No truer words were ever spoken than those which say: "An Army Travels On Its Stomach." A hungry, undernourished army cannot win battles. Hungry, undernourished workers cannot build ships, planes, tanks, guns and ammunition, and turn them out fast enough to keep our armies supplied. Our democratic way of life, our country, our very lives, depend upon food—abundant food. The Victory, for which we all pray, would be impossible without Food. Food must be grown. Food must be harvested. Food must be put in cans for preservation and shipment to distant points. Food must be grown, harvested and canned in ever increasing quantities, and to carry on this tremendous task, your help is urgently needed. Ask any of the Food producers and canners whose names appear on this page, or register at the nearest office of the United States Employment Service.
