Where They Are—What They Are Doing

ic and saw action for some time before his death.

WACONDA—Pfc. Duane Felton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Felton, is visiting relatives and friends here. He has a 15-day furlough, having been stationed for the last few months at Camp Swift, Texas, with an engineers' light pontoon company.

Lt. George Lemery, member of the medical corps, arrived last Sunday from Portland with his family to be with Felton, who is a nephew. Lt. Lemery is the son of George W. Lemery, also of Waconda. A family get-together was held at the Lemery home last Sunday at which Mrs. Wen Hensler of Portland, an aunt of Pfc. Felton, also was present.

Mrs. W. J. Wargnier received word recently that her son Paul is ill in a hospital in New Guinea. He also wrote that Cpl. Dale Fuller is in the same hospital suffering from wounds received in action.

Aviation Cadet James Albert Henery, 21, above, has successfully completed his primary flight training at the naval air station at Pasco, Wash., and has been transferred to Corpus Christi, Texas, for advanced flight training. After about three months there he will receive his navy "wings" and a commission as ensign in the naval reserve or second lieutenant in the marine corps reserve. Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Henery, 1570 Broadway, Salem, Cadet Henery is a 1940 graduate of Salem high school, where he participated in basketball and baseball. Later he attended Santa Rosa junior college in California. A brother, Donald L. Henery, is a private first class in the army.

WEST SALEM—Harvey Nickle, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Nickle of Salem, is home for a short leave, from the naval station at San Francisco.

MONMOUTH—Mrs. Robert Price has received a recent letter from her husband, who is a member of a naval construction battalion in the New Guinea battle zone. He writes that he got seasick on the voyage over.

Although they have cot set up in tents making a dry place to sleep, the atmosphere is very damp but the temperature is warm. "Dampness," he writes, "is our worst enemy. It rains almost continually, and it is impossible to get or keep anything dry. Paper cartons are worthless as they fall apart. Everything metal rusts within a few hours so we just paint metal things with oil almost every day. Clothing, bedding and blankets have to be aired continually to keep them from mildewing. Leather goods gather mold within a few hours. We use lots of soap to combat jungle rot—a decaying of the skin from being wet so much. In another month we will be able to live in this climate without so much effort, if we continue to learn as much as we have so far."

Lt. and Mrs. Clay Egelston who have been visiting here for two weeks, left recently for San Luis Obispo, Calif., where he will be stationed for a time. Mrs. Egelston accompanied him as far as Roseville, Calif., where she will visit a sister, Mrs. T. E. Marsh, and family. Lt. Egelston who has been stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., was formerly athletic coach and instructor at Monmouth high school for six years. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Egelston, entertained at dinner for them Saturday night. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowman and daughters, Marion and Edna, and Mrs. Nell Hixon, mother of Mrs. Clay Egelston.

Mrs. Lloyd Reynolds this week received the certificate award of the Purple Heart, given her son, Pfc. John Reynolds, who was killed in action in the South Pacific on July 5. The certificate was awarded for "exemplary and extreme bravery in action."

Pfc. Reynolds graduated from Salem high school in 1940 and entered the national guard that same year. He went to the South Pacific

Douglas Leroy Flood, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Flood of 60 East Turner road, has received the submarine insignia on the completion of his course at the submarine school in New London, Conn. Flood was formerly a student at the Salem senior high school where he made a letter on the boxing team.

SAN DIEGO, Calif.—"Dear Mom," writes Pvt. James E. Van Winkle, 31-year-old marine veteran of the Guadalcanal campaign, to his mother, Mrs. J. S. Van Winkle of Hubbard. While convalescing at a naval hospital here from malaria, he tells how he crawled out of a Japanese ambush to return with help for seven trapped marines. Pvt. Van Winkle, a runner for his unit, said he and the machine gun nest, remained prone in a patch of knee-deep grass for five hours without moving enough even to drink from their canteens. Finally the unit leader sent Pvt. Van Winkle for help. "I had to crawl cautiously," he said. "For the slightest noise or movement in the grass would bring a hand grenade or mortar shell on here." As a result, and when one of our fellows stood up to look, a shell fell close by. I finally reached headquarters, and two machine guns and nine men went into action to wipe out the Jap machine gun nest and route the snipers."

Lt. Robert C. Burrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burrell of 542 Kingwood drive, Salem, has been assigned to the Altus army air field as a flight instructor. Lt. Burrell attended Mt. Angel college in 1936-1938 and was employed as an automotive parts salesman prior to his aviation cadet appointment. He completed his pilot training at the Altus field in June and was reassigned here as an instructor after a month's training at Central Instructors school, Randolph Field, Texas. His wife, Mrs. Alice E. Burrell, is living at 885 D street in Salem.

According to word received by Mrs. John F. Loundagin of 453 Shipping street, Salem, her son, Cpl. Carl A. Coulson, is safe and well following the battle of Sicily in which he took part.

JEFFERSON—Sgt. Gilbert Marlin arrived here Wednesday by plane from the Hawaiian Islands. He is in the army air corps, and has been in the service over a year. Sgt. Marlin is having a 15-day furlough. He said that he talked with Harry Wall, Jefferson boy, the day before he left there. He is visiting at the homes of his sister, Mrs. Rex Cobb, and other relatives.

Cpl. Donald W. Webber and Mrs. Webber, the former Betty Apperle, are now living at Newport News, Va., where Cpl. Webber has been transferred from Fort Benning, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parrish have received word from their son, Jack that he has passed all tests with high grades and has been admitted to training as a pilot in the army air corps. He is training at Santa Ana, Calif., where he will be for six weeks. Jack had a perfect score in the identification of planes test.

Bill Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knight, is in the navy signal corps on active duty in the Atlantic.

Leonard Lawless, associated with the Standard Oil company for the past year, left on Wednesday for Miami Beach, Fla., to enter training in the army air corps. According to his mother, Mrs. J. M. Lawless, he will be about 18 months in Miami Beach.

Legion Urges Deporting All Of Jap Race

BAKER, Ore., Aug. 21—(P)—The Oregon American Legion Saturday advocated that all persons of Japanese ancestry be deported from this country after the war.

The resolution also proposed legislation permanently barring United States citizenship to Japanese.

Other resolution commended Lt. Gen. John DeWitt for removing Japanese and Japanese-Americans from the Pacific coast, and proposed that aliens who do not apply for citizenship within three years be deported from the United States.

The problem of demobilization will be greater than was the problem of mobilization, Col. E. V. Wooten, state selective service director, told the Oregon chapter of the American Legion here Saturday.

He said the reemployment division of the selective service board is already functioning to replace discharged service men in their old jobs or to procure new work for them.

Gen. Ralph Cowgill, commander of the Oregon State Guard, complimented the legionnaires on their cooperation in formation of the Guard.

Rep. Lowell Stockman of Pendleton, Oregon's second district congressman, urged legionnaires to present their ideas of winning the peace through a special committee.
