

Four Named Foundation Committeemen

E. A. Miller, W. I. Needham, Fred S. Lamport, W. H. Lyman and Father T. J. Bernards were Saturday named as members of a disbursement committee for the Salem foundation.

Organized by Ladd & Bush Trust company in 1930 as a reservoir into which gifts for benefit of the city, its institutions and its residents might be turned, the foundation received its first funds during the past year from the estates of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Albert.

At the time of Mr. Albert's death, he made provision in his will for a portion of his estate to go into the foundation after the lifetime of his wife. More than $10,000 has thus become the nucleus, and an income of more than $400 is available for disbursement.

Members of the committee, appointed under the articles of the foundation, were nominated by Governor Earl Snell, Mayor I. M. Doughton, Marion County Bar Association President W. W. McKinney, County Judge Grant Murphy and the trust company, in the order named.

Rioting Zooters In L. A. Injure 2 Guardsmen

Armed with sticks and brickbats, this gang of youthful zoot-suiters was finally dispersed by unarmed authorities in Los Angeles. Aftermath of a night of pitched battles between service men and Pachuco, two US coast guardsmen, Donald Jackson and James R. Phelps, were stabbed, and given hospital treatment. Pictured also is Pachuco Paul Acevedo, his pants torn and his body bruised. The picture was taken at the police station following the "Battle of Gangland," whether Acevedo and two colored fellow "zoot-suiters" were taken for protection. IIN Soundphoto.

Fruit Growers Still Fighting For Price Rise

Cane fruit growers are finding that the road to a price which they consider "fair" is still as rocky as the legendary one to Dublin. Following consultation in Portland with John E. Dodds, representative of the food production and distribution administration, a group comprising nearly 85 per cent of the growers wired W. G. Mead, chief of the fruits and vegetable branch in Washington, DC, protesting the suggested prices on the berries.

Drawing fire particularly was the sum mentioned for loganberries. Growers claim the price was based upon a period when the English market was lost, and when there was a surplus of American berries upon the market which forced the price down to below cost of production. Growers are asking a 12c minimum.

With the cost of production increasing here because of diversion of labor into war industries, and with a probable scarcity due to frost damage, particularly to blackberries in certain sections of Washington, growers are holding out for the higher price, foreseeing decreased acreage in berries next year unless this year "the price is right." Some plan entrance into war industries. At the same time, local cane fruit growers are suggesting diversion of part of their crop to be packed in sulphur and shipped to England filling in part an order for a large quantity of strawberries which are not available.

Housing Set For Loggers

PORTLAND—(AP)—The national housing administration hopes to help persuade loggers to return to the woods through a housing program, George W. Copley, NHA regional representative, said Friday.

Recommendations for construction of nearly 1000 dwelling units for Sweet Home, Sutherlin, Grand Ronde and Lebanon in Oregon, and Northport, Wash., have been made to Washington headquarters, he disclosed, and studies of needs in other logging areas are underway.

Loggers will be given priority where war housing already has been provided in lumber-producing districts, he said.

Name Scholarship

Reed college named Albert Cates, The Dalles, winner of the John S. Schenck scholarship.

FR's Grandson Is Exonerated

MEDIA, Pa.—(AP)—William Donner Roosevelt, 10-year-old grandson of the president, was discharged in custody of his mother and the fatal shooting of Lewis Hutchinson, jr., 11, termed "a closed case" by Judge Albert Dutton MacDade following a two-hour closed hearing Friday in Delaware county juvenile court.

No details of the hearing were announced and Judge MacDade declined to comment except to say that the case has been permanently dismissed.

Service Men To Be Honored

Forty six young men in the service will be honored Sunday at the Knight Memorial Congregational church when members of the Laurel Guild, dedicate a flag to them. The dedication ceremony will be held at the 11 o'clock service.

Parents or relatives of these men will sit in a body. Rev. H. C. Stover will be in charge of the service and Richard Swart will sing "American Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Mitchell, church organist.

What Would You Do Now?

If you backed your car away from the curbing and into the fender of a passing car. Place $11,000 cash or bond with the State to keep from losing your driver's license? Oregon's New Auto Responsibility Law will not affect if you carry liability insurance. If you haven't time to come in for this insurance, phone or write HUGGINS OFFICE. Your policy issued at once.
