperson, McMinnville, treasurer; Roy A. McCourry, McMinnville, secretary; James B. Kent, McMinnville, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Attu Victory Expected Early

let in told of two air raids on Kiska Thursday. It appeared therefore that for the time being the strategy was to concentrate on Attu except for continued bombing of Kiska.

Conquest of Attu would put Kiska in the jaws of a nutcracker—between Attu 172 nautical miles to the northwest and the American air base on Amchitka only 63 miles to the east.

In a broadcast heard by the federal communications commission Japanese Imperial headquarters said that "crack American forces" had landed on Attu. The Berlin radio quoted a Tokyo dispatch as saying the Americans approached the island under cover of a dense fog.

"They first shelled the island by sea with naval artillery and at the same time American airplanes dropped bombs," said the Berlin broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press. "Although the enemy was numerically superior, Japanese troops immediately took up the fight which still was going on Friday evening. Kiska, to the east of Attu, which also is in Japanese hands, so far is not included in the American landing operations."

There was every expectation that the Japanese in the Aleutians would fight virtually to the last man as did the Japanese forces on Guadalcanal in the south Pacific. Also, the enemy is believed to have dug in strongly on both Attu and Kiska, using natural man-made caves, built as protection against air attack and as defense positions in case of attack. The current battle therefore was pictured as a bitter hand-to-hand struggle with bayonets and grenades much in use.

Vote Stops Akron Strike

AKRON, O., May 14 (P)—Members of the CIO Transit Workers Union voted Friday night to end a two-day strike which paralyzed Akron's transportation system.

More than 350 operators of the city's buses and street cars agreed to return to work Saturday morning pending mediation of grievances by the war labor board.

No More Brass

On land or at sea our fighting men do their many chores by the sound of a bugle. All sorts of uncomplimentary epithets are used to designate the bugler, but nobody has yet been able to provide a satisfactory substitute for a bugle although recordings are used at some permanent bases.

ships and planes under license to keep Turkey up to strength.

An Algiers radio broadcast recorded by the Associated Press said Nazi defenses in Bulgaria and Greece near Turkey were directed by Field Marshal Erwin Rommel. Berlin has said Rommel left Africa two months ago because of illness.

It was not known whether any concerted new outbreaks actually had occurred in Sofia, but informed sources said Boris' appeal and the reported prompt reaction by Himmler were considered highly significant.

Meanwhile, embattled Dutch and Belgian patriots were reported still snarling German communications and men despite 43 executions.

Indications of new unrest in France were seen in the gestapo roundup of 200 members of the Vichy government suspected of entering into secret communication with French resistance groups or allied agents.

It was reported reliably that Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, commander-in-chief of the German navy, had moved his headquarters from Paris to Kiel because he felt unsafe in France.

Fighting French headquarters here disclosed for the first time tonight that French underground resistance groups had been brought under a central authority—the council of French resistance operating in France, and linked to General Charles De Gaulle.

Navy Requests 30 Billions Appropriation

WASHINGTON, May 14 (P)—Congress was asked Friday to give the navy almost 30 billion dollars as the price of its preparations in the next year for the final blows against the Axis.

The largest naval funds bill in history, offered by the house appropriations committee, calls for $29,463,687,198—about $230 for every person in the United States. The navy already has received $68,000,000,000 since July, 1940.

The committee reported the bill after receiving many thousands of words of testimony from naval officers on what they intend to do with the appropriation. Aircraft carriers and anti-submarine vessels figured heavily in the testimony, along with landing craft that enable our troops to get ashore.

"To win the war in Europe," said Vice Admiral F. J. Borne, "we have to get to the axis on the continent and whether it be via Norway, the Channel, or the various approaches in the Mediterranean, the men and equipment for obtaining such a bridgehead must be ferried for the assault by landing craft."

"To regain the numerous islands of Melanesia and Micronesia, and for the final assault on Japan, extensive plans for amphibious operations must be made and successfully executed. The retaking of Guadalcanal and the North African operations are fore-runners of many more such operations to come."

Borne, vice chief of naval operations, said the "aircraft carrier has become the backbone of the fleet."

Red Airmen Bag 72 Nazis

LONDON, May 15 (P)—The Red air force, attacking in the east as the allied aerial offensive swelled in the west, destroyed 72 German planes, 300 freight cars, 200 supply trucks and other enemy war equipment in widespread raids along the huge Russian front, it was announced in Moscow today.

The Soviet news agency, Tass, said the Russians lost 23 planes in three days of heavy onslaught.

The Russian bombers swept close to the Estonian frontier to bomb and strafe long columns of German supply trucks and military trains.

Many enemy locomotives were smashed and fuel and ammunition dumps blown up, Tass said, in raids extending from Leningrad to the southern Ukraine sectors.

Sub-Ceiling Price Ordered

WASHINGTON, May 14 (P)—The nation's largest retail meat distributors were directed Friday to hold their selling prices at least ten per cent below the cents-per-pound ceilings which go into effect Monday for beef, lamb, veal and mutton.

The order requires retail stores which had an annual business of $250,000 or more last year and are members of a food organization with an annual gross volume of more than $40,000,000 in 1942 to maintain ceiling prices ten per cent below those for class 3 and 4 stores (multi-outlet stores and super markets).

County Health Association Re-Elects Gilbert Head

Tinkham Gilbert and Dr. A. T. King, Salem, were re-elected president and treasurer, respectively, of the Marion County Public health association at that organization's annual meeting Wednesday night at the city YMCA.

Mrs. F. Schwab, Mt. Angel, was elected first vice president to succeed Mrs. Levi Miller, Hubbard, and Mrs. C. M. Smith of Salem was elected second vice president, succeeding Mrs. A. DeJardin, Gervais, while Mrs. J. H. Turnbull of Salem was named secretary.

To Mrs. Glenn Seeley, retiring after four years of service as county seal chairman, and to R. L. Elstrom, chairman of the sale in Salem, the association directed resolutions of appreciation.

Mrs. Stanley Krueger, newly-appointed county chairman, reported a total of $10,491.45 from community sales of the seals, with $8979.70 from Salem and $1191.81 from the state tuberculosis hospital. Silverton's sales totalled $1042, while Woodburn stood third with $468.57.

Army rations have changed drastically from the "starvation" period in colonial times, through the "deficiency" period of the war of 1812 and the "toxic" days of the Spanish-American war, Lt. Kenneth McConnell, post food nutrition officer at Camp Adair, told the association members who gathered around the dinner tables at the Y.

With typical menus, he traced that development from the days of bread and meat and little seasoning to today's ration balanced as to fats, carbohydrates, proteins and vitamins and showed samples of the army travel and field rations C, D and K.

Of the 51 cases of tuberculosis referred to the Marion county health department by the selective service board, all but six were already known to the department, Mrs. Bernice Yeary, nursing supervisor for the association, reported. Four Marion county young men referred themselves to the health department after rejection when volunteering for the service.

Forty one new cases of the disease were reported in Marion during 1942 and 18 deaths from it occurred during the year.

Six hundred eight persons had fluoroscopic examination at the clinic maintained by seal sale money.

The meeting served as official introduction to members of the association for Dr. W. J. Stone, new county health officer, Mrs. Ruby Bergsvik, new executive secretary of the association, and Amos Bierly, new 4H club leader in Marion county.

Bierly told of the inspection of school grounds, buildings and health records conducted to determine which districts shall receive the association's 4H summer school scholarship awards, and Stone served as chairman for the program which followed the business session. Mrs. Bergsvik arranged the dinner and compiled the annual report pamphlet presented to each of the members attending.

The Parrish junior high school triple trio of ninth grade girls entertained with a group of songs.

OPA Revokes Price Boosts

WASHINGTON, May 14 (P)—The office of price administration Friday revoked maximum mark-ups scheduled to take effect next Monday for retailers selling canned and frozen fruits and vegetables, having discovered that grocers who used the new mark-ups would, in many cases, be charging more than they formerly did.

In place of the new list of mark-ups, OPA restored the lower mark-ups which have been in effect for several months for canned and frozen vegetables, and reduced the mark-ups which were announced this week for canned and frozen fruits.

The action will not affect the issuance of community-wide dollars-and-cents price ceilings, except that the new city-wide ceilings will be based on lower mark-up margins.

Also revoked were the new mark-ups announced for wholesalers selling canned foods, vegetables and baby foods.

Soap Price Maximum Set

WASHINGTON, May 14 (P)—Maximum prices for soap, starting with the manufacture and winding up with the purchaser at the retail grocery, were established Friday by the office of price administration.

The retail ceilings, OPA said, "do not represent an increase" in the general level of soap prices, and will result in reductions in some stores.

The specific ceilings apply only to soap sold by grocery stores. Sales by other retailers remain under the general maximum price regulation which allows the retailers to charge his highest price of March, 1942.

15 Dead in Plane Crash

EL PASO, Tex., May 14 (P)—Fifteen men were killed Thursday night and one girl parachuted to safety when two army bombers collided, the public relations office of Biggs Field announced Friday.

One plane had been cleared by the field and the other ship was coming in for a landing when the accident occurred about 11 p.m., the announcement said.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of the next of kin.

Demo Conclave Slated Today

PORTLAND, Ore., May 14 (P)—Young Democratic clubs of Oregon will hold their 12th annual convention here Saturday.

Robert W. Kenny, California Attorney General, will give the keynote address. Tillamook county Judge Harland M. Woods, and Clarence E. Briggs, president of Washington Young Democrats, are on the program. Paul N. Plann, Junction City, ex-state president and member of the executive committee of the democratic state-central committee, will be master of ceremonies.

The coroner's office at Portland reported that three-year-old Wallace Beery died of acute alcoholic poisoning from drinking wine he found in a cupboard at his Vanport City home.

ON the HOMEFRONT

By ISABEL CHILDS

It's a story that comes from the Gordon McCormicks (those popular folk who operate the "canteen" service, which boasts that it stocks even in these trying times 15 varieties of candy bars).

The service has a nice young driver who is not a born motor vehicle operator. He struggles to remain within the law, watches himself and still is occasionally jostled by his employers or by the traffic cops with reminders that he really should do this or that.

Not long ago this earnest young man was crossing Ross Island bridge, the story goes. Religiously he hugged the center of the street, which is his own choice method of remaining within the law.

In the rear view mirror he saw a uniformed man on a motorcycle following him . . . sure enough it was an officer! "What've I done now?" the canteen man asked himself. Yep, the cyclist sired him to a stop as he drove off the bridge. "What have I done now?" the driver questioned himself again.

Quietly, almost with a sheepish air, the policeman walked up to the window of the panel delivery car, plunked down his nickel on the ledge and pleaded "Could you sell me a candy bar?"

Mott Reveals Astoria Base Work Planned

WASHINGTON, May 14 (P)—Rep. Mott (R-Ore.) said Friday in the house that navy secretary Knox had approved a $600,000 expenditure at the navy base in Astoria, Ore.

Facilities would be expended and improved, he said, to outfit, equip and train the crews of 50 escort aircraft carriers now being built by the Kaiser company at Vancouver, Wash.

Senate Okehs Tax Measure

eral Reserve bank, for advancing the clock on tax payments.

The senate measure goes to the house in a form that varies somewhat from that of the Rumr-Carlson bill which was rejected there by a four-vote margin. It differs in many respects to the house-approved bill which would cancel the 6 per cent normal and 13 per cent first bracket surtax on 1942 incomes of all persons, making about 30,000,000 taxpayers current but leaving 14,000,000 in the higher brackets liable for payments lagging a year as at present.

The senate measure would put an estimate 97 per cent of taxpayers on a current basis, many of them through collection beginning July 1 of a 20 per cent withholding tax, above basic exemptions, on wages and salaries. The remainder, with "windfall" incomes, would have to compare the amount of their abated tax with that on a so-called "normal" year's income and pay the difference in four annual installments.

Special provisions were inserted to cut the taxes of members of the armed forces.

WLB Orders Coal Mine Strike Into Collective Bargaining

WASHINGTON, May 14 (P)—A second crisis in the nation's soft coal industry apparently was averted, for the time being at least, as the war labor board Friday night directed miners and operators to resume collective bargaining.

ilitary service before the war is closed and peace terms are approved.

D. E. Nickerson, executive secretary of the state federation of labor, estimated that more than 100,000 men and women are now employed in industries in the Portland area. He said it was his opinion that most of the women would return to their homes after the war while a substantial percentage of the men would be absorbed upon farms and in private enterprises.

"I am not pessimistic over the future," Nickerson declared, "because I believe there is a large amount of development work to be done in Oregon. We have cheap power which is attractive to the industrialist."

Post-war plans of the state highway commission were outlined by E. H. Baldoock, state highway engineer. Baldoock said that under a bill now pending in congress the Oregon state highway department would have approximately $19,000,000 annually for expenditure for three years after the war. He said the highway department would employ 17,000 men each year under this program.

Dr. Morris said transition from war industries to peace time industries would be the most serious post-war problem.

The committee went on record favoring a tie-in of the counties with the state post-war program.

J. D. Mickle, former state agricultural director, predicted a tremendous demand for Oregon products, both for export and home use, following the war. He stressed the necessity for consumer production.

Restoration of building trades operations also was forecast as important in absorbing labor now employed in other activities.

The post-war state building program, authorized by the 1943 legislature, was estimated at $2,000,000.

Director John W. Kelly was instructed to confer with federal, state, county and municipal officials, industrialists and others, to determine the number of men that could be absorbed in public and private enterprises. He also will confer with similar post-war committees now at work in the state together with such agencies as the public welfare commission, state unemployment compensation commission and schools and colleges.

Sub-committees will be appointed at the next meeting of the committee when Kelly files a report on his research activities up to that time.

busters were dumped on munitions depots, oil storage and industrial areas in that axis supply post.

Malta-based planes also swept over Sicily and the toe of the Italian boot to bomb and strafe enemy communications.

Axis planes struck at the Algiers area Thursday night for the second night in succession but the allied communiqué said five of the raiders were shot down and the others driven away. Wednesday night's attack resulted in a similar loss to the enemy. The communiqué reported "no casualties or damage."

The Italian high command communiqué broadcast from Rome said Italian planes made night raids on the harbors of Bone, Bougie, and Sfax, and reported that an allied submarine was sunk by a German force in the Tyrrhenian sea off the west coast of Italy.

Hop Market Said Active

PORTLAND, May 14 (P)—The department of agriculture said Friday that Oregon's hop market continued fairly active on older growths during the past week but that contracting of the 1943 crop remained at a standstill.

Growers continued to await an expected announcement of price ceilings. Dealers offered maximum prices in effect at delivery time this fall.

The late spring and some difficulty in obtaining efficient labor have put work in hop yards slightly behind schedule. A downy mildew infestation has not reached serious proportions, the department said.

AFL Plans Fight For Closed Shop

PORTLAND, Ore., May 14 (P)—Earl Ingram, secretary of the AFL Metal Trades council here, predicted Friday that AFL shipyard unions of this area will turn down an offer by the national labor relations board in Washington to drop its case against Kaiser shippards if the unions eliminate closed shop provisions from their contracts with the yards.

Jap Bombers Decimated In Attack

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Saturday, May 15 (P)—The Japanese made a costly raid Friday on the allied base at Oro Bay in New Guinea's famed Buna sector, sending over 20 bombers with 25 fighters, and losing between 18 and 22 planes.

Allied losses were minor both in the air and on the ground. There were no allied fatalities despite the furious air battle.

The allies sent up an intercepting force about equal in size to that of the raiders.

Oro Bay is on the north coast of New Guinea's Papua peninsula, 50 miles below Buna.

For the second day in a row, the allies' biggest blows were delivered at Gasnata, on the southern tip of New Britain Island above New Guinea. The airstorm runway was rendered unusable.

Three Japanese bombers struck ineffectively at Buna, but all bombs fell wide of their mark, the communiqué said.

Pine Orders Show Gain

PORTLAND, May 14 (P)—The Western Pine association reported Friday that pine lumber orders for the week ending May 8 totaled 72,937,000 board feet, as compared with 59,377,000 the previous week. Production also showed a substantial gain but shipments declined slightly.
