

Penningtons Go to Dallas

Former Oklahoma Folk Move to New Home in Polk County

PIONEER—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Theiss and children Evelyn, George, Joan and Douglas, visited Mrs. Theiss parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Balough of Portland Saturday.

Mrs. Ray Slaters is reported ill and under the doctor's care. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pennington and son, and Mr. Pennington's father who have been staying at the Robert Kent home since coming to Oregon, have moved to their new home south of Dallas. The Penningtons came from Oklahoma and are cousins of the Kents.

Two new children started to school Monday. They are Jessie Ray Yeley, fifth grade, and Johnnie Ray Yeley, first grade. The Yeleys have built a new house on the place purchased from Mr. Jackson.

All the school children cooperated very nicely in the junior Red Cross drive and now have $2.46. The teacher, Mrs. Calavan, got Red Cross tags for each child.

Mr. and Mrs. Ty Cronk and daughter of Dallas visited at the Harry Wells home recently.

Andrew Theiss was home over the weekend from Forest Grove where he is employed.

Farm Accounting Books Available

DALLAS — Farmers are beginning to show considerable interest in improving their farm bookkeeping because of the reports they must make on December 15 in connection with the federal income tax.

"Farm Bookkeeping and the Federal Income Tax," a pamphlet issued by the USDA, is available on request at the county agent's office. It is a simple explanation of the steps necessary for a farmer to take in arranging his records and using them in determining his income tax payment.

Two types of farm accounting books are also available through his office, states W. C. Leth, county agent, that can be used by farmers to advantage and which will not only make it easier to prepare the income tax reports but will also make better business records for the farm. One of these is developed on the cash basis and the other on the accrual basis. Assistance in using either type can be secured from the county agent.

Oregon Granger Home, London

GRAND ISLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Morton Tompkins returned Monday. Mr. Tompkins, master of the Oregon state grange, left home September 7 with seven other distinguished American civilians chosen by the office of war information who have returned from a good-will information tour of England.

Mrs. Tompkins left home October 25 to join her husband upon his return to New York City and together they have since attended a part of the national grange conference held at Grand Rapids, Mich. They both enjoyed very happy experiences and he was in England when bombed by the enemy and is alive to tell the story of the bombing horrors of war. They are both very tired and are undecided about their Thanksgiving plans.

Poultry Feeding Problems Studied

DALLAS — Poultry keepers have been experiencing difficulty in securing adequate and proper feed concentrates for maximum production and in some cases insufficient to maintain proper health among the flocks, W. C. Leth, Polk county agent, states.

In order to assist poultrymen with such problems, arrangements have been made to visit as many poultry farms in the county as possible in the next month. Polk county poultry producers who wish such assistance should call the county agent's office in Dallas in the near future so that a schedule of visits can be prepared that will require a minimum of time and travel over the county.

Leth is planning to have the assistance of Noel Bennion, extension poultryman from Oregon State college in this work in this county.

Culling, poultry management, and feeding problems are of even greater importance this year than usual, Leth believes, due to the fact that at this season eggs are a high price and increased production is desired. On the other hand, feed and labor costs are exceedingly high, requiring high production to produce profits. Boarder chickens or those that are unhealthy should be eliminated from flocks under such conditions.

Mt. Angel Post Goes Over Top

Legionnaires Plan Christmas Party For December 14

MT. ANGEL — Reports read at the meeting of Mt. Angel post of the American Legion at Memorial hall Tuesday night showed that, despite the gas shortage handicap, the indoor shoot held by the Legionnaires on November 14 had given the best financial returns of any shoot held to date.

There was a report likewise on the last three dances given by the Legion. This included the dance on Armistice day, which was a very big success. The post was announced over the top in membership with signed up members totaling 73 against a quota of 70.

The Legionnaires have taken over the job of policing the dance to be given by the auxiliary on Thanksgiving night.

A joint program and Christmas party is being arranged for families of post and unit members for the next meeting night, December 14.

A supper committee consisting of Mrs. Charles Hafner, chairman, Mrs. R. Drysdale, Mrs. Joe Erwert, Mrs. Peter Gores and Mrs. Frank Borkenhagen was appointed to look after refreshments for the party. Each auxiliary members will also be asked to bring a dozen cookies as a contribution towards the meal. Goodies for the children will be somewhat limited due to the rationing, but something will be provided so that each Legion child will receive a bag from the hands of Santa. The Christmas tree will be there as in former years.

The children will again provide the program, both by individual participation and by group carol singing.

December 2 was set aside as Memorial hall cleaning day and all auxiliary members are asked to be at the hall on that afternoon to help with the work.

Mrs. Fred Prosser was appointed junior auxiliary chairman and will have the girls meet at her house.

The following motions were carried: That the auxiliary purchase a flag to be donated to the Memorial school; that two slips and four pairs of socks be donated to the Portland child welfare center; and that, if there be no need of local Christmas charity, $5 be donated to Father Hildebrand for his work in corresponding with the Mt. Angel service men.

All members are asked to invite their friends to the Thanksgiving dance which the auxiliary is arranging for the night of November 25. The dance is to be held at the Mt. Angel auditorium.

Silverton Luncheon To Be Postponed

SILVERTON—Directors of Silverton's chamber of commerce, who had planned a chamber of commerce meeting this week, report that it has been postponed.
