AT THE home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Roth, Miss Elsie Roth and Mr. Henry James Beutler (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Beutler, were married June 16 at a double ring ceremony. They will live on a farm near Salem. (Kennell-Ellis).

IN ST. PAUL'S Episcopal church on June 17, Miss Jean Leray Inlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Inlow, and Mr. Robert Arleth Sier, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert F. E. Sier of Spokane, Washington, were married. The couple (above) will live in Portland. (Jesten-Miller).

ON JUNE 19, Miss Barbara Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Leona Taylor, became the bride of Lt. Arthur Levin of Yonkers, New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Levin of Yonkers, at a double ring ceremony. Lt. Levin is stationed at Camp Adair. (Jesten-Miller).

An Afternoon Tea . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lehmer will be hosts this afternoon at their home on Kingwood Heights at a tea given in honor of their daughter, Miss Jo Love Lehmer, who recently graduated from Stephens college, Missouri. This will be the second tea given by Miss Lehmer's parents for her pleasure. This afternoon's calling hours are 4 to 6 o'clock.

Mrs. O. K. DeWitt will greet guests at the door and introduce them to the line. With Mr. and Mrs. Lehmer and Miss Lehmer, receiving in the living room, will be Miss Jane Keeney of Corvallis, a Stephens classmate of Miss Lehmer.

Mrs. G. F. Chambers, Mrs. A. A. Rogers and Mrs. G. C. Jones of Corvallis will assist in the living room, while Mrs. Fred Stump, Mrs. George Alexander and Miss Dorathea Steusloff will assist in the dining room.

Mrs. Lehmer will use garden flowers throughout the house, and will feature calla lilies in the living room.

Tells Wedding Date . . .

A double ring ceremony will be solemnized in late July in the fireplace room of the First Presbyterian church when Miss Eileen Holden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holden of Keizer, becomes the bride of Mr. Allan T. Johnson, son of Mrs. Tyler Johnson of Portland.

Miss Holden graduated from the school of secretarial science at Oregon State college this spring. She was second highest in her class in grade point average and was a member of mortar board. She belonged to Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic society, and Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society and Sigma Kappa, social sorority. She was listed in the 1941-3 collegiate Who's Who.

Mr. Johnson is a staff sergeant in the army and is at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma in officer's training. He attended Oregon State college prior to entering the service.

The wedding date has been set as July 21, but is dependent upon Mr. Johnson's orders.

Will Wed at Church Ceremony . . .

The wedding of Miss Margaret Addison and Sgt. Ralph Whitney will be solemnized this afternoon in the First Presbyterian church by Rev. James Aiken Smith, at 2:30 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Addison and the groom is the son of Mr. L. F. Whitney of Cheyenne, Wyoming, and Mrs. Belle Whitney, Granite Canon, Wyoming.

The bride will be given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Charles W. Addison of McMinnville. She has chosen a traditional wedding gown of white satin, made with sweetheart neckline, gathered bodice and lace trimmed skirt which extends into a train. The full-length veil is edged with pale pink roses, centered with a gardenia.

The maid of honor, Miss Lois Rullison, will wear a dress of pale pink organza, made with shirred sleeves, full skirt and a Mary Stuart headdress. She will wear a pearl necklace, gift of the bride, and will carry a colonial nosegay of sweet peas.

Bridesmaids are Miss Doris Jeane Cutler, gowned in yellow chiffon, and Miss Margie Largent of Portland, in aqua chiffon. Both dresses are made with lace trim, full skirts, and headdresses are tiaras matching the dresses. Each girl will wear a pearl necklace and carry a colonial nosegay similar to that of the maid of honor.

The best man will be Sgt. Calvin Stroup and ushers will be Mr. Joseph Addison and Mr. Howard Edwards.

Mr. Albert Oveland will sing "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me," accompanied by Miss Irma Illert. Mrs. D. B. Kleihege will play the wedding marches on the organ.

Flower girl will be Sandra Sue Stockard.

Following the ceremony, a reception will be held in the fireplace room for relatives and close friends. Mrs. R. F. Spoelstra of Portland and Mrs. A. R. Kearns will cut the cake. Mrs. R. F. Schultz, aunt of the bride, will pour, and Miss Caroline Ward, Miss Bertha Welsh, Miss Ruby Kearns, all of Salem, and Miss Sylvia Willard of Dayton, will serve. Mrs. Albert Overlund of Silverton will be in charge of the guest book.

The bride's mother will wear a teal blue alpaca dress with lace bodice and crystal buttons. Her corsage will be of gardenias and rosebuds.

For going away, the bride will wear a brown pin stripe suit with brown and white accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Miss Addison is a graduate of Salem high school, and Salem secretarial school. Sgt. Whitney graduated from Wyoming schools and is now stationed at Ft. Lewis. The bride will remain in Salem for the present.

Don't Look Now . . .

but . . . we just came from the grocery store with two precious red tomatoes. We are going home and pamper our three tomato plants, for they are worth their weight in gold.

A bitter, bitter pill . . . We expect to be disillusioned these war days, but this is just too much. That old rule, "Red sky in the morning, sailors take warning, red sky at night, sailors' delight" has always seemed to us the most dependable thing in the world. Last Sunday night the sun set in flaming glory, and you know what happened after that!

Forgotten women . . . They have Mother's day, Father's day and Children's day, but what about Aunt's day?

Clowning again . . . Perhaps she's gone a bit queer after all these years standing atop the courthouse, but from where we sit at our office desk, our friend Justice looks like she's standing on the Guardian building roof, trying the old stunt of rubbing her stomach with one hand while she pats her head with the other.

A shot in the back . . . Imagine our embarrassment when talking on the radio Friday, lauding the purity of Willamette valley air, to take time out to cough, having at that moment inhaled a generous lung full of Eau de Papermill.

It always happens . . . Playing war isn't new. In our childhood days we carried a gun constantly (except Sunday), shot at strangers, wore western clothes and lived a rugged life. The only difference with this generation is that they prefer machine guns to muskets, talk about P-38s and bombers and emit a strange akakakakak from their throats. We fought Indians, and were satisfied with a simple and straightforward "bang," when we did our killing. And incidentally we did not grow up to be blood thirsty monsters. —Maxine Buren.

News Items in Brief . . .

Mrs. Lyle Richard Zobel and son, Lyle Richard, Jr., now of Glendale, Calif., are visiting members of the family and friends. Mrs. Zobel came to Salem to be an attendant at the wedding of her sister, Mrs. Raymond A. Herrmann, the former Hilda Rohmer. They will return to California about July 1.

Mrs. J. M. Devers and Mrs. Marion Field of Eugene were together in Portland this week for the Northwest Institute of International Relations at the First Congregational church. Speakers were present. Discussed were the United Nations policy and world reconstruction. In previous years, the institute has been held at Reed college. Mrs. Devers reports that the large attendance proves that interest is high in plans of the post war world.

Mrs. Francis Smith entertained Alpha Gamma Delta

alumnae at her home Friday night. Plans were made for war work in the fall and a picnic for members and husbands in the garden of the Estill Brunk home July 31. Mrs. Irvin Peterson joined the group. A late supper was served. The table was decorated with a lace cloth, a bouquet of Canterbury bells, sweet peas and rosebuds, flanked by pink candles in crystal candelabras.

PICTURED above are Lt. and Mrs. Donald Henry Nagel in Walla Walla, where they are now living. The couple, married at Dwight chapel on the Yale university campus in May, visited Washington, DC, Philadelphia, and New York en route west. The bride is the former Oneda Jane Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Cameron, and Lt. Nagel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Nagel of Portland.

IN BRIDAL satin is Mrs. Jack Gaylord Walker (above) who was married at the First Congregational church Tuesday night. She is the Miss Rowena May Upjohn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Henry Upjohn. Mr. Walker is the son of Judge and Mrs. Airlie G. Walker of McMinnville. (Kennell-Ellis).
