

In a damp cellar of a farmhouse the Norwegian underground meet to thwart the Nazi overlords in Warner Bros. "Edge of Darkness." Karen Stenogard, Ann Sheridan, has just brought in a wounded comrade, while the village doctor, her father, played by Walter Huston, protests at her exposing herself to such danger. Gunnar Brogge, played by Errol Flynn, leader of the underground, loves Karen but believes that women have their part in the fight against Nazi tyranny. Under the personal supervision of Jack L. Warner, executive director for Warner Bros., "Edge of Darkness" tells a vivid story of the fight against Norway's "Gestapo." Completing the double bill now at the Capitol theatre is "United We Stand," official film of the United Nations as well as pictures captured from the axis. These two exceptional pictures are now playing at the Capitol.

William Tracy and Joan Porter in a tender moment from United Artists' new production, "United We Stand." The second feature stars Robert Taylor and Brian Donlevy in "Stand By for Action," the first real epic of our navy in battle! This double bill is showing today at the Hollywood theatre.

"It Ain't Hay," starring Bud Abbott (R) and Lou Costello, has Grace McDonald and Leighton Noble (L) in romantic roles. Co-featured with this side-splitting comedy is "Prelude to War," the real story behind this war. These two features are now being shown on the screen at the Elsinore theatre.

'Edge of Darkness' Thrilling Story of Norway at Capitol

"Edge of Darkness," the Warner Bros. film based on William Woods' popular novel of the same name is the new screen offering now playing at the Capitol theatre.

Errol Flynn and Ann Sheridan head one of the most distinguished casts ever assembled in one motion picture. Featured in the supporting cast are Nancy Coleman, talented young player who performed so notably in "Kings Row," "The Gay Sisters" and others; Walter Huston, whose performance as Jerry Cohen in "Yankee Doodle Dandy" will long be remembered; Judith Anderson and Ruth Gordon, both prominent players of stage and screen.

Other important names in the film include John Beal, Charles Dingle, Morris Carnovsky, Roman Bohnen and Helmut Dantine, who scored in "Mrs. Miniver" and "Casablanca."

Brought to life on the screen is this story of a Norwegian fishing village, its simple, peace-loving people, and of the brutal Nazi boot that stamps out freedom meetings are held under the very noses of the watchful Nazis. When the villagers are secretly armed by the British, they wait in readiness for the time to strike. The Nazis give them their opportunity in the particularly brutal assault on the aged village schoolmaster, followed by an order for a mass execution of the ring-leaders in the underground movement. The rebellion is touched off and the village rises en masse against its oppressors. The ensuing battle results in complete destruction of the little town. Not a Nazi is left alive, and the few remaining natives escape to the hills to join in the guerrilla warfare against the invaders. "United We Stand" completes the double bill at the Capitol.

Peach Crop Yield Drop Is Expected

WASHINGTON, July 10 (AP)—A 1943 peach yield 35 per cent below last year's production was forecast Friday.

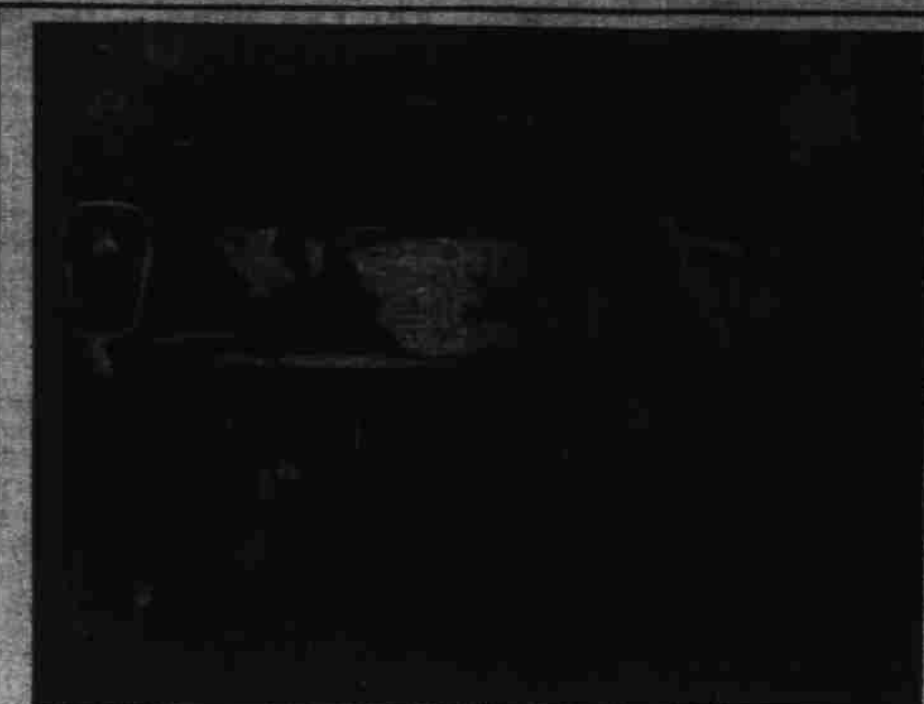

The agriculture department said production is expected to total 43,042,000 bushels this year. In the 10 early southern states the crop is estimated at only 5,581,000 bushels against 19,591,000 bushels produced in 1942.

Slicker, the movie seal, shows serving as ringmaster for Winston's Equestrian Sea Lions, featured with Russell Bros. Circus.

Slicker of Film Fame Star Of Circus Sea Lion Troupe

Performing on the back of canting ponies what ordinary trained seals are content to achieve on solid ground, Winston's equestrian sea lions lay undisputed claim to that frequently overworked term, "world's only."

This unique trained animal exhibition holds center-ring billing with Russell Bros.' Great 3-Ring circus which is to appear at Salem two days, twice daily starting tomorrow, July 12.

Slicker, the ringmaster of the troupe, is termed by his trainer, H. W. Winston, as the smartest seal ever to gulp a fish. In fact, he's so smart Winston cannot understand how he ever got tangled up in a fish net off the coast of Monterey a little more than four years ago. Winston bought him from the fisherman who hauled him out of the ocean with a catch of halibut. And it wasn't long before he stood out in the Winston herd like a wart on a debutante's nose.

Slicker is rated as a topflight actor by Henry Hathaway, the film director. Slicker has played in a number of pictures, "Spawn of the North" and "Fisherman's Wharf" among them. Hathaway calls him "One Shot" Slicker because he never muffs a part and the camera only has to roll once for a perfect performance.

Winston has toured the world with his sea lions. The act is considered "tops" by discriminating circus-goers, and so are many of the other 1943 features of the Russell Circus—Jorgen M. Christensen, with his Argentine Criollo horses; the Flying Valentines in breath-taking exploits on the flying trapeze; Buddy, the celebrated "talking" sea lion which shares honors with the Winston seals; Miss Aerialista and Miss Esterita, America's foremost lady gymnasts; and the Dutton, Floyd, Acevedo, Excello, Otaris, Lind, Bassett and Bailey, and Freehand troupes of riders, wirewalkers, acrobats, and jugglers, to mention only a few.

Performances are given twice daily at 2 and 8 p. m. Doors to the menagerie and big top open one hour earlier.

Police recovered his watch at a pawn shop the other day, then discovered they couldn't locate Steve.

"Show Business at War"
A March of Time Production

Hold that objective at all costs... the thrilling story of the boys at Bataan moves to the State theatre today to continue a glorious first run. "Bataan," starring Robert Taylor, Thomas Mitchell, Lloyd Nolan, plays five more exciting days at the State. The second feature is "He's My Guy" starring Dick Foran, Irene Hervey, Joan Davis and Fuzzy Knight with the Mills Brothers doing added specialties.

Abbott, Costello Gag Fest Comes to Elsinore Screen

The nation's No. 1 box-office champions, Abbott and Costello, start today on the screen at the Elsinore theatre in Damon Runyon's "It Ain't Hay." The Universal picture heralded as the most comical in which the two comedians have starred, has Grace McDonald, Cecil Kellaway, Eugene Pallette, Fatsy O'Connor and Richard Lane in its cast. Extraordinary added feature is the appearance of Leighton Noble and his orchestra.

Some of Runyon's most colorful Broadway characters are portrayed in the hilarious story in which Bud Abbott and Lou Costello become embroiled in a strange case of mistaken identity. Two horses, however, are the principals in the error, one a nag and the other a handicap favorite. When the comedians are suspected of substituting one steed for the other, the action of the film is said to excite more laughter than any corresponding situation in their previous hits.

Blend Music, Romance
Romance and music are included in the speedy plot and are contributed by Miles McDonald and Noble. The talented pair sing "Glory Be," composed by Harry Revel and Paul Francis Webster. Revel
