Plane Wanted—Organizations of Marion county have carried more than their share of the task of furnishing day rooms at Camp Adair and have done the work gladly, but at least one recreation room at the camp where men are accustomed to gather for such informal activities as singing is without a piano. H. R. Anthony, Chemeketa street USO program director, said Saturday. If an upright piano were given for use in that room it would remain there and would be property of the post to be used by many men training there in months to come, Anthony declared, adding that he would be glad to hear of such a piano and would arrange transportation for it to the camp. Any would-be donor should get in touch with Anthony at the USO, 893 Chemeketa street.
