

A Garden

It Means Fresh Spinach for Baby
A Good Suntan for Dad

By MAXINE BUREN

Hobbies, like times—"has changed." Was a time when collecting Old English glass, making novelty woodwork or playing golf were the smart type of hobbies, but times have changed. These hobbies have been put away for the duration and good solid family men and women have a new love. It's gardening.

Silver Plate to Be Short

Brides won't find the usual wide variety of patterns in silver-plated flatware to choose from this year. Nor will they find so many types and sizes of spoons, forks, and knives in a particular pattern.

Of the ten active silver-plate manufacturers in the United States five have converted most of their facilities to production of other war goods. The rest are devoting themselves entirely to making flatware for the home front and armed forces.

In producing their normal items, manufacturers may use only half as much silver as they used during the year ended June 30, 1941.

To make the silver available to them as far as possible, most silver-plated flatware manufacturers are restricting production to the most essential items—knives, forks, dessert spoons, and teaspoons. Silver-plated carving sets have been specifically banned by WPB. Such frills as oyster forks, bouillon spoons, and butter knives will be scarce for the duration.

New patterns are not being developed and most old ones are discontinued until the war is over. Each manufacturer is voluntarily restricting his regular line to two patterns, a plain Windsor for restaurant use and another one for home use.

Eggs Make Dish For Dinner

Here's a novel recipe for eggs au gratin:

- EGGS AU GRATIN
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 cup grated cheese
- 6 eggs

Combine mayonnaise, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce; gradually add milk, stirring after each addition until smooth. Add cheese; cook over low heat 5 minutes, or 'til cheese is melted and mixture is thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Pour 1/2 sauce into shallow baking dish. Drop eggs, one at a time, into sauce. Cover with remaining sauce. Place in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 minutes. Serves six.

Today's Menu

A fresh fruit salad will begin today's dinner and chocolate cake will be a popular finale.

- Fresh fruit salad
- Scalloped vegetables au gratin
- Hot biscuits
- Chocolate cake
- Frozen raspberries

ESCALLOPED VEGETABLES AU GRATIN

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoons flour
