Don't Look Now...

but... we are a little short today. Rationed vocabulary... we may not be able to "burn the midnight oil," "step on the gas," "feel like a flat tire" or "bring home the bacon," all because of the OPA but we can still put a little starch in our backbones and keep the home fires burning.

Story of the week... comes from San Francisco, where Roy Keene found a house for his family. After asking everywhere possible for tips on a house to rent, he finally found one. He was jostled by an apologetic man on an elevator, and when his pardon was asked he replied, "Not until you find a house for me to rent." The other gentleman replied with information about someone he knew who had a house to rent. Lt. Commander got the house, the apology was accepted.

Fairy tale... Incredible as it seems, we saw two women carrying five ice cream cones down the street, and a few seconds later saw a boy with six balanced in his hands. The great American public still enjoys its ice cream cones... Maxine Buren.

Miss Gates Now Mrs. Bowman WOODBURN — At the family home on Gatch street, Miss Loraine Gates, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gates, became the bride of Sgt. Wilbert L. Bowman, of Morgantown, West Virginia, Monday night.

Rev. D. Lester Fields of the Methodist Episcopal church, officiated at the candlelight service. Preceding the wedding vows, Mrs. John Gates, sister-in-law of the bride sang "Because," accompanied by Miss Donna Dean.
