Weaving Will Be Taught

A weaving workshop under the direction of Dorothy W. Liebes, one of America's top ranking hand loom weavers, will be conducted at the Portland Art Museum from June 14 to July 23. The workshop is primarily intended for weavers who already know the technique of the loom, since the emphasis of the course will be on textile design. The Northwest has a great number of skilled weavers including: 1. specialized students and teachers; 2. craftsmen who wish to develop their own design and explore the sources of new design; 3. weavers who wish to apply their craft to therapeutic uses.

The workshop is being conducted as a cooperative project by the Portland Art Museum, the University of Oregon, the Oregon Ceramic studio and the Portland public schools, under a grant from the Carnegie Corporation of New York. It is being offered as a course for undergraduate credit by the Portland summer sessions, during their six weeks' session.

The enrollment is limited to 40 students, each student will have a loom of his own in the studios of the Portland Art Museum.

Dorothy Liebes, who is head of the noted Liebes Studio in San Francisco, has created fabrics for installations in houses and public buildings throughout America, and is also the national director, arts and skills unit of the hospital and recreation corps of the American Red Cross.

She will be assisted in the workshop by Marion Phal, the present director of the Liebes studio. An exhibition of Liebes textiles will be on view at the museum during the six weeks of the workshop.

Information and registration blanks can be had from the Portland Art Museum, SW Park and Madison, Portland, or from the Portland summer sessions, Oregon Building, Portland.

Miss Geibel Married in Seattle

Miss Grace Darling Geibel, daughter of Mrs. Fred Geibel of La Grande, became the bride of Mr. Marvin Carl Van Winkle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Van Winkle of Puyallup, Wash., on Saturday, May 22, at the church parlor of the University Presbyterian church in Seattle. The service was read by Rev. P. W. Erickson.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Frederick W. Geibel. She was dressed in white tulle and wore a finger-tip veil.

Miss Alma Kaeser of Seattle, the bride's only attendant, was gowned in pink net. Carl Parks of Tacoma was the best man. Ushers were William W. Geibel, USN, Portland, brother of the bride; Mr. Robert Worstell of Squamish, Wash., a cousin of the bride; and Alfred Scholz of Puyallup.

Miss Carmen Gueffroy of Seattle played the wedding music. The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Geibel. The bride's book was in charge of Mrs. William W. Geibel and Mrs. Frederick W. Geibel cut the bride's cake.

Both the bride and groom are members of pioneer families of their respective communities. Mrs. Van Winkle attended Eastern Oregon Normal school and the University of Oregon, and taught in Grant school here. Mr. Van Winkle attended the University of Washington where he majored in forestry engineering.

After a brief honeymoon in Victoria, B.C., the couple will return to Seattle where they will make their home. Members of the immediate families were entertained earlier the day of the wedding at a luncheon given by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Geibel at the Seattle Tennis club.

Poppy Day Important This Year

By MAXINE BURN

Friday is Poppy Day when dozens of volunteer saleswomen will make it their duty to see that practically every citizen is tagged with one—but for a price.

Some years past we have felt a little impatient with Poppy Day, feeling that it was just another "racket." We've felt a little resentment when we know that the only reason we bought the poppies was just because we must, or stay off the street.

That was because the war was a long way off, very impersonal. The needs of men who have been ill for perhaps 20 years meant little to us. This year it is different, this year it is personal. A new crop of veterans is in the offing. Although we have seen few wounded men return, we have heard of an occasional death in this war, we will soon be hearing more. It is getting very close.

Red poppies represent the little flower that sprang up in the war-scarred fields on Flanders over 20 years ago. The wild poppy bloomed along the trenches, under the barbed wire on graves and around shell hole edges. The flower survived through everything, in the last war.

It is symbolic of sacrifice in any of our wars, it is symbolic really of the hope that springs from even the desolation of war.

Some 13,000,000 poppies are made each year by wounded war veterans. Hundreds of soldiers are kept busy and made to feel necessary, in making the flowers. The poppies have a double purpose, then, to help man help himself, and to aid others who cannot come to their own aid.

ZENA—A smartly appointed evening affair given for a group of friends was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Henry of Maple Mound, their lovely home at Zena, Saturday night. Iris and snowballs were arranged in tall baskets and vases about the rooms.

Bouquets of Cecile Brunner roses and lilies-of-the-valley were used effectively on the individual tables. Five hundred was played during the evening. Each lady present received a dainty individual gift. Refreshments were served to the guests, including:

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lacey, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Sloper, Mrs. Charles Unruh and Mr. Frank Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Newgent and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Henry.

DETROIT—The marriage of Eldon White, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. White and Annie Martone, New York, was solemnized at Vancouver, May 20, with Rev. Roy Parcell, Baptist minister performing the ceremony. They are both employed at the shipyards and will reside at Meadows, Mr. and Mrs. White spent the weekend visiting with his parents in Detroit.

UNIONVALE—Complimenting Miss Elaine Crawley and Jack Lister, a pre-nuptial shower was given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hawkins at their home Saturday evening. A mock wedding was a feature of the entertainment. Gifts were presented.

Junior Women Observe End Of Year Work

Completion of its ninth successful club year was observed on Monday night by the Salem Junior Woman's club at the clubhouse on North Cottage street, members met for the annual meeting, Mother's Tea, and formal installation of new officers.

Reports of accomplishments in war service, philanthropic, educational, and social activities were made by the club officers and department heads, and the retiring president, Miss Hattie Bratzel, presented her annual report to the members and guests. At the brief business session held, members voted to continue several worth-while projects, including: a gift of $10 for the blood plasma bank of the Red Cross; $10 to the Children's Farm Home for repairs for Marion Cottage, a project of the Marion county federation of women's clubs; $10 for gifts, clothing, etc., for the club's young blind protegee; and a gift for Miss Erval Gunn, honorary club member and a patient at the Tuberculosis hospital. Members agreed to meet informally during the summer months to do war work and to continue their monthly service at the USO Canteen, with these projects in charge of Mrs. Maurice Brennan, war service chairman. Five new members were welcomed into the club and were presented with roses at the initiation ceremony. They include: Mrs. Donald Fletcher, formerly of Chicago; Mrs. Howard Conkle, a transfer from the Dallas Junior Woman's club; Mrs. M. E. Gadow, Miss Juanita Syverson, and Miss Fern Pfohl. Mrs. Delbert Schwabbauer, new club president, was elected as the official delegate to the state convention of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, to be held in Salem next week, and Mrs. Lee Crawford was chosen alternate for the retiring president, Miss Hattie Bratzel.

At a formal ceremony, Mrs. Delbert Schwabbauer was installed as president of the club for the ensuing year, with the gavel presented to her by Mrs. Clinton Standish, installing officer. The following corps of officers was also formerly installed, with Mrs. Joseph B. Felton as conductress: first vice president, Mrs. James C. Pike; second vice president, Mrs. Fred C. Gast; recording secretary, Mrs. Ralph S. Nohlgren; financial secretary, Mrs. Maurice W. Brennan; public relations chairman, Mrs. Thorne H. Hammond; directors: Mrs. Francis Jernigan, Mrs. E. Lee Crawford, Mrs. E. C. Harrison, and Mrs. W. G. Nibler. Unable to be present were the treasurer, Mrs. Joseph V. Tompkins, and the publicity director, Mrs. L. M. Falkenhagen, who will be installed at the club's first fall meeting. Upon receiving the gavel, Mrs. Schwabbauer presented the club's new counselor, Mrs. Robert R. Boardman, to the members and guests. Members of the board of directors presented a gift of appreciation to the retiring president, Miss Hattie Bratzel, and she also presented a gift, a silver cake tray, to the club.

Tea was served following installation, with Mrs. Herman Tasto, mother of the retiring president, and Mrs. Ralph Hensley, mother of the new president, presiding at the urns. The table was lovely with an unusual arrangement of iris in orchid and purple tones in a crystal epergne, flanked by crystal tapers in crystal candelabra. Bouquets of iris, roses, and other early summer flowers decorated the club rooms.

During the evening, Mrs. Harold Bush and Mrs. Nels Tanning played several numbers, and Miss Margaret Mullen gave a group of piano numbers. Arranging the details was Mrs. Verne Robb, tea chairman and her committee including: Mrs. Clinton Standish, Mrs. Lee Crawford, Mrs. Kenneth Dalton, Mrs. Raymond F. Roach, Mrs. Ray Lacey, Mrs. J. V. Tompkins, and Miss Hazel Shutt. Mothers of members and other guests were especially honored at the affair, and special guests present were Mrs. Herbert E. Rahe, Mrs. George Swift, Mrs. Dwight Lear, Mrs. C. C. Clark and Mrs. Robert Boardman.

LAMB BISCUIT ROLL
2 1/2 cups ground cooked lamb
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
1 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups medium white sauce
1 recipe biscuit dough
1 cups cooked vegetables: peas, carrots, green beans, corn, celery or a combination of several.

Utilize Glass Containers

Many of the glass food containers that have replaced tin on the grocery shelves can be used for home canning this season even though the tops are not the same size as the common screwtop fruit jar, according to word received by the home economics extension division at Oregon State college.

Most of the non-standard size screwtop jars, such as those used for most coffee brands, are now being made with a 2 1/2-inch top. The fruit jar manufacturing companies are now making sealer disks that will fit these and which can be sealed on by using the screwtop lids that come on the original package.

While these may not yet be stocked in some stores, the extension service as well as most dealers, have been notified that they will be available this season. Homemakers are being urged to save all of these sealable glass containers as a means of increasing the amount of home canning supplies to handle the expected record home food preservation program this season.
