Silverton Cannery Adds Equipment

SILVERTON-With canning at the local community cannery averaging 5000 cans a week for the Vivian Buness and has been on past week, Leonard Hudson, who the east coast recently with her is in charge of the plant, reports that he believes Silverton people, at 10 o'clock, followed by a harat least, will be able to eat this winter. Canning will continue until about November 15, Mr. Hudson believed this week. Canning of corn has been falling off the past few days while canning of tomatoes continues strong. Next week, carrots and beets, as well as meats, salmon and poultry will be canned. However, appointments must be made for the meat canning before it has been killed or it must be stored in the lockers until canning can be done. During the past week two new hot plates, another steam kettle
