

Musicians Elect for Year

Members of the Salem branch of the Oregon Music Teachers association met Wednesday morning at the home of Miss Elma Weller for the final meeting of the year. Officers were reelected for the ensuing year: president, Miss Dorothy Pearce; vice-president, Mrs. Mary T. Headrick; secretary, Mrs. Bertha Junk Darby; treasurer, Miss Margaret Hogg; corresponding secretary, Mrs. T. S. Roberts; Miss Frances Virginia Melton and Miss Ruth Bedford.

Teachers were reminded by Mrs. Mabel S. Powers that entrants in the Iva F. Turner Memorial contest must register by May 30. The contest will be held at Waller hall the morning of June 3. An admission charge will be made.

Mrs. Walter Denton reported on the success of National Music week and expressed gratification for the generous co-operation and support given by all local talent, clubs, schools, organizations, and all who participated. A generous donation to the Clara Eness memorial fund was made possible by the successful benefit concert during Music week.

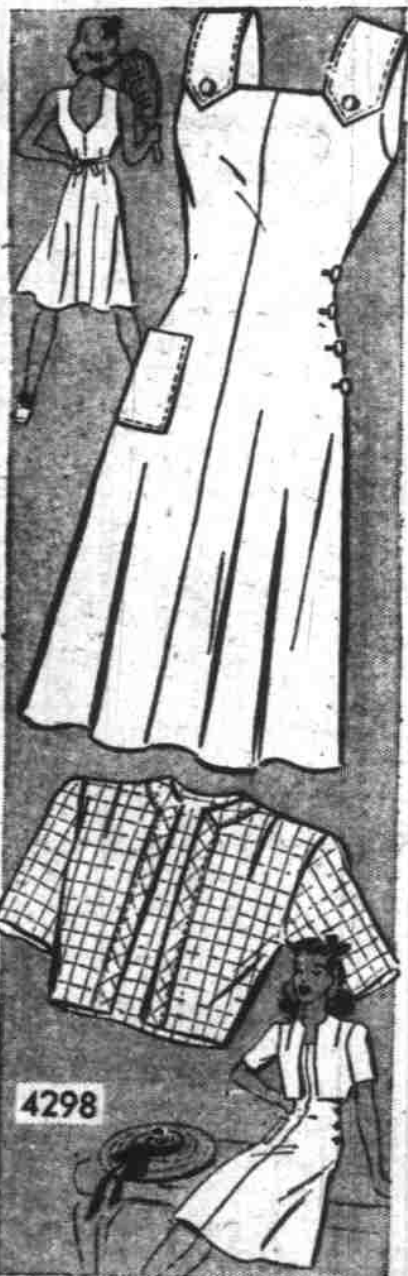

Announcement was made by Miss Frances Virginia Melton, state president of the OMTA that Arthur Loeser, internationally known pianist will be heard in concert at the state convention dated for June 13, 14 and 15th in Portland.

Following the business meeting refreshments were served by Miss Elma Weller assisted by Mrs. Bertha Junk Darby. Regular meetings will be resumed in September.

Marion Horn of Salem will conclude her freshman year at Midland college in Fremont, Neb., this coming week as a student in the journalism department.

Commencement exercises will be held Wednesday, May 19. Rev. T. Benton Peery, pastor of the St. Matthew's Lutheran church and radio pastor in Philadelphia will give the Commencement address Wednesday morning. He will speak on "Building a Better World."

Pattern

Get out in the sun—or relax in the shade—in this striking Anne Adams style, Pattern 4298. The sunroof is very simple to make. A side buttoning at the placket takes the place of a metal fastener. The bolero is smart in checked contrast with optional bias self-banding.

Pattern 4298 is available only in misses' sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 16, sundress, requires 2 1/2 yards 35-inch; jacket, 1 1/2 yards contrast.

Send SIXTEEN CENTS in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER. TEN CENTS more brings you our Spring Patterns Book with its easy-to-make styles for everyone. Send your order to The Oregon Statesman, Pattern Department, Salem, Oregon.

Servicewomen

What they can do
What they're doing about it

Miss Dolores Marie Annen, 565 North Cottage street, has just completed her enlistment in the WAVES, women's service of the US navy, it was reported yesterday by Chief Robert B. Fallon, in charge of the US Navy Recruiting substation here, which handles applications for both WAVES and SPARS in the Salem area.

Miss Annen was sworn into the WAVES at the Portland branch, office of naval officer procurement.

Miss Annen is awaiting assignment to a WAVES training school at one of the nation's colleges. Upon graduation from the WAVES training school she will be a petty officer and will be eligible for higher ratings.

Miss Annen graduated from Mount Angel academy in 1939. She was president of the senior class and captain of the women's basketball squad. She attended Mount Angel college from 1939 to 1941. Her first position was at the secretary of state's office. Since August 1941 Miss Annen has been a stenographer for the world war veterans commission in Salem.

She is the second member of her immediate family to enlist in the armed services. Her brother, Cletus J. Annen, is a private, first class, in the US army, now at a training camp in Kentucky. Miss Annen is a USO junior hostess and a member of the St. Joseph's parish in Salem.

Miss Annen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Annen, route 1, Mount Angel.

LEBANON—Miss Lila Anderson, RN, formerly on the staff of the Lebanon General hospital is stationed in the navy hospital in Bremerton. She has the rating of an ensign.

Watch for Summer Foods

By MAXINE BUREN

You never can tell these days, whether it's spring or summer or mid-winter, from what the weather man has to say, or what the grocer has to offer for your family dinner table.

For all it's barely springtime, enterprising market men are now offering corn on the cob.

Just for fun, then let's look at the market displays, in case you are the sort of homemaker who persists in staying home to do your marketing, it may profit you.

Corn on the cob appears in several markets in town, and looks pretty good, although I'll wait for my home grown corn, believing that anticipation is half the fun of eating anyway.

Maybe you'll not find it every day, but corn will be in the market pretty regularly from now on.

Strawberries are another out of season food offered in the markets, the berries are shipped in because California has jumped the gun on our local offerings.

Fresh looking and good tasting zucchini and crook neck squash is to be found at the markets, good to season with young green onions and lots of butter.

Spinach and mustard greens, while in season regularly now, are a fine spring tonic and are usually greeted with enthusiasm by the buyer of vegetables for home use.

Asparagus is just about at its best right now. If you plan to eat or freeze some, remember now's the time. You'll find the tips, though priced higher, to be the best buy. Small stalks have less value than the thicker, meatier ones.

Celery is away up in price, but is a good buy when you use all the stalks and tops. Often a bargain of outside stalks is available, and is a good buy if to be cooked. Hearts make the best buy if to be eaten raw.

Potatoes look like peanuts in some markets, but Salem buyers are lucky to get new potatoes at all.

A real summer salad will result when cucumbers, tomatoes, green onions and radishes are mixed.

Louis Browns Sell Tract to Nevins, Buy Salem Home

MIDDLE GROVE — Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown have sold their five-acre tract and home to Mr. and Mrs. Nevins of North Fifth street, Salem, who will take possession early in June. The Browns have purchased a home at 433 South 17th street in Salem.

A new 100-foot poultry house is under construction on the Spiers place, which will house several thousand New Hampshire Red pullets.
