

Shotgun, Rifle Shells to Be Made Available

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The war production board (WPB) made additional rifle and shotgun ammunition available to farmers and ranchers today for use against "predatory animals and game birds now threatening crops and herds in certain parts of the country."

It advised sportsmen hunters that they will be allowed to purchase limited quantities of ammunition after quotas for farmers and ranchers are filled.

A WPB order released 82,250,000 shotgun shells, 12,000,000 rounds of center fire rifle ammunition and an undetermined quantity of .22 calibre cartridges.

Farmers and ranchers who apply to dealers before October 1 will be allowed 100 rounds of .22 calibre cartridges, 20 rounds of center fire rifle ammunition and 25 rounds of shotgun shells of any gauge.

This will be in addition to their regular quarterly quotas of 100 rounds of .22 calibre bullets, 40 rounds of center fire cartridges and 25 rounds of shotgun shells.

The farmers or rancher must certify that he intends to use the ammunition to kill pests.

Sportsmen hunters will be allowed 50 rounds of .22 cartridges, 20 rounds of center fire ammunition and 25 rounds of shotgun shells, but they can get it only after farmers and ranchers have been supplied.

Sportsmen can obtain their ammunition from dealers between October 1 and November 15.

WPB did not disclose the prospective distribution by geographical areas. It will be distributed through regular channels—hardware and sporting goods stores.

Naval Aviation For Wakefield

DETROIT, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Dick Wakefield passed his physical examination Tuesday and Wednesday morning he will be sworn in as a naval aviation cadet to await a call that may not come before November.

The new development in the draft case of the hard-hitting rookie outfielder made it appear quite likely that he would finish out the season with the Detroit Tigers. Previously he had been slated for army induction Thursday and probably would have been available for only three weeks of baseball thereafter.

Steenko Stomps Out Mat Win

the joint, but when Referee Almo Kallio tried to raise Olson's hand in victory Milt would have none of it. So Steenko stomped, choked and punched the people's choice and finally pinned him for the third and deciding fall.

But what went on in the ring was nothing compared with what transpired after Olson came to and went after the dirty Russian. It took cops, spectators and fellow crumblers to get the pair apart after each did a pretty fair job of remodeling the east side of the armory building.

Kartinko came close to having his match with Ross right in the middle of hostilities with Olson last night at that. After Steenko had taken the first fall with his dirty stuff he started for the dressing room. Ross, a spectator, hopped up and verbally undressed Mr. Steenko. Then, before you could bat an eye, Steenko and Ross were going at it in the aisle, so the law and Mr. and Mrs. Fan got their first of numerous workouts for the evening.

Ross has stated all along that he doesn't like Mr. K a lot, so Mr. K may wish he lost his bus ticket to Salem come next Tuesday night.

Bulldog Jackson got an arm or leg or something mixed up with the launching of a ship yesterday, so couldn't keep his date with Gorgeous George Wagner.

Wagner kept things alive by having one of his better nights against Mel Peters, but the thing wound up in a draw as far as most fans were concerned.

Allied Terms For Open City Given, Claim

By LEWIS HAWKINS
LONDON, August 24.—(AP)—A Swiss dispatch said Tuesday that Britain and the United States had notified Pope Pius XII they would accept Rome as an open city under certain conditions, principally a Vatican guarantee and a Swiss commission supervising demilitarization.

The dispatch, written by the Rome correspondent of the Basler Nachrichten, could not be confirmed. It was indicated that any announcement must come from the allied leaders in Quebec.

A broadcast by the Rome radio earlier in the day announced that Italy had formally advised the British and American governments that Rome had been cleared of military installations and sought treatment as an open city. However, conditions were reported to insure that the city remained out of the war.

Italian government authorities were quoted as saying they knew nothing of the replies.

Allied planes were again reported over Rome, dropping leaflets and flares for photography, but not attacking. The only alarm sounded was a caution warning.

The broadcast declaration that Rome now was an open city quoted Stefani news agency summary of the note which it said was submitted to London and Washington through the Vatican and Swiss government.

Defensive installations have already been taken out of action and will be moved, the note said. Anti-aircraft batteries were ordered not to fire on aircraft over the city and axis fighter planes were ordered to stay away from Rome.

The statement said Italian and German troops were leaving the city and only a garrison sufficient to maintain order would be left. The note said the rail system was barred to troop transport and munitions factories were to be moved from the city.
